

P. A. MARQUAM DIES ON WEDDING DATE

Pioneer Jurist of Portland Passes on 59th Anniversary of Marriage.

END COMES AT 12:17 A. M.

Surviving Members of Immediate Family at Bedside: Veteran Battles With Death Through Long Period of Unconsciousness.

On the 59th anniversary of his wedding, Judge Philip A. Marquam, aged 83, pioneer of the West and one of the original founders of Portland, succumbed to the slow ravages of cerebral hemorrhage yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, 645 Patton road. The end came without the least resistance, as the veteran builder, philanthropist and jurist failed to regain consciousness since the apoplectic stroke Saturday morning. The tenacity with which he clung to life, despite his low vitality, was characteristic of the strength of the jurist throughout his life.

The immediate surviving members of the family were at the bedside when the end came. For several days his pulse had been too low to be detected. Those at the bedside were: T. A. Marquam, a son of Fairbanks, Alaska; Mrs. A. T. Veltin, a daughter of Seattle; Mrs. C. C. Newcomb, Mrs. Penumbra Kelly, Mrs. C. C. Prince, Mrs. Jessie McLaughlin, Mrs. Charles Hill, all daughters; Gus and Will Marquam, sons, and Dr. Charles E. Hill, son-in-law and attending physician.

End Comes on Anniversary. While the end has been expected hourly for several days, it was a peculiar incident that the aged jurist lived to the 59th anniversary of his wedding by just a few minutes. He was married May 8, 1853.

Philip A. Marquam was born in Maryland in February, 1823. He was of a family that had resided in that state from before the Revolutionary War. His maternal grandfather, Henry Poole, was one of the most extensive planters and prominent citizens of his day.

No funeral arrangements have been made. The body is in charge of the Edward Holman Undertaking Company. The father of Judge Marquam removed to Indiana in his son's boyhood, and the family lived on a farm in that state when it was a frontier.

The limited resources of the family made it necessary for the boy to assist with the farm work. His desire for knowledge, however, was so great that often while following the plow he would read such books as he could secure. In this way he acquired an education. He studied law with Representative in Congress from Indiana. Afterwards he entered the Bloomington law school, graduating in 1847. Judge Marquam practiced law for a short time in Indiana.

California First Goal. Judge Marquam crossed the plains to California in 1849 and began the search for gold in the Sacramento district. Later he was charged with the Yuba County, which position he held until his departure for Oregon in 1850.

Upon his arrival in Portland Judge Marquam opened a law office. He was elected judge of Multnomah County in 1862. After his retirement from office he devoted his time to the real estate business.

The 41 years that Mr. Marquam passed as a resident of Portland are interwoven with the history of the city itself. The story of his early struggles in the history of the upbuilding of Portland and the sincerity and kindness of the man, his ruggedness and determination stand out at every period of his career.

Mr. Marquam came to Portland August 13, 1851, and May 8, 1853, married Miss Emma Kern. Four sons and seven daughters were born to them. Those who survive are Mrs. Penumbra Kelly, Gus Marquam, William Marquam, Mrs. C. C. Prince, Mrs. Jessie McLaughlin, Mrs. Charles E. Hill, Mrs. C. C. Newcomb, Mrs. A. K. Veltin and T. A. Marquam, of Fairbanks, Alaska.

Immediately after marriage he took up residence in a new home. The house had built for himself in the block on which the Marquam and other buildings now stand. The house was on the corner where now stands the Magley-Thiburn building, and only three years ago was torn down to make way for a more modern structure. Mr. Marquam bought the block in early days for $600.

Peculiar Architecture in Home. Because of its peculiar architecture, the residence was known as "The Little New England Cottage." Here Mr. Marquam dispensed his generosity to those in need. He is particularly known for his kindness to immigrants.

The Marquam Theater was one of his early achievements and at the time it was built, he was a prominent playhouse on the Pacific Coast. The Marquam building of eight stories, modern and fireproof, was another monument to the pioneer. The building with the theater cost him $800,000.

