THE COLUMBIA LIFE & TRUST COMPANY has greatly increased the selling opportunities of its agents for February. The keynote is a special combination policy. Persons contemplating life insurance should get the figures for this policy in February. Telephone the office, Main 142, or A 1574. Don't tell a Columbia Life agent that you are "not in the market." See this policy first before you pass it by. It's worth investigating. Don't delay. There is but one day in life when you need to have life insurance. No one knows when that day will be. The only way to be sure of having the insurance the day it is needed is to have it at the time. Therefore, take it today.

HIGH SCHOOLS ARE CROWDED.—Students promoted from the grammar grades to entrance in high schools will begin their first semester work this morning. Owing to the congestion existing in Washington High School, Hawthorne avenue on East Side, have been directed to report at Lincoln High School. Both Washington and Jefferson are crowded with students, and since the opening of Lincoln it has been found necessary to alter the locker rooms into classrooms to accommodate the steadily increasing attendance.

THESE SEMINAR TO CROSS.—Dr. H. Chapman will deliver the last of his lectures on Ibsen's work tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association. His subject will be "Ibsen's Dramas," which is recognized as being one of the most powerful of Ibsen's dramas. Dr. Chapman's lectures, which are delivered with unusual aptness of the Y. M. C. educational department, will continue another month, taking up the writings of Wagner, Tolstol, and Brecht. The lectures are open to men and women.

STUDENT OF INDIAN LANGUAGES HERE.—Dr. Leo J. Frachtenberg, an ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institute who is compiling Indian languages on the Sitka Reservation at the Multnomah. Dr. Frachtenberg says that he has almost completed the Aisena language and will commence another tribal tongue in the near future. His alphabet is not sufficient to express some of the sounds used by the Indians. Dr. Frachtenberg has had to invent signs and attach them to the letters of the form extra characters.

POLICE HONOR LATE PATROLMAN.—Escorted by a company of police, the police band and a squad consisting of the members of the department, including Masons, the body of F. G. Holterman, patrolman, was conveyed to Riverview Cemetery yesterday after ceremonies at the Masonic Temple and at Holterman's undertaking establishment. The late officer is survived by his widow. He had been a member of the police department for a number of years and had an excellent record.

LINCOLN DAY SPEAKERS CHOSEN.—Father E. J. Conaty and Melvin G. Winston will be the speakers at the Lincoln day luncheon of the Portland Ad Club at the Multnomah Hotel Wednesday, February 12, at 12:15 o'clock. Members of the Rotary Club, Ad Club, Progressive Business Men's Club and other similar commercial organizations of the city have been invited to join the Ad Club in the celebration of the anniversary of the great Emancipator. The chairman of the day will be H. J. Blasing.

MONTE SCOTT LODGE TO BUILD.—At the last meeting of the Mount Scott Odd Fellows Lodge, a committee, composed of Messrs. Kenny, Tussy, Coffman, Lent and Rayburn, was appointed to take up the matter of erecting a hall on its property in Lincoln street. This committee will ascertain whether the money for the building can be raised, and it is thought that a hall will be built this Spring. The cost of a brick building will be between $4000 and $5000.

EDWARD J. McDONALD DEAD.—Edward J. McDonald died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Delany, 752 Vancouver avenue, and the funeral will be held this morning from the residence and St. Mary's Church. SEVEN MILES TRAVELED

Sixty-Eighth Streets and Concludes at Errol Station on Cazadero Line. The chase was started from Belmont and East Sixty-eighth streets, at 2:30 o'clock. The trail was soon found, at the entrance to Mount Tabor Park, and the lead was kept by 11-year-old Helen Short for over half of the chase. The trail wound in and out through the park, thence down the southerly slope of the hill to Section Line Road, thence westward as far west as East Fifty-second street, thence southerly and easterly, with many turns and an occasional blind to contend with, but finally wound up at Errol station, on the Cazadero line, after covering about seven miles.

The Mazamas' weekly recreation "stunt" yesterday took the form of a paper chase taken on foot. The chase was started from Belmont and East Sixty-eighth streets, at 2:30 o'clock. AT THE THEATERS

"THE BRASS BOWL"

A Play in Three Acts, Presented at the Baker Theater. CAST: Mr. Maitland, Robert Conness; "Handsome Dan" Antisty, Robert Conness; Mr. Bannerman, Robert Wayne; Hickey, John R. Sumner; Soames, Walter Gilbert; Sylvia Graeme, Alice Fleming; Mrs. Stanway, Helen Strickland; Daly, Claude Archer; Murphy, Sidney Trego.

ROBERT CONNESS, at the Baker this week, qualifies beyond the wildest dreams of his admirers for a rapid change in costume and character. Every two minutes by a stop-watch Robert Conness must change his costume and his costume—his voice and methods of business in the new play, "The Brass Bowl," which opened a week's run yesterday at the Baker. For, as the hero and villain, Mr. Conness doubles on himself and most naturally it keeps him busy.

The play itself is new and has all the novelty of a first presentation, since neither stock nor traveling company has had a fling at it here. The story is a thriller, with plenty of delicious suspense and real excitement. Mr. Conness plays the dual role of Dan Maitland and "Handsome Dan" Antisty. By a coincidence permitted to only playwrights and authors, Mr. Maitland and "Handsome Dan" are like the proverbial two peas in a pod. "Handsome Dan," he it known, is a burglar, one of the well-dressed Raffles sort, and Maitland is a well-to-do bachelor. The famous Maitland diamonds and a bundle of documents that incriminate old man Graeme, in a case Maitland has against him, are all these things.

