Great Crowd Overwhelms Squad of 25 When Leader is Captured and Forces Release, but Column is Dispersed.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 29.—Police and paraders fought with knives and clubs today before a demonstration by members of the Industrial Workers of the World. Two officers were stabbed, several demonstrators were clubbed, and an Industrial Worker leader was captured after a hard fight and then freed. Two arrests were made. Carto Tesca, of Pittsburg, an editor, who is an organizer of the Industrial Workers, was in custody, but gained his freedom a minute or two later. Persons who saw Tesca's arrest said he was rescued by comrades. Tesca said the police let him go. All the police professed ignorance of the occurrence.

20,000 Operatives at Train. The clash was unexpected. More than 20,000 operatives met at the railroad station to welcome 700 members of the Industrial Workers of the World who had come from Boston to participate in a parade to the graves of Anna Lopizzo and John Ramo, who were killed in the strike riots last January. After the visitors had detained an impromptu parade started, turning finally into Essex street, the main business thoroughfare. The parade was informal and no application had been made for a parade permit. The police, notified that the operatives were marching, attempted to end the demonstration.

Police Halt Paraders. A squad of 25 officers was sent to Essex and Lawrence streets, where they threw a line across Essex street and awaited the procession. Two large banners were carried by the marchers. One was inscribed: "The only justice; the freedom for Ettore and Giovannitti." The other bore the words, "Police and Militia," and below, "Who Killed Anna and John?" When the head of the parade reached the line of officers it halted and an argument began. The police notified the marchers that they must disperse because they had no permit. Those in the front rank were endeavoring to fall back, when suddenly the marchers in the rear pressed forward and the millworkers tried to pass the police. They struck right and left at the officers, who responded by swinging their clubs. Many paraders were knocked to the ground.

Officers Beaten With Own Clubs. In some instances the marchers robbed the officers of their clubs and began to beat the police. The latter were forced to retreat into Lawrence street. It was here that Tesca was seized by officers. Angered by the arrest of their leader, the crowd made a rush for the officers. The police appeared to be fighting to hold the prisoner, but a moment or two later Tesca was at liberty. In the fight two Italians, Sebastiano de Manno and Vitto Lancastera, were arrested and taken to the stationhouse. As they were being taken through the door of the station a shot was heard. It appeared to have been fired by someone in the crowd, but the operatives cried out that the police were shooting.

Two Policemen Stabbed. After the excitement was over, Policeman McCarthy discovered that he had been cut on the head with some blunt instrument, and also had received a slight stab wound behind the ear. Another policeman received two slight stab wounds in the back. The widely-heralded demonstration of the afternoon, the parade in honor of Anna Lopizzo and John Ramo, brought out about 8000 marchers. This parade was orderly throughout. Many women were among the marchers. Some led children by the hand, and others carried infants in their arms. Many nationalities were represented. It had been planned to march to the cemetery where the two riot victims are buried and place flowers on their graves, but this was not done. Tesca, who acted as chief marshal, said the flowers would be taken to the cemetery tomorrow.

International Aid Asked. The following telegram was sent tonight to Paris, France, by the Franco-Belgian branch of the Industrial Workers: "General strike begun. Monster demonstration. Caruso, Ettore, Giovannitti. We count on international aid. Spread news everywhere." "LANGLET." Langlet is one of the Franco-Belgian leaders. Police fear further trouble tomorrow, when the order for a general strike of 24 hours, which has been called by the Industrial Workers, goes (Concluded on Page 5.)

Mother Nature was working overtime, notwithstanding that it was Sunday, when a party of Mazamas from Portland, including several young women, lunched at the home of John Allinger, at the base of Red Bluff, Wash., six miles from Stevenson, yesterday. They ate to the accompaniment of crashing rocks, hurled down the mountain sides by the workings of what is believed to be an underground glacier.