The theater was completed in 1896, two years before the completion of the building proper. The only other theater in the city then was known as the Tivoli Theater, which is the Empress Theater today. When the Marquam building was being built, brickmakers in Portland raised the price of brick. Mr. Marquam's fighting spirit was aroused at this and he established his own brickyard.

Mr. Marquam was active in securing the construction of the Morrison-street bridge, and also in securing a reduction in the fares on the Stark-street ferry from 25 cents to 10 cents, while he was County Judge.

The building of the Morrison-street bridge resulted in a protracted legal fight that was carried into the United States Supreme Court, and lasted more than 10 years. Mr. Marquam and his associates were victorious but the funds of the promoting company had been depleted. Mr. Marquam, unwilling to abandon the bridge, had made a successful fight for it, induced the Pacific Bridge Company to build it.

Fight For Railroad Led. In 1883, when a railroad from the East was building westward, Mr. Marquam led the fight to induce it to make its terminus at Portland. He was successful and the road, now the O. W. R. & N., gave Portland its first rail connection with the country at large.

With Governor Grover and Colonel W. Chapman, a wealthy land owner, he went East and negotiated with the railroad people. He gave 140 acres along the Base Line road, nine miles east of Portland, to the company and assisted in raising a bonus.

In 1884 he aided in persuading Henry Villard to build the Portland Hotel and took stock in the company. He bought the old Central School building, which stood on the present Portland Hotel site, and moved it to where the Seiling building now stands. He equipped it and gave it to the school district for school purposes. Two years ago the school building was demolished.

During his incumbency as County Judge, which extended through two four-year terms, Mr. Marquam built the old Courthouse, which was torn down last Fall, and he also bought the property where the old county poor farm was established, along the Canyon road.

As Park Enthusiast Well Known. Mr. Marquam owned the first race course in Portland, known as the East Portland Race Course. The track was situated in what now is known as Rosemead.

In early days Mr. Marquam owned Fulton and Fulton Park, comprising 100 acres, 60 acres where Riverview Cemetery is situated, and Marquam Hill, comprising 38 acres. He lost the Marquam Hill property, which has been renamed Healy Heights and Virginia Heights. He sold his Fulton property for $250,000, and his Riverview property for $150,000. He also owned small tracts in different parts of Portland. He resided for many years on Marquam Hill, but when his wife died 10 years ago he moved to the home of Mrs. C. C. Prince.

WEST COAST IS TRANQUIL. PLIGHT OF AMERICANS SAID TO BE EXAGGERATED. Transport Buford Commander Says Best of Feeling Is Shown by Mexicans.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The plight of Americans on the west coast of Mexico appears to have been exaggerated, according to the report received yesterday at the War Department from Quartermaster Ely, in command of the transport Buford, which was sent to that coast to pick up distressed foreigners.

CONTROL RESTS ON KING COUNTY VOTE

Roosevelt Forces Confident of Control of Washington Convention.

TAFT MEN HAVE PROTEST

If Colonel's Delegations From Pierce and Snohomish Counties Are Seated, Roosevelt Will Have Total of 630 Votes.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8.—Assuming that the county conventions in Pierce and Snohomish counties, which were carried by Roosevelt in the precinct primaries, send solid delegations to the Republican state convention at Aberdeen May 16, the Roosevelt forces will be in absolute control. Counting Pierce and Snohomish counties in the Roosevelt column the division of 630 delegates from 37 of the 39 counties in the state is:

Roosevelt 250, Taft 122, La Follette 7, unaffiliated 76, contested 175. Two counties, having 58 delegates have not reported.

Roosevelt has a clear majority in the Third Congressional District and if the 121 Roosevelt delegates from King County, in the contested list, are seated, he will have the First District also.

The race in the Second District, which includes Pierce County, is close, the division being: Taft 66, Roosevelt 61, unaffiliated 27, contested 8. One county having 19 delegates has not reported.

