The shipping of green grapes which had commenced in some sections has been nipped in the bud by growers and shippers of the San Joaquin Valley, who have taken a firm stand for standardization. A number of shipping firms, which together control about 75 packing-houses, have pledged their support to the movement and have agreed that no Maingas testing less than 15 per cent sugar will be accepted for shipment. Inspectors have been stationed in fruit dis-fricts of the San Josquin Valley and it has been detided to apply the sugar test not only to Malagas but to all other grapes as well, the rules to be in effect for two weeks,
