

SHRINERS' BALL IS BRILLIANT EVENT

Al Kader Temple Scene of Annual Affair, Unusual Social Triumph.

FRANCES BRADY ENGAGED

Popular Society Girl Presides Over Luncheon for Intimate Friends Who Learn of Prospective Wedding to Arthur M. Mears.

The annual Shriners' ball at the Masonic Temple last night was one of the most brilliant events of the early fall season. The affair was given by Al Kader Temple, and was a social triumph of the kind attempted by this body previously. A special feature of the affair was the Arab patrol, in full dress uniform, who were in charge of the floor arrangements.

Masses of chrysanthemums, palms and the many brilliant emblems of the order were used to adorn the temple, and made a pleasing foil for the stunner gowns worn by the hundreds of women present.

Card tables were arranged in the parlors for those who did not care to participate in the dancing, and a fancy drill was given during the evening.

The patronesses were Mesdames D. G. Tomasi, H. L. Pitcock, Harvey Beck with, George W. Stapleton, William E. Grace, James P. Moffet, John B. Cleveland, Hugh J. Boyd, Thomas McCusker, William J. Hofmann, Frank S. Grant, J. G. Mack, L. G. Clarke, William C. Bristol, H. R. Albee, Alva L. Jones, W. Y. Masters, M. C. Banfield, C. U. Gantenbein, J. Edward Werlein, William L. Morgan.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Brady and a sister to William and James Brady.

MOTHER WHOSE NINE-YEAR SEARCH FOR STOLEN DAUGHTER WAS SUCCESSFUL IN PORTLAND, AND HER DAUGHTER.

Mrs. G.A. Patterson

STOLEN CHILD HERE

Missouri Woman Trying to Prove Fitness for Girl.

COURT HOLDS OFFSPRING

Chief of Police Clark's Sleuths Find Little Eva Mattox Had Been Living With Father and Was Now in Care Juvenile Officials.

After searching for her daughter for nine years, Mrs. G. A. Patterson, of 2410 Bellefontaine street, Kansas City, Mo., arrived in Portland on the daughter's trail only to find that the child is a ward of the Juvenile Court. She is now trying to prove her fitness to take care of the girl, Eva, 17 years old, Mrs. Patterson's daughter by marriage with Gurney Mattox, who is now a shoemaker at 661 Alberta street.

According to Mrs. Patterson, who is 32 years old, but who was but a little over 14 when she married Mattox, 35 years old, in War Eagle, Ark., the girl was kidnaped from the streets of Chicago, Mo., by Frank Mattox, brother of her husband, while the girl was returning from school in company with May and Silver Walker, sisters of Mrs. Patterson.

This was several years after the present Mrs. Patterson had separated from her husband, following alleged mistreatment when she had been married to him but a few months. Eva was taken to a hotel in Carthage and then spirited away, and until about six weeks ago Mrs. Patterson did not know her whereabouts.

Finally, about six weeks ago, the girl, who is now 17 years old, wrote to her mother, giving no address. The letter was dated "Portland, Ore." but Mrs. Patterson wrote to Chief of Police Clark. Detective Hawley found the girl was living with her father and had been taken into the care of the Juvenile Court.

That she is acting on the admonition conveyed in the last living words of the mother, Mrs. Patterson, a widow, mother, Mrs. D. R. Walker, of Carthage.

Miss Eva Mattox

Mo. is Mrs. Patterson's explanation of her long search.

"Do not cease hunting for Eva while you live," Mrs. Patterson says her mother ordered her from her deathbed, and in the years that have followed she has not quit the search. The death, Mrs. Patterson says, was caused primarily by the loss of Mrs. Walker's grandchild, Eva, to whom she was a sort of foster mother, as well as a grandmother.

Mrs. Patterson, who says she gained a divorce from Mattox by default in 1897, is now the wife of a Kansas City railroad man. She is staying in Portland, at the Hoyt Hotel, Sixth and Hoyt streets, while the Juvenile Court investigates the case, a report which she says she made without knowing the circumstances, to take the girl East with her Monday, was stopped by Miss Butler, of the Juvenile Court, and is now at the Detention Home pending the outcome of the case.

CITY'S CO-OPERATION ASKED

County Wants Portland to Help in Care of Bridges and Ferry.

Under the terms of the Sands administrative code, which has been adopted by the County Commissioners, the maintenance and operations of the bridges and ferries of the county must be under the special supervision of a bridge engineer employed by the county or must be inspected each month by the engineering department of the city.

Commissioner Holman yesterday addressed a letter to G. G. Hays, chief of the county department of public works, asking him if the city would co-operate with the county in the necessary inspection of the bridges under the most intelligent supervision of a bridge engineer would cost the county a large sum for salary, which he thinks can be avoided if the city will co-operate in the matter.

Oregon Food to Be Served.

At 6:30 the manufacturers will meet the editors in the green room and will escort them to the dining-hall, where a "Made-in-Oregon" banquet will be spread. Every article on the menu will be an Oregon product.

COTTOLENE
CONTAINS NO HOG FAT
USE 1/3 LESS

Here is what Marion Harland said in 1906 about Cottolene

"Many years ago, I discontinued the use of lard in my kitchen and substituted for it, as an experiment, Cottolene, then comparatively a new product. Since my first trial of it I can truly say that it has given complete satisfaction. I honestly believe it to be the very best thing of its kind ever offered to the American housekeeper."

