ARRIVAL OF DIAZ PERPLEXING TO 2

Managers of Hostelry Chosen by Illustrious Mexican Are Far From Happy. GATES' ARRIVAL DREADED. With Soldier-Statesman Ensnared in Royal Suite, Under Option to Minneapolis Millionaire, Perturbation Is Understood.

There was no apparent occasion for anyone to perspire yesterday. Little raveled wisps of cloud ran Marathons across the sky. The breeze that chased them touched the earth as kindly as though it had just been filtered through an ice cream social.

Nowhere outside of a cold-storage plant was it cooler—but not too cool—than in the capacious Babylonian lobby of the Multnomah Hotel.

On Colonel Bowers' corrugated forehead the heated drops gathered rapidly, and then rolled down his cheeks to the further demoralization of his color.

"What shall we do?" he gasped. "I have the least idea," said the Apollo-like assistant manager, thumping nervously in his waistcoat, as though he had mislaid his cue or his cigarette case.

"They can't beat me," he said, starting the reporter by the ease with which he dropped into the vernacular of American politics.

"The ballot is supreme in Mexico," he said, "and that being the case, senior I simply can't lose."

"Suppose he comes in tonight or tomorrow?" said Assistant Manager Thigpen.

"I said ballot," replied General Diaz, "and that it is up to General Diaz," went on Assistant Manager Thigpen, "to tell General Diaz that the Royal Suite has been previously engaged by Mr. Charles G. Gates, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and that Mr. Gates has arrived here to take the room."

MURDERS ARE UNSOLVED

SLAYER OF SALEM JAPANESE NOT NAMED AT INQUEST. Police Say Jealousy Motive and Slain Woman's Husband Is Still Held Prisoner.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—While the police are still unable to explain the killing of Joe Kiyokawa, a cook, Mrs. Y. Koda and her 1-year-old baby, Thursday night, in the noodle restaurant of her husband, they are convinced that jealousy was the motive for the crime.

A report was current today that Koda and two other Japanese shortly before the tragedy boarded an asylum car with the intention, they said, of visiting a sick friend in the Institution of Control, in charge of the restaurant. Motorcycle Policeman Spencer declares that he saw Koda in the restaurant 20 minutes before the bodies were found.

Another report is that Kiyokawa and the woman were fond of each other, and were seen by the husband while they were walking on the street yesterday. One theory of the police is that the woman had two admirers, besides her husband, and while he was away at the asylum one of the men surprised her and Kiyokawa.

General Diaz was much disturbed last night when one of the evening papers quoted "a member of his staff" as giving the impression that Diaz was giving the impression that he was a progressive.

ELECTION DATE IS NAMED

Medford to Vote on Road Bond Issuance September 9. MEDFORD, Or., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the County Court this afternoon September 9 was fixed as the date of a special election to vote on the issuance of $500,000 bonds for the construction of a permanent highway extending from Ashland and the southern line of the county through Medford to the county line on the north, a distance of 23 miles.

This makes Jackson County the first county in the state to definitely arrange for road construction under the new state bond act. A new and easy grade over the Siskiyou Mountains has been surveyed, and State Engineer Bowers expects to start work as soon as the bonds are passed, so that the grade may be settled by the winter rains.
