

GOVERNOR ABSENT, ASSOCIATES BUSY

Unfinished Business at Executive Offices Keeps State's Servants on the Jump.

BUDGETS PRINCIPAL ITEM

Treasurer Kay and Secretary Olicott Bear Brunt of Work—Departmental Statements to Show Work Done Uncalled For.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—With a vice crusade in Portland as the greater attraction, the absence of Governor West from the State Capitol threatens seriously to interfere with the progress of the Executive Office.

Last week members of the State Board started on their campaign to secure the approval of the Legislature of the various institutions to apply the pruning hook to the recommendations as they would be made by the various superintendents.

The Governor has been active in urging that these budgets should go before the Legislature as a matter of course and that the Legislature should have ample opportunity to assimilate the details of the appropriations to be in good trim for the work of the session.

Work Devolves on Others. He announced that these budgets would be issued from his office to be given publicity, but now he is in Portland for an indefinite period.

As a result, the Governor seems to have cast his mantle on the shoulders of State Treasurer Kay and Secretary Olicott. It appears to be up to these two officials to bear the brunt of the detail work.

If the programme is carried out at all according to schedule, the budgets given out three months before the session begins as planned, and the Governor finds that his crusade will keep him in Portland any length of time, apparently the Governor's part of the programme will be eliminated and the work devolve entirely upon the other members of the State Board.

The preparation of these budgets is considered one of the most tedious tasks of the biennial period. Not only is it considered a particularly trying one, but it is also considered of utmost importance.

Department Statements Uncalled. In deserting the State Capital for Portland the Governor has also left behind him another of his proposed plans. That was a scheme announced many months ago to call upon the various heads of departments to issue statements in which they were to justify their existence. According to the executive plan it would be proper for each of the officials to show the people of the state at large just what they were doing, why they were doing it and to show how the money was being expended for their various departments, and on top of that to show that the money had been expended advantageously.

Members of the board who are left in Salem have made a start on the work of securing the budgets. It was planned to make another onslaught on the figures this afternoon, but a drenching rain kept them indoors and tomorrow they will probably take up the work again without the assistance of the Chief Executive.

CULPRIT GETS FINE PAID

Sweet Home Man Escapes From Officer and Mother Settles.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—By running away from an officer to escape spending a few days in the Linn County Jail in default of the payment of a $50 fine, a young man named Manweiler, of Sweet Home, secured permanent liberty for himself, but his mother learned of his plight and paid his fine.

Manweiler was convicted at Sweet Home yesterday afternoon of driving a motor car in a public place and was fined $50. He had no money and Constable Slavens left Sweet Home with him early this morning to bring him to the County Jail here. When they reached Lebanon, they went into a restaurant to get breakfast and Manweiler walked behind a screen to a washbasin and then fled.

The young man's parents reside in Lebanon and when Constable Slavens and Deputy Sheriff Green went to their home to look for the escaped prisoner, the young man's mother learned of the situation and offered to pay his fine. Constable Slavens telephoned to Sheriff Smith to ascertain if such a procedure would be legal and was informed that inasmuch as the prisoner had not been sentenced to serve a jail term, but had been committed merely in default of the payment of the fine, it would be proper to accept the money and abandon the search.

PATHFINDER AT SEASIDE

G. L. Beck Reports Good Road From Portland With One Poor Place.

SEASIDE, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—G. L. Beck, of the American Automobile Association, arrived here Tuesday in his Pathfinder for the second time on his trip down from Portland with little difficulty. The roads, so he reported, are in fine shape for motoring and the trip is one that the average motorist would take a great deal of pleasure in. At this time of the year conditions are at their best for touring according to Mr. Beck's idea.

COOS BAY SEES NEW LINE

Appearance of Pacific Great Western Promoters Starts Rumors.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—The visit of a party of men, supposed to be here in connection with a railroad movement, has created much interest. Those in the party are W. J. Wilsey, J. H. Turner and J. P. Eddy. The latter has been here for a few days and met Messrs. Wilsey and Turner, who came up the coast in an automo-

ble. They refuse to be interviewed but it is understood that they made the trip by auto all the way from San Francisco.

On account of the connection of two of the men with the promotion of the Pacific Great Western, the road which was projected from Eugene to Coos Bay and which was sold to the Southern Pacific, it is believed that they are here on railroad business.

Mr. Eddy was here before a right-of-way man for the Pacific Great Western and Mr. Wilsey had much to do with the road. In fact he is credited with being one of the main promoters and on his last visit here was entertained as the man who started the railroad movement toward Coos Bay.

