

HENRY WESSINGER WEDS IN ABERDEEN

Miss Romaine Wood Becomes Bride of Portland Man at Wedding Tonight.

EVENT LOOMS SOCIALLY

Philip Hart to Be Best Man and Bride-elect's Six Nieces and Nephews Will Be Her Attendants.

Emily Hart Maid of Honor.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Romaine Wood, youngest daughter of Alanson D. Wood, a wealthy lumberman of Aberdeen, and Miss Wood, daughter of Henry Wessinger, of Portland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wessinger, will be solemnized tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's parents at 8:30 o'clock.

The event promises to be one of the most brilliant social functions of the year. The bride is a well-known and popular leader in society here, and is a talented and attractive young woman. She has passed practically every winter for some years in Paris studying, and traveling about the continent.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Charles McDermott, of the First Congregational Church. The bridegroom, Philip Hart, cousin of the bride, will be maid-of-honor, and Philip Hart, of Portland, brother-in-law of the bridegroom-to-be, will act as best man.

Miss Wood's six nieces and nephews will be her attendants. They are Mollie, Aull and Genevieve Green, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Green, of Portland, and Edward, Lance and Newby Green, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, of Aberdeen. A large number of relatives and friends from Portland, Raymond, Wash., and Aberdeen, Wash., will be present at the ceremony.

The bride-to-be has been feted at numerous pre-nuptial affairs and showers for weeks past.

Mr. Wessinger and his bride will make their home in Portland on Sixteenth street near Davis.

The children of the St. Agnes Baby Home at Park Place are the delighted recipients of a substantial gift of clothing, due to Louise Sheehan, Mary and Veronica McMillan, pupils of the McLoughlin Institute, of Oregon City, who personally trained a number of grade children in a series of tableaux.

The proceeds of the entertainment they purchased clothing for the orphans. They brought with them a box of dolls and enjoyed giving some of the children their first dolls. This is perhaps the most significant contribution the Sisters have ever received, coming as it does, from these young girls who possess so early in life the capacity for helping others. The Sisters of Mercy are deeply grateful for the donation which came at a most opportune time, as the supply of stockings and clothing for so large a number is never adequate.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Foster, 1155 Vancouver avenue, Saturday, at 1 o'clock, when Miss Elizabeth Wagner, nee, became the bride of Charles Thomas Ross, of Rainier, Or. The drawing-room was decorated with ferns, Autumn leaves and cosmos, the reception hall resembling a miniature forest, with Autumn leaves and potted plants where the bride party sat.

The bride was charming in her traveling suit of blue tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of carnations, which was the gift of the bridegroom. After the ceremony a buffet breakfast was served, only the immediate family being present. Mrs. Ross is a well-known Portland girl, having resided here for the past four years. Mr. and Mrs. Ross left for a trip to the Sound coast and will be at home to their many friends after November 15, at Rainier, Or.

In honor of Miss Daisy Gibson, of the Gamma Chapter of the Beta Kappa Tau sorority, of which she is a member, entertained with a matinee party at the Club on Saturday. After the marriage the guests enjoyed tea at the Hazelwood. Those enjoying with Miss Gibson the pleasure of the afternoon were Misses Sadie Hanford, Louise Walker, of Oregon City; Ann Bitzer, Adeline Bowie, Helen Templeton, Ruth Underwood, Lella McCarter and Sybil Gibson.

The Ogenors' opening party will be given Thursday evening, November 6, at Murlace Hall. The committee includes Zeta Manning, Ethel Mahony, Gertrude Kuna, Gertrude Hogan, Etta Peroutka, J. A. Kraft, B. A. Ponto, E. J. Eder, J. Kraft and P. A. Lynch. The patronesses are Mrs. F. W. Clifford, Mrs. R. L. Osborne and Mrs. Catherine Covach Frederick.

Miss Elizabeth Carson has left for California to make a short visit.

The Michigan Society of Oregon will give a Halloween party Wednesday evening at Mill street, 515 E. street. All Michigan people and their friends are invited. A dancing club is being organized to take care of the parties for the season.

Mrs. Robert Noble and Mrs. George Saylor entertained at luncheon on Monday at the Eschschur residence, Miss Ruth Church, whose wedding to Kenneth Robertson will be an event of this evening.

Another recent attractive affair for Miss Church was a luncheon of ten covers at which Miss Frances Gill presided at her home.

Complimenting Miss Saidee Lu Knapp, whose wedding to Arthur Alton Murphy will be a brilliant event of this evening, Mrs. W. A. Gellertson was hostess at a card party Friday afternoon. Attractive decorations apropos of Halloween were used throughout the house.

LADY KILTIES' BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT IN PORTLAND SUNDAY

Famous Scotch Songs and Music of Romance and Mystery as Well as Instrumental Rendition of Harry Lauder's Hits on Programme to Be Given at Hellig Theater Matinee.

THE LADY KILTIES BAND.

EVERYBODY loves old "Bobbie" Scotch songs. It is this dramatic Burns and everybody loves old music, which breathes the romance of the highland and the mystery of the dell, that has made the Anglo-Saxon world one; the kinship brought about by the singing and playing of the songs of Scotland is a kinship that can never be severed. During the great American Civil War oftentimes the boys in blue would be camped on one side of a stream, the men in gray on the other. In the evening both armies would vie with each other in singing the songs of the North and those of the South; then there would be a lull, and someone would start "Annie Laurie" or "Blue Bell." Instantly the spirit of war would be forgotten and both sides would join in the old songs that make the whole world kin.