ROYAL ROSARIANS MEET TONIGHT TO DISCUSS FINANCES. Special Feature of Annual Event in 1913 Will Be Entertainment of Visiting Delegations. Royal Rosarians will hold a meeting at the Portland Commercial Club tonight at 8 o'clock. Following the business of the meeting, the Rosarians will entertain a number of visiting delegations from other cities. The Rosarians pledged their assistance to the Portland Rose Festival Association at a meeting held last week, to assist in every way possible in raising funds for the Festival. At the same meeting the suggestion was advanced by G. L. Hutchin, manager of the Festival, that the Royal Rosarians might take upon themselves the entertainment of the visiting delegations, as the special committee from the Elks did during the celebration of the Festival. Pledges have been received from Vancouver, B. C., Tacoma and Seattle, of delegations coming in special trains to attend the Festival. Following the trip of the Royal Rosarians to Southern California, assurances were received from every city at which they stopped, that special trains will be secured and delegations which range from 75 to 150 will be sent to represent them at the Rose Festival, California cities from which these promises have been received are Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Francisco and Sacramento.

THE BRASS BOWL. Alice Fleming is quaint and pretty in the great-big, beautiful-doll-way as Sylvia. She gives a mighty good accounting of the exacting role. Robert Wayne is Bannerman, friend to both Maitland and Antisty. Soames, who "has lusted in the best families on both sides of the water" and whose dreary hopelessness he heard constantly intoning his own virtues. Walter Gilbert is the other mirthful demonstration as an Irish valet, O'Hagen, with penchant for looking too long on the glass. John Sumner comes in for a round share of interest as Hickey, the red-nosed, swagger, near-detective. Helen Strickland plays one of her charming and romantically light roles, as Maitland's aunt. Claude Archer and Sidney Trego qualify as policemen.

"The Brass Bowl" will run all week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. Advance seat sale opens tomorrow (Tuesday) at 10 A. M. for world famous World's Greatest Dancer, Adeline Genée, at Heilig Next Friday and Saturday.

SEAT SALE TOMORROW. Advance seat sale opens tomorrow (Tuesday) at 10 A. M. for world famous World's Greatest Dancer, Adeline Genée, at Heilig Next Friday and Saturday.

TEMPERANCE WORKERS TO MEET. The second red letter day of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be observed by the Albina branch on Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Dr. Ella H. Schaefer, 124 Williams avenue, this being the date of the Francis E. Willard Memorial Fund day. A programme on her life and works, together with several musical numbers, will be rendered. All interested in temperance and reform work are invited to attend.

HOTEL PROPERTY LEASED. A nine-year lease has been taken on the Calumet Hotel, on Park between Alder and Morrison streets, by A. R. Morgan, of the Chapin-Herlow Mortgages and Trust Company. The hotel business and fixtures recently were purchased from Mrs. Louis Hamilton by a Portland syndicate for $12,000. The leasing deal was made by H. H. Lott.

PAPER CHASE HELD

Mazamas Take Part in Novel "Stunt" on Foot. The Mazamas' weekly recreation "stunt" yesterday took the form of a paper chase taken on foot. The chase was started from Belmont and East Sixty-eighth streets, at 2:30 o'clock. The trail was soon found, at the entrance to Mount Tabor Park, and the lead was kept by 11-year-old Helen Short for over half of the chase. CHURCH'S MISSION TOLD

"HUMANITY" DISCUSSED BY REV. HARRY F. WARD. Enlargement of Practical Work in Caring for Sick and Needy Assorted to Be Christianity. "The church must enlarge its practical work for humanity if it means its opportunity for the betterment of the masses and the development of the brotherhood of man," declared Rev. Harry F. Ward, in his lecture yesterday at the Central Methodist Church. Rev. Mr. Ward is secretary of the Methodist Federation of Social Service, and his address was the opening of a series he will give in Portland. "Christianity's Social Programme" was the subject of the morning talk. He discussed the relations of the church to humanity, asserting that it is part of its work to take care of the sick and those in distress, and to get jobs for the unemployed. He said that the church should be organized to do this work the same as the lodges and unions are, and that the church should be organized to do this work the same as the lodges and unions are, and that the church should be organized to do this work the same as the lodges and unions are.

MONEY TRANSFER CHEAPER

Western Union Announces Rate Revision for March 1. Rates for the transfer of money by telegraph throughout the United States and Canada will be reduced by the Western Union Telegraph Company March 1, subject to approval by commissions. The design of the new rates is to cheapen particularly the charges for small sums of money.

The schedule to become effective March 1 provides new rates as follows: For a transfer of $25 or less, 25 cents; $25 and not exceeding $50, 35 cents; $50 and not exceeding $75, 40 cents; $75 and not exceeding $100, 45 cents; each additional $100 or fraction thereof up to and including $5000, 25 cents; each additional $100 or fraction thereof over $5000, 20 cents.

Under the present schedule of rates in effect at Portland, $100 to New York would cost $4 as against $2.50 after March 1.

RECOVERY SEEMS LIKELY Hamilton Corbett Rallies Following Surgical Operation. Ultimate recovery for Hamilton Corbett seems certain. This report was given out at the Good Samaritan Hospital, where the prominent clubman and member of one of Oregon's most noted families, is resting after an operation for appendicitis.
