

DR. HARRY LANE IS FETTERED BY DOCTORS

200 Members of Medical Society Honor United States Senator-elect.

GREAT FUTURE PREDICTED

Speeches Sound Note of Affection and Reference to Professional and Political Career Brings Prolonged Applause.

Two hundred members of the Portland Medical Society sat down to a banquet at the Portland Hotel last night in honor of Dr. Harry Lane, United States Senator-elect from Oregon. Many were the praiseful tributes to Dr. Lane's worth as a citizen, a physician and a public official.

That he would make a brilliant record in the Senate was freely predicted by the speakers. In prophetic mood, depicted his triumphant re-election six years hence, and others saw him attaining even greater heights in the public service.

Dr. W. T. Williamson, who presided as toastmaster, said that it was fitting for the fellow-members of Dr. Lane's profession to meet as an organized body to do him honor on the eve of his departure for his new duties in the high place to which he had been called in the councils of the Nation.

Speeches Show Affection.
There was a distinct note of affection in many of the speeches. Dr. S. E.
Joseph said that he had known the guest of honor ever since he was a boy, and that "he was a very fine young fellow." He referred humorously to a time when a shift in state administration made his resignation as superintendent of the Oregon Hospital, for the insane, the correct thing to do politically, and told how he was placed in the unusual position of being asked to name his successor by Governor Penney. "I recommended Harry Lane," said Dr. Joseph, amid applause.

Dr. Otto S. Hinzinger made one of the hits of the evening with his reminiscent remarks relative to the early history of Dr. Lane as a physician. He told of the many enthusiastic theories of the youthful practitioner, and the doctors laughed, some more heartily than Dr. Lane, as he told how some of them worked out.

Dr. Charles H. Rafferty told of knowing Dr. Lane from boyhood, and of having had him as a student in his office.
He said that Dr. Lane "is a man who does what he sets out to do, just as he did when a boy he rode a big salmon in Portland Slough and killed it with a club."

Dr. Sargentich Recites.
Dr. William Sargentich was introduced by Dr. Williamson as one who, while his residence has been in Portland for several years, finds his heart with the alikes in the Balkan Peninsula, fighting for their freedom against the Turks.
Dr. Sargentich is a Serbian, and he gave an interesting summary of the history of his country under Turkish tyranny. He closed by reciting an English translation of a powerful and dramatic poem by a famous Bulgarian patriotic poet, and was long applauded.

Political Duty Outlined.
Dr. Lane, in replying to the encomiums that had been showered upon him, was at his best. He expressed not only the deepest appreciation of the way in which his brethren, the medical gathered to do him honor, but the earnest hope that he would be able to fulfill their expectations for him.

CARE OF BABES PROBLEM Directors of Home Plan Improvements and Find Fund Low.

The Baby Home is planning to safeguard the health of its tiny inmates of the institution by building a concrete cow stable. For eight months there have been no deaths at the home and but very little sickness. In order to keep up the standard the directors have decided to have every accessory that will enable them to give the babies the purest food and the best care possible.
The fund to be used for the new stable is to be taken from the amount secured during the Olds, Wortman & King voting contest, when the public showed its interest in the institution by making it one of the victors, with a prize of several hundred dollars.

ALLEGED FORGER IS TAKEN

Man Raising Bills From $1 to $20 Long Sought.

Clever pen work in the execution of raising $1 notes to the denomination of $20 and passing them into circulation has caused the secret service department of the Government anxious moments on the Pacific Coast during the past two months, but yesterday Secret Service Agent Connel, of the Portland district, arrested a man who is accused of doing the work.

The raised notes first made their appearance in Portland during the early holiday shopping season and at the same time a similar character were found in San Francisco, all evidently the work of the same hand. To City Detective Swanness is given the direct credit of making the first arrest. Jackson Mosher, a traveling bartender, was captured Wednesday, after he had attempted to pass one of the notes in a North End saloon. At raised bills in San Francisco, he told where he had received the bill, but yesterday morning he told the officers that Jack Larson, who had a room at Sixth and Stark streets, had given it to him to cash.

INTRUDERS ARE BOLD WOULD-BE ROBBER WALKS IN WHILE FAMILY AT HOME.

Bold Visitor Leaves on Command but Tries to Re-enter Later—Police Think Man Drug-Flend.

While surface indications developing yesterday are that thugs have abandoned the night time and preferred broad daylight for their operations, the police are extremely skeptical as to the information supplied them in one case and set another down as the act of a drug fiend or maniac.

Shortly after noon yesterday the police were summoned to 81 North Fourth street, where a man named Hughbanks, an engineer employed in the terminal yards, reported that he had been robbed at his doorway by an armed highwayman. The man first made inquiry for a room, and then produced a revolver, says Hughbanks, demanding money. The victim replied that he had none thereupon the intruder seized his trousers, carried them outside the room and locked the door, leaving Hughbanks inside. He removed a purse and matches and, it is expected, obtaining nothing else. He is described as well-dressed.