There is some mystery as to the identity of J. H. Turner. He registers as from Scotland and it is said that he is a prominent and wealthy man of Great Britain who has railroad interests in this country. He refuses to be interviewed by anyone and what business is transacted here is believed to be for Mr. Wilsey. The latter says that post-

DAVID K. BILL.

OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—The funeral of David K. Bill, post commander of Meade Post, Grand Army of the Republic, was held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Gladstone Christian Church, Rev. A. H. Mulkey officiating. The services will be in charge of Meade Post, of which Mr. Bill was commander last year. The interment was in Mount View Cemetery.

Mr. Bill had been in feeble health for more than a year, his illness having been superinduced by a sunstroke received during the Civil War. He was a member of Company B, Third Minnesota Infantry, and served through the Civil War. The pallbearers, his friends, were Messrs. Charles H. Dauchey, J. A. Tufts, H. S. Clyde, L. P. Horton and J. Doremus.

ably his visit here may result in another railroad move of some kind which will be beneficial to Coos Bay. A man ago, he was generally reported here that Sir Arthur Perks, head of the McArthur Brothers & Perks Company, holding the contract on the Eugene line, together with the Duke of Portland, who has large investments in this country, would soon make Oregon a visit. There is some speculation as to whether Mr. Turner may not be one of these two persons.

BAKER FACES PROBLEM

CITY COMMISSIONERS RECEIVE REPORT ON NEW PIPELINE.

Additional Expenditure of $100,000 Necessary Before Lighting Plant Can Be Built.

BAKER, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—The report for the new municipality on this city was made to the City Commissioners today by retiring City Engineer J. W. Bailey and his assistant, W. W. Water. The line which was completed has cost the city approximately $100,000 and is eight and one-quarter miles long. The report was not officially accepted, but will be undoubtably at the next meeting.

The line as completed comprises only a little over one-half of the present city water system leading to the water tower which is now under construction. It should be noted that the additional expenditure of over $100,000, it will also be necessary to build an additional extension of pipe over several miles for city water rights farther on, which will cost nearly as much to make the line meet the future needs of the city. Both this extension and improvement must be built, he thinks, before a city lighting plant can be installed on account of the liability of the old line to stand the necessary pressure and the lack of water.

The question of a municipal lighting plant is particularly pertinent to this city now, owing to considerable agitation over the awarding of the city lighting contract. The bonds have been voted for such a plant, never sold. This condition makes the selling of these bonds practically useless at this time—at least, it means for the furthering of the pipeline are provided.

WHALES SCARCE AND WILD

Catch of Mammals in North Pacific Smallest in Years.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 28.—Whales are becoming so scarce and wild on the North Pacific that the plant of the American-Pacific Whaling Company at Bay City, Wash., will be compelled to close in a few weeks. In the opinion of members of the crew of the whaling steamer Peterson, which arrived in Seattle from Grays Harbor yesterday, the vessel came to Seattle to have a new propeller wheel and new stern tube installed, and to receive a general overhauling.

Last year the whaling steamers Moran and Peterson alone bagged 157 whales, and so far this year, although the fleet has been increased by the building of the whalers Westport and Aberdeen, the American-Pacific Whaling Company has captured only 212 of the mammals.

OREGON CATTLE BRING FANCY PRICE.

AURORA, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—Thomas Carsten, president of the Carsten Packing Company of Seattle, has just shipped 120 head of fine beef cattle from Broadacres to their establishment. The cattle were purchased from the Smith Brothers, at Champoug, for $12,000. These are said to be the finest lot of cattle ever shipped out of Oregon. They were all three-year-olds and averaged $100 per head.

PAUL CLAGSTONE GIVES UP FIGHT

Announced Contest Over Nomination for Governorship of Idaho Is Called Off.

THIRD TICKET IN THE FIELD

Progressive Name H. Harland, Master of State Grange, for Chief Executive—Other Nominees Are Not Widely Known.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 28.—Paul Clagstone, of Clagstone, who was defeated for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at the recent state primary, by John M. Haines, of Boise, by the narrow margin of 15 votes, has abandoned his proposed contest for an official recount on the grounds that votes favorable to him and in his favor were not counted. The withdrawal of Clagstone from the contest gives Mr. Haines the nomination and he will go before the electors of this state in November as the opponent of Governor James H. Hawley, Democrat.

The gubernatorial race will be three-cornered, however. The Roosevelt Progressive party has announced it will nominate by petition H. Harland, of Payette, master of the State Grange. The withdrawal of Clagstone from the proposed contest was announced today through a statement made by Robert M. McCracken, his attorney and special representative authorized to investigate the alleged irregularities.

