GROVELAND PARK GETS PAVEMENT. The City Commission yesterday award-ed a contract to Glebisch & Joplin for the paving of Groveland Park district with concrete paving. The contract involves $20,116. The action terminates a long fight on the part of property owners in the district to get paving prices down to bedrock. Bids as opened recently showed bitucrete to be higher in price than asphaltic concrete and concrete. Accordingly the property owners petitioned the Commission to award the contract to the lowest bidder, thus eliminating bitucrete. PUBLIC GARAGE OPPOSED.—To see what can be done to prevent the establishment of a public garage at Thirty-third and Thurman streets in Willamette Heights, the City Commission yesterday referred protests against the institution by property owners of the district to Commissioner Bigelow. In-asmuch as a license is required for the

FRANK LA FORGE, WHO WILL APPEAR IN PORTLAND OCTOBER 23.

Frank La Forge, the popular composer-pianist, who will ap-pear here with Madame Alda and Gutia Cassini, in recital Thursday evening, October 23, will be pleasantly remembered from his many appearances here with other singers. "At the Plano" is what the programmes term him, but the discriminating listener finds very quickly that the specification is not apt. Mr. La Forge is far more than an ac-companist. He is a personality. unobtrusive to be sure, but nev-ertheless felt. Mr. La Forge might be called the "accompaniist a la Toscanini," since he plays his accompaniments from mem-ory. Ask him about this and he dismisses the subject with mod-esty, saying, "It is not intended to arouse admiration or wonder and is only a result of a belief of mine that one can do better work when so familiar with what is to be played that the printed page can be discarded." He will contribute several plane numbers to the splendid programme that these three incomparable artists will present on October 23. Columbia.

FOR spectacular and sensational features "The Vampire," a big threereel Kalem production, heading the bill opening yesterday at the Columbia, has any photo-play of its kind heretofore shown in this city outclassed, it is de-clared. From beginning to end, it is one surprise after another. The real big feature of the production, however, is the famous vampire dance given by Bert French and Alice Eis.

The story deals with a country youth who is ensuared by the wiles of an adventuress. He eventually forgets his country sweetheart and the influence of the adventuress is so evil that he loses his position. When his money is gone the adventuress leaves him and he sinks to the lowest depths of degrada-tion. One night he wanders into a music hall and there witnesses the vam-pire dance. The dance recalls his ex-periences and he renounces his evil ways.

"Master Fixit" is a clever Vitagraph comedy of the good old Summer time. On the same film views of Buddhist temples in India are shown. Matt Dennis, the popular baritone, and Karp's orchestra contribute the musical features. Same bill until Sunday.