MARION HARLAND.

Cottolene makes biscuits that are tender when they are cold—that is a sure test of a good shortening. Try it yourself. Make the biscuits like this:

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS
2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons Cottolene, 3-4 cup milk. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together; rub in Cottolene; mix lightly and quickly; mixture should not be dry; roll out on board, cut into small biscuits, bake ten to fifteen minutes in hot oven. To make biscuits richer, mix with cream. Whole wheat, Graham or rye biscuit may be made in the same way.—Edith L. Clift.

DETECTIVES SEEK HAMMER

Funeral of Murdered Man Under Auspices of Masons.

A hammer, known to have been in the real estate office of Lou Winters, who was killed last Sunday morning by Lloyd H. Wilkins, is being sought by Detectives Tichenor and Hellyer, who believe that it was the weapon used for the murder. Wilkins explained that the killing was done with an umbrella in self-defense, but this is discredited.

The funeral of Mr. Winters was held yesterday afternoon in the Portland Crematorium, under the auspices of Williamite Lodge No. 2, Masons, of which Mr. Winters was a member. Rev. Charles Saunders, state secretary of the

"It fits my dinner exactly!"

That's the beauty of Campbell's Tomato Soup. It fits any dinner. You can prepare it as light or as hearty as you choose. As a clear tomato soup, or as a rich bisque by adding milk instead of water.

Or you can make it even heartier by adding noodles or vermicelli or boiled rice. And by this means it becomes in itself a satisfying light meal for luncheon or supper.

TRADES SCHOOL GROWING

Enrollment Reaches 450 and Shops Are Crowded.

Seventy-two names have been added to the student roll of the Portland trades school, making a total enrollment of 450.

There are more students than can be accommodated in the shops. For the benefit of those who cannot enter the crowded electrical shop, a special course in theoretical electricity will be given.

Every effort will be made to take care of all who enroll.

"No one should be discouraged from entering the trades school by present conditions," said Principal Cleveland last night, "as all will be taken care of, and each student will be given the full benefit of the course he chooses."

PENN WILL BE HONOURED

Pennsylvania Society of Portland to Have "Scrapie Feast."

The two hundred and thirty-first anniversary of the landing of William Penn in Pennsylvania will be celebrated at the University Club on October 23 by the Pennsylvania Society of Portland with a great "scrapie feast."

In addition to the scrapie part of the feast they will inject into the menu all sorts of other dishes, light and heavy, with which the early and medieval Pennsylvanian was wont to tickle his palate and wreck his digestive tract.

Wallace McCamant has received his orders from headquarters to locate for the event some genuine "schmeerkease" and J. A. Curry, Ed. Samsenich and P. A. Getz and others have been assigned to other things necessary to make the feasting end of the celebration all that it should be.

WOMEN INVITED TO AID COLUMBIA BRIDGE WORK

Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway and Frank Beach Riley Ask Members of Good Government to Register and Vote for Bond Issue.

MRS. ABIGAIL SCOTT DUNIWAY and Frank Beach Riley were the chief speakers at the Woman's Good Government Club, which met yesterday in the new library building. The importance of voting bonds for the interstate bridge was the subject of both addresses. Mrs. Duniway urged all of the clubwomen to register and to vote for the bonds at the coming election. She suggested that each woman pledge herself to take with her 10 other women to the polls and instruct them regarding the advantages of having this connecting link between the two great states of the Northwest.

Mrs. Duniway also spoke of the University of Oregon and counseled the women to sustain the action of the Legislature in the matter of appropriating money for the improvement of the state institution.

Mr. Riley paid eloquent tribute to Mrs. Duniway and her influence in all the important affairs of the community. He told the club members of the economic advantages of having a bridge that should span the Columbia. In referring to his presence at the women's organization he said:

"I am delighted to be here and to enjoy with you what I suppose the society reporter will call an 'afternoon of bridge.' I have had several evenings and afternoons of it lately, and I find it a game enormously fascinating and stimulating; and very much more profitable and worth while than some other kinds of bridge I know about. A game lives from the talent of risk or chance—a game you and I and all of us may play, and at which none of us can lose. And the ultimate prize, which all of us are to win, is a public improvement as magnificent and as useful as any that have been built or conceived in the West."

A. H. Harris, a member of the executive committee of the Oregon Educational League, gave a short talk on the university, saying that if the funds were not allowed for its improvement the boys and girls of Oregon ultimately would have to go to the neighboring states to obtain higher education. He made a plea for the women's speaker and the members feel that her representation will be a credit to Oregon.

Mrs. Edith Hill Booker, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, left yesterday for Brooklyn, N. Y., to attend the world's triennial convention of the W. C. T. U., to be held there during the latter part of October. Mrs. Booker is an eloquent speaker and the members feel that her representation will be a credit to Oregon.

The Coterie held an enthusiastic meeting yesterday at the Hotel Oregon. Three new members were added to the roll: Mrs. P. G. Macklin, Dr. Bertha Brewer and Mrs. Joseph Supple. Mrs. H. Harbour contributed a solo and Mrs. C. H. Kiggins conducted the
