BATTLE PROMISED

Dr. Stewart, Coach of College Team Says Squad Will Be in Fine Fettle for Initial Contest on Multnomah Field.

Dr. E. J. Stewart, head football coaci at the Oregon Agricultural College, hustled into Portland yesterday from Corvallis, consulted with Multnomah Club managers over officials for the big Aggle-Multnomah game on Multnomah Field next Saturday, announced his lineup and then hopped the first train back to the campus. The "Aggles," according to Dr. Stewart, are in pretty good shape to give

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—Chicago and Cincinnati ended their series of games for the season by playing a double-header today, the visitors losing the first game 2 to 0 and winning the sec-ond 5 to 3. The second game was called at the end of the seventh inning by agreement. Cincinnati won the first through the good pitching of Packard,

Chicago capturing the second by hit-ting opportunely. In the second game each pitcher yielded the same number of hits, but

That is the beauty of Campbell's Tomato Soup. It can be prepared to suit either a light dinner or a hearty one.

Prepare it as a clear tomato soup simply by adding hot water, or as a rich bisque by adding milk instead-with a little cream if you like.

You can make it even heartier by adding noodles or vermicelli or boiled rice. By this means it becomes a substantial light meal in itself. Just the thing for a luncheon or supper these mellow autumn