Immediately after this call came one from Albina, where Patrolman Mallon was on the trail of a man who had forced entrance to three residences.
He first went to the home of Mrs. O.
Finseth, 724 Borwick street, where he tried to unlock a door. He failed.
Finseth summoned the police and while they were on the way the same man went to the home of Mrs. L. Johnson, 717 Kirby street, and broke a lock, forcing his way in. Finding a man in the house he tied, but returned in a few minutes and tried to enter the house again.

He was next heard of at the home of Mrs. Updegraf, 163 Ivy street, where he walked straight in, but when commanded to do so. From the description the police believe that the intruder is a user of drugs. Patrolmen Sherrill and Johnson assisted Mallon in searching the neighborhood, but they failed to overtake the object of their search.

Y. M. C. A. TO HAVE CONTEST Vote for Most Popular Boy Will Be Taken at Institution.

Selection of the most popular boy in the association and increased membership in the boys' department are the double objects of a contest started yesterday in the Young Men's Christian Association. The contest will continue until February 15, and it is expected will be the means of bringing a large number of youngsters into the Y. M.
C. A.

Yesterday and for the remainder of this week the contest is between the different boys' clubs, each of these 17 organizations selecting a boy who is voted for in the popularity contest.
Final votes will be taken by all clubs in each council. Good returns were made on the first day, although the exact result was not tallied last night.

WIND VIOLATES CITY LAW Man Held for Sweeping Paper Into Street Says Breeze Did It.

Citizens shall not be held criminally responsible for the antics of the bleak east wind, ruled Judge Tawell yesterday in dismissing a charge against S. A. Harding, second street merchant, of sweeping rubbish into the gutter.
He was arrested by Patrolmen Bewley and Coulter, who charged that a piece of paper was deposited in the street by Harding's broom. The arrest was one of several made for this offense since the scoring given the police recently by the sanitation committee.
Harding said that he was sweeping the dust from the walk when the wind blew the paper up out of the street and in front of his broom. He admitted sweeping it back whence it came. "It weather like this it is the street that deposits rubbish on the sidewalk," he said.

Cooking Class to Meet.

come a member of this class is asked class in the future will be decided upon today.

his advanced age, causes his friends

CHINESE QUITS JAIL

Man Once Sentenced to Hang Out on $5000 Bail.

INCARCERATION IS 5 YEARS Yee Gueng's Case Awaits Determination by United States Supreme Court of Fate of Alleged Principal in Shooting.

After serving nearly five years in the County Jail, during the course of which he was once convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged, Yee Gueng, a Chinaman, walked out of the Courthouse a free man yesterday. He greeted his release much as a child greets a new toy, with cries of joy and nervous laughter of delight. He was released by Circuit Judge Davis on $5000 bail, pending the determination by the Supreme Court of the United States of the appeal of Lem Woon, also convicted and sentenced to hang for the murder in March, 1908, of Lee Tai Hoy during the height of a long war. Yee Gueng's case was reversed by the Supreme Court of Oregon and sent back for a new trial, but the sentence of death imposed on Lem Woon was affirmed, causing the appeal to the highest court of the land on a technical question.

Contrary to the expectations of Frank T. Collier, his attorney, Yee Gueng flatly refused to plead guilty to manslaughter. He stoutly maintains his innocence. Should the United States Supreme Court dismiss the Lem Woon appeal Yee Gueng still stands a chance of death by hanging. Should the dismissal be made it will leave the way open to the hanging of Lem Woon.

Yee Gueng's case was reversed and sent back for a new trial in December, 1910, but he was not tried, because of the question to be decided by the United States Supreme Court in the Lem Woon case. The case is expected to be reached on the calendar at Washington, D. C. in a few months.

SEWER COST IS DISCUSSED Peninsula Residents Fear Cost of Contemplated Improvements.

That many property owners in the Delaware avenue sewer district, on the Peninsula, signed the remonstrance that was recently filed with the Auditor because they were afraid of the cost of dredging Columbia slough, was the statement made yesterday by C. A. Zygowski, who lives in the district and favors the construction of the sewer.

PRINTY IN PRISON AGAIN

PLEA OF OLD OFFENDER FOR MERCY IS VAIN.
Elderly Man Admits Being Drunk and Riffing Trunk of Benefactor Who Provided Shelter.

For the 50th time, old Frank Printy stood before the Municipal Court yesterday and repeated his good intentions, but by the very repetition he took little profit from his plea. Battered and sullen, the old man admitted being drunk and while in that condition rifling the trunk of the man who had befriended him by admitting him to share his bed.

Some years ago Printy vied with Jim Casey in coming before the court with in three days of his release from each succeeding sentence. Then, suddenly, he dropped out of sight. Months went by and one day a clean-shaven, neatly-dressed old man was observed sitting among the spectators in the courtroom where time after time he had been one of the actors. The word went forth that the old man had reformed, had joined a church and eschewed liquor. Chief Siver took a personal interest in the case and for a long time Printy led a moral life.

Washington "U" Shows Growth. UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Feb. 6.—(Special).—There are registered at the University of Washington, according to the final statistics reported from the office of the Registrar, 2747 students. This number exceeds the figures of a year ago by 125. As a result of failures and unsatisfactory scholastic standing, 51 students were this week dropped from the rolls. This number is smaller than in former years.