If the Roosevelt men have absolute control of the state convention and the delegates from the counties mentioned maintain their lead in the Second District, it is possible for the Roosevelt forces to prevent the President getting the two delegates from the Second District by having the convention order all delegates elected at large instead of permitting the Congressional districts to select two each, as arranged by the State Central Committee.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8.—(Special.)—Recent action of the City Council has done much to establish the city government upon the firm basis occupied before the question of the annexation of West Seaside came up.

Since the Supreme Court decision held the annexation of St. Johns by Portland to be illegal, it was feared the absorption of West Seaside by Seaside would be a parallel case and similarly declared illegal.

However, the Seaside case has been considered a different one by City Attorney Norblad, who affirms that in this case both cities voted favorably upon the subject of consolidation, which was not so in the other case.

Seaside residents are anxious for the clearing up of legal difficulties, so the Water Commissioners will be empowered to make the necessary extensions to the municipal water system. For the proper water necessary to supply both cities during the coming summer, some expense must be undergone, which necessitates the confirmation of the present charter by either the Supreme Court or by the referendum in the November election.

The report of investigation by W. D. Fenton, of Portland, recently was discussed by the Council. It is Mr. Fenton's opinion that it is expedient that the Supreme Court will legalize the consolidation.

There was danger that the work of city improvement and additional water system would be held up, but by a plan of City Attorney Norblad this has been avoided.

By paying interest on outstanding debts, instead of paying them off immediately, enough money can be retained in the city treasury to meet current expenses and make work improvement. The old debts may then be paid at any time, since they are not questioned as to legality.

The task of placing the question in the referendum requires a considerable expense in getting out petitions. Since few people in the state are concerned, it has been thought best to put the matter before the Supreme Court, although the court is far behind in its calendar.

City Attorney Norblad is of the opinion that this will be the most expedient method. He believes judgment can be rendered more quickly than through the referendum.

Though the consolidation question was a threatening one for a further difficulty, there will be no further difficulty.

SPROULE CALLED EAST. SOUTHERN PACIFIC PRESIDENT HAS WIDER AUTHORITY.

Associated Oil Company Selects Him to Succeed Herrin—Lovett Asks Conference.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—(Special.)—William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific Company, has been elected to the presidency of the Associated Oil Company, vice William F. Herrin, resigned.

This change indicates that Sproule as responsible head of all Southern Pacific interests on this coast will take the presidency of the various companies included in these interests.

Herrin, it is understood, will remain on the board of directors and will continue on the board's executive committee. William S. Porter still retains his position as vice-president and general manager.

Sproule is on his way East today in response to an unexpected call last night from Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Harriman system.

It is believed that he will not return until the recommendations in the annual budget, this year amounting to $30,000,000, have been carefully gone over with Lovett and other Harriman officials. Sproule is taking with him a number of special recommendations.

PLUMMER GETS "PRESENT". Building Commissioner Asks Why Hotel Man Sent $25.

Admitting he mailed $25 to Building Inspector Plummer as a "present" because the board of appeals had granted a concession on a hotel building at Eleventh and Alder streets, E. R. Hagedorn last night said he had no idea the money would not be acceptable.

"When I applied to Mr. Plummer for a permit to change some of the plans in my building," said Hagedorn, "he said he could not grant such permission, but stated that the chances were more favorable than not for the concession being granted. He said to lay the case before the board of appeals. I did so and got all I asked for. After the controversy was over I mailed the $25 to Plummer in appreciation of his efforts."

When Plummer received the money he showed it to Mayor Rushlight, who ordered him to ask Hagedorn for an explanation.

CURES S.S.S. BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out, and usually spots and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S.S.S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful to be trifled with. If allowed to run on the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S.S.S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S.S.S. goes into the blood and removes the infectious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S.S.S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

A WOMAN'S WISDOM. The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, The Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. MARGARET ZUBERT, of 323 S. Benington Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the stock came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before it was over. The baby is as fat as a butterball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."