Small Majority Started Action. When the state canvassing board canvassed the vote and announced the nomination of Haines by a majority of 15 votes, the state Grange considered sufficient grounds for an investigation. When Haines was notified that Clagstone would probably contest his nomination, his friends made an investigation and also discovered irregularities beneficial to Clagstone so that in the event of a recount Haines would be given no votes.

In the meantime Robert McCracken made an investigation and decided that a contest and a petition for a recount of the entire vote cast in the state would be not only expensive but also the-doubt in issue for many months and rather than go to this expense and cause so much delay decided to drop the matter. His friends made an investigation covering a period of nearly one week. I am convinced that a recount of the entire vote cast for the public nominees for Governor would make a change in the total vote cast for Mr. Clagstone. The official returns have been made by the judges of election in the state, and the state has sealed the ballots are securely locked and sealed in the ballot boxes in those precincts, and the only way they can be recounted is by an order from the court having the proper jurisdiction.

Fraud Must Be Shown. "The courts have uniformly held that they will not go back of the official returns as made by the election judges unless it can be shown that fraud or corruption was practiced by the election judges, or that errors occurred in the count which would change the result. My investigation convinces me that second choice votes were cast in many precincts of this state which were not counted for the candidates who were elected. The failure of the election judges in most instances to count such second choice votes is probably due to the want of proper appreciation on their part of the importance of such votes. In my opinion, no election judge can make a positive statement as to the number of second choice votes were so cast. No one other than the counting judges in each precinct is qualified to challenge the count.

"The result is that, in Mr. Clagstone's case, I am unable to make such legal showing as would likely be favored by the courts, and I shall advise him not to initiate any contest against the nomination of Mr. Haines.

Clagstone Has Another Opening. "Aside from bringing the contest on the ground of the failure of the election judges to count the second choice votes in a number of precincts, there was a way left open for Mr. Clagstone to contest the nomination of Mr. Haines which many people have not considered, and that was to challenge the vote cast for Mr. Haines by many of the inmates of the Soldiers' Home. Some 50 or more votes were cast for Mr. Haines by men in the Soldiers' Home who came to the home from other parts of the state. The Supreme Court of this state in the case of Powell vs. Spackman holds that an inmate of the Soldiers' Home who came from another county cannot legally vote within this county. Mr. Clagstone refused to institute proceedings on the grounds the Supreme Court had held against the right of the old soldier to vote.

As Mr. McCracken is the legal and personal representative of Mr. Clagstone and was placed in complete charge of the contest, it is expected that the withdrawal of Mr. Clagstone is accepted as final.

The Roosevelt Progressive party of this state is now busily engaged circulating petitions as required by law to place a partial state third party ticket in the field. The party leaders have decided upon the following candidates who, it is understood, will accept.

Third Ticket Named. Governor, H. Harland, of Payette; Lieutenant-Governor, Dr. T. W. Boyd, of Twin Falls; State Treasurer, Alexander Peterson, of Weiser; Attorney-General, F. A. Hutto, of Twin Falls; Congressman, P. Monroe Smock, of New Plymouth; Auditor, Mine Inspector and United States Senator, have been left vacant. Outside of the respective cities in which they live few of the candidates are widely known politically. Mr. Harland, candidate for Governor, has an extensive acquaintance among the members of the State Grange, located in all parts of the state. It is predicted he will poll a heavy vote. P. Monroe Smock, a former pastor in Boise. He is now a fruitgrower of New Plymouth.

It is generally conceded that the

HEAR COVERED WITH WHITE PIMPLES

Went to Ear, Shoulders and Whole Body, Thick and Sticky on Head, Eruption Covered With Blood. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Ransom, Ill.—"The trouble started on our baby when he was only about two weeks old. Started like little white pimples, looked like an old scab of blood and matter. His whole head was covered for a few months then it went to his ear, shoulders, and his whole body. It seemed to come out thick and sticky on his head, while on the other parts of his body it was more like water coming out of the skin. He would scratch until the eruption would be all covered with blood and gradually spread. The least little stir or rub would cause the sores to bleed, spread and itch. Never had a full night's sleep, restless all night.

"The sores were horrid to look at. It lasted until he was about two and a half years old. Then we saw an excema advertisement in the paper to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We put the Cuticura Ointment on thick at bed time and put a tight hood on so he could not scratch the sores. Then we washed it clean with Cuticura Soap and warm water twice a day, and he was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. E. F. Sulzberger, Dec. 20, 1910.

"Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card 'Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.' Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

filling of the third ticket will do more to injure the chances of the Republican candidate for Governor than it will do to elect the Democratic vote it is believed will be sold for Governor Hawley for re-election. The Roosevelt Progressive vote, which heretofore has been Republican, will divide Haines' strength and it is feared defeat him, while it cannot elect Harland, party leaders say.

OTHER CRIMES TRACED

LOUNSBERRY BELIEVED TO BE LONG-WANTED 'ARTIST.'

Similarity of Train Robberies Which Baffled Detectives Is Cited—Postal Inspector Coming.

ROSEBURG, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—That Wells Lounsberry, the Medford rancher, is not only guilty of holding up and robbing a mail train at Topeka, Kan., and at Dunsuir, Cal., but that he has also been the mail pouches of Southern Pacific trains near Yoncalla and Cow Creek in June, 1911, is the belief of local officers who were assigned to the latter cases.

The holdup of the trains at Yoncalla and Cow Creek was similar to the affair at Dunsuir, Cal., except that in the two former robberies the locomotive and mail cars were detached from the train and run up the track a distance of several hundred yards. The officers claim that the description of one of the men involved in the Yoncalla and Cow Creek cases tallies very accurately with that of Lounsberry.

During the time consumed in ransacking the pouches at Yoncalla and Cow Creek, the robbers did all the talking, while the other remained silent. This fact leads the officers to believe that there was a woman involved in the former robberies, and that she remained silent for fear her sex would become known.

It is also believed by the officers that the persons responsible for the robbery of the train at Cow Creek boarded the train upon completing the job and thereby eluded suspicion. This theory is practically substantiated by the fact that they were unable to trace the robbers from the scene of the crime. The night watchman at the train station at Cow Creek reported that the robbers were on the train at that time, but that they were unable to trace the robbers from the scene of the crime. The night watchman at the train station at Cow Creek reported that the robbers were on the train at that time, but that they were unable to trace the robbers from the scene of the crime.

Neighbors of Lounsberry claim that he was away from home at the time of the Yoncalla and Cow Creek robberies, which strengthens the theory of the Roseburg officers that he was one of those implicated.

Postal Inspector Morse, who is at present in the East, and who has spent considerable time in an attempt to unravel the mystery attendant on the Cow Creek and Yoncalla robberies, is expected here in a few days. It is said that Mr. Morse has valuable information in his possession which may tend to place the robbery in the Douglas County robberies.

PHOTOGRAPHER TOO QUICK

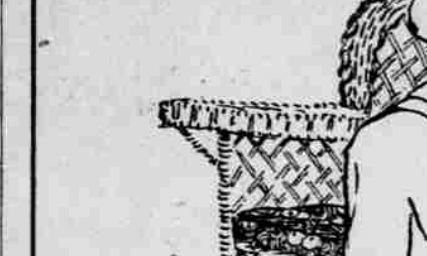

Suspected Bank Robber Tries to Smash Camera in Court.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Aug. 28.—Dashing as H. E. Leash, a photographer, Charles Dean, the man charged with complicity in the robbery of the branch Bank of Montreal, in this city, struck at the photographer with a lead pipe, in a vain endeavor to smash a camera containing a picture taken by flashlight just as the prisoner was leaving the dock this morning.

The whole affair was over in a moment. Suddenly Leash sprang the flash and shutter simultaneously. At the same moment a friend of Dean's grasping the situation, flung himself in front of the photographer to frustrate his object. He was too late.

123 Candidates in Franklin.

PASCO, Wash., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—As provided by law, notice of the coming primary election are being posted in Franklin County. The notices bear the names of 123 candidates for nomination. There are, including those running in this but no other county, 64 Republicans, 46 Democrats and 13 Socialists. Exclusive of the legislative officers, there are 32 candidates in this county, 22 of whom are Republicans and 11 Democrats. A feature of the ballot is the names of seven women seeking pure and simple office on the Socialist ticket. Judge O. R. Holcomb is the only one seeking office on a nonpartisan ticket.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP?

It has been proved that microbes cause Baldness. Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabourand, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the Sebium, which is the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp graduates on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots, and overcome baldness, the hair roots, and in any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called "REXALL" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state. It will frequently help to restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by aiding in making every hair root, follicle, and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

We exact no obligations or promises—we simply ask you to give Rexall "93" Hair Tonic a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, price 50 cents and $1.00. Sold only by The Owl Drug Co. stores in Portland, Seattle, Spokane, San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and Sacramento.
