Shiping Unlabeled Goods Into Dry Territory Arouses West.

be invited to a conference with Gov-ernor West Saturday, and if they don't stop shipping unlabelled beer into dry territory, the brewerles will be seized. This was the statement the Governor made last night, in a speech at Taylorstreet Methodist Church. The meeting was under the auspices of the Men's Club of the church.

The Governor said: "We will quarter some militia around some of these brewerles that are violating the law It makes no difference whether it is the big brewery or some little booze joint If they violate the law I will take charge of them. A brewery would make a fine storage place for some of the beer the inspector could grat around this town. We will hold a pub-He auction one of these days, and turn the money into the school fund, or us it to buy furniture for some charitable institution that is not sufficiently pro vided for while taking care of the vic tims of some of the road houses."

Road Houses Are Scored.

Milwaukle Tavern and Lakeview roadhouses came in for stinging blows from the Governor. He said Milwaukle Tavern is now a worse place than when gambling was carried on there. He said he paid a visit to the roadhouse in said he paid a visit to the roadnouse in company with Mrs. Lola G. Baidwin, and would give her a free hand. "At the Milwaukie Club," said the Governor, "they have built a high board fence about the place. They look out to see whether you are all visit. If you are young and unso look out to see whether you are all right. If you are young and unsophisticated, they rake you in. I told them the first thing was to pull the fence down. They said the proprietor will not permit it. I told them if it wasn't down by Monday, some of the militia would be out to take it down." The Governor was applauded as he made this statement.

Knowledge Is Sufficient.

"We have been working at this thing from the top," continued the Governor. "I know all about these things. There isn't a game they play that I don't know about. I wasn't raised altogether in a Sunday school class. When I go into a place and find the stuff, that if into a place and find the stuff, that if sold would be sold in violation of the law, that is enough for me."

He said scores of boys have been sent to the penitentiary for petty crimes, many forgery, and that the saloonkeepers are to blame. He said he didn't put in 14 years' at banking for nothing. "I know to what extent checks come in from saloonkeepers," he said. "I would favor a law prohibiting saloonkeepers from cashing checks. Wo shall have one if I have to wait until I am gray-headed to get it. You will then see more savings bank accounts and more bread and butter on the table.

"Lakeview Tavern!" said the Gov-ernor. "That's a peach! Stockyards next to it! On the square, if I had a girl and wanted to take her out for a good time, I would take her over to the stockyards instead of out to this ioint.

"When I was on the Railroad Com mission I spent a good deal of time making the railroad clean up the stockards," he said, with a suggestive nod. As to the shipment of liquor into dry territory, Governor West said every bottle should be labeled, and the pack-age ought to be labeled as to con-signee, consignor and contents before signee, consignor and contents before being placed in the express office. He said, however, he does not favor abso-lute prohibition, but education. He explained his parole system in de-tall. He said the labor unions are in hearty accord with his plan of work-

"All classes are supposed to be treat-ed alike. Morris expected a parole, I could not release him without working a hardship on the institution and every man in it, because it would have been used as a club to hurt this system. I don't sympathize with him, but I do want to play fair." In conclusion the Governor said, "You n't take a man to the state slaughterthe inclosure and carry out prison reform." Cries of "hear, hear" were heard. He said murderers should be punished to the fullest extent of heaw. life imprisonment, with no opportunity of pardon except in case further evidence developed to prove him innecent.

SUNSET GLOW STIRS MANY

Alaska Volcano, Is Belief.

Of unusual beautys was the sunse glow which illuminated the heavens last night. As late as 9:30 o'clock the sky for a considerable distance above the horizon was suffused with deep crimson light, while nearer the contour of the hills was a purple tinge, shading off into lavender.

CONFISCATION IS THREAT

The phenomenon caused many people to conclude that a forest fire was burning on the other side of Council Crest. A. Duchamp, proprietor of Council Crest amusement park, believes that the condition is due to volcanic dust thrown into the air from the Alaska volcances, recently in eruption. Mr. Duchamp said last night that the atmospheric conditions prevailing now are most unusual. For two weeks there has been a constant haze which obscures the mountains. Even after the heavy rain of last week the atmosphere did not clear sufficiently to permit a view of the snow peaks. This is further evidence, says Mr. Duchamp, that the volcanic disturbances in Alaska are responsible for the local phenomenon.

State Immigration Body Gather Data Showing Retards Agricultural Development Here

SALEM, Or., June 24 .- (Special.)-The Oregon State Immigration Commision, of which A. F. Hofer is vice-president, in co-operation with the Oregon Agricultural College, is making a preliminary agricultural survey of a number of leading farms in every county in the state. The object of this survey is primarily to determine the opportunities in each locality for new settlers and, if possible, to find some of the difficulties that retard agricultural development.

A number of farms hereabouts will be visited during the Summer, and such questions as the following will be asked: The value of land, machinery, stock on hand June 1; the acreage and yield of each crop in 1911; the amount of these crops sold and the receipts; the amount of other farm products, such as milk, butter, eggs, fruit, sold during the year and the receipts; the expenses for labor, seed, feed, fertilizer, machinery, threshing, etc.; the methods of cultivation used and observation of the results.

"As answers will be used for the benefit of our community and of the entire state, accuracy of statement is of the utmost importance," says Mr. Hofer. "All of the information received will be compiled in making up a final report on the general conditions in each community. asked: The value of land, machinery,

Since undertaking this work on be-

who wish it."

Since undertaking this work on behalf of the State Board of Immigration, Mr. Hofer says the Salem Board of Trade has induced the general government through the Department of Agriculture to make a farm survey of the Salem area. This latter, however, will not be undertaken until September, in order to base the returns upon the crops of 1912.

The details and summary of this survey will be published later in a book-

The details and summary of this survey will be published later in a booklet by Uncle Sam, and will be distributed with other agricultural bulletins. This will place Salem prominently in the class of agricultural centers being recognized by the general government, and will be a vast source of advertising for Oregon's capital city without cost.

"In addition to the above matters, the Salem Board of Trade has also ar-ranged with the Department of Agri-culture to locate in our midst a farm tive permanently located in Salem,