It is these songs that the Lady Kilties Band play better than any other organization now touring America. Selections from the operas, late popular tunes, including all of Harry Lauder's hits, and famous overtures and dance music, appear on the band's programme, which will be given at the Hellig Theater next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. William A. McDougall is leader of the band, and he plays with the fire of a Bruce.

Mrs. Bernadine Palmerton, who were quaintly costumed in keeping with the Halloween spirit. Other unique and original features introduced by the hostesses were "Alpha Deltagrams" and a mock auction, which were followed by dancing until a late hour, when a delicious supper was served in a miniature Autumn forest.

Members of the Alpha Delta present were the Misses Marcelle Boulanger, Esther Dahlstrom, Craig Dawson, Clay Marion Connolly, Gertrude Kelly, Pearl Brandt, Gladys Connolly, Helga Thompson, Honoria Nelson and Haidah Skans and their guests were as follows: Misses Helen Nelson, Bertha Thompson, Dorothy Dahlstrom, Bernadine Palmerton, Messrs. Max Munsion, Paul Clossetti, Ovid Boon, John Hamilton, Arthur Pearson, Edward Pearson, Ted Hall, Victor Hunteel, Harold Gill, Harold Connolly, Bert Gill, Jack Skans, Hanford Brown, Nelson Armour, Arthur Heeden and Will Skans.

Mrs. J. W. Stingle, of Dawson City, Alaska, is visiting her sister, Mrs. O. G. Campbell.

A pleasant Halloween party was given at Mrs. and Mr. G. Campbell at their home on Tibbetts street Friday evening. Appropriate games were played and ghost stories told, after which refreshments were served. The table was decorated artistically with Halloween favors. Those present were Mrs. J. W. Stingle, Craig Dawson, Clay Marion Connolly, Gertrude Kelly, Pearl Brandt, Gladys Connolly, Helga Thompson, Honoria Nelson and Haidah Skans and their guests were as follows: Misses Helen Nelson, Bertha Thompson, Dorothy Dahlstrom, Bernadine Palmerton, Messrs. Max Munsion, Paul Clossetti, Ovid Boon, John Hamilton, Arthur Pearson, Edward Pearson, Ted Hall, Victor Hunteel, Harold Gill, Harold Connolly, Bert Gill, Jack Skans, Hanford Brown, Nelson Armour, Arthur Heeden and Will Skans.

Mrs. Simms represents the "better babies" department of the Woman's Home Companion. In writing of her work and experiences, she says that she has attended many baby contests, but in all her ocean-to-ocean trip, Jane Kanzler, the prize Portland girl, is the most wonderful child she has found.

The Portland Parent-Teachers' Association will meet in lecture room B of the Central Library tomorrow at 2 o'clock. College Head Criticized for Attacking Motion Pictures.

"I am amazed," said Melvin G. Winstock yesterday, "to find President Foster, of Reed College, joining the small procession of indiscriminate critics of motion picture entertainment."

"When he classifies the average motion picture show with dancshalls, cabaret-cafes and public amusement parks, he shows that he is either exceedingly thoughtless or that he is ignorant of the subject."

"Bad pictures are few. Obscene or vulgar pictures are no longer made. If there comes a production which is of doubtful character it receives the condemnation of the censorship boards."

"At a time when states are appropriating money for the use of pictures in public education and when colleges are utilizing them for the benefit of earnest students, it seems to me that it is a very inappropriate time for the president of a college to give utterance to such a criticism."

"Sunday in one of the largest churches in this city, a religious subject was being delivered, and I am informed that it drew the largest audience which ever crowded into that edifice."

Thousands of persons in Germany are buying steamship tickets on the installment plan, and will come to the Pacific Coast after the Panama Canal is opened in 1915, said Fred A. Jacobs, of the Fred A. Jacobs Company, last night. Mr. Jacobs has just returned from a tour of investigation of European financial conditions and particularly the English plan of selling workingmen's homes on installments.

"In all the towns I visited," he declared, "the people showed a great interest in the country. They have a surprising knowledge of it, too."

"Lloyd-George, in a speech a few days ago, declared that the English government must furnish homes to the working people at a moderate expense. I was much interested in the back-to-the-soil movement in England. You know there are 500,000 fewer farmers in England than there were 50 years ago."

"It is an interesting fact that there are 200 towns in Germany that pay no taxes."

Mr. Jacobs visited France, England, Germany, Scotland and Belgium.

Youths Get Short Terms.

Earl Smith and Bert Jackson, each 20 years old, received sentences of only six months each in the County Jail Monday on a charge of robbing the Anlauf postoffice, because they really did not intend to commit the robbery, but yielded to temptation after entering the store to buy some tobacco. They pleaded guilty before Judge Wolvorton in United States District Court, and District Attorney Reames recommended leniency.

INFORMER IS ARRESTED

AFTER FILING CHARGE WOMAN HELD FOR VAGRANCY.

Accusation of Disorderly Conduct Against Women in Hart Hotel Reacts.

For the first time in nearly three years that she has maintained houses of uncertain repute in Portland, Annie Gellette, known in police circles as a stool-pigeon, faced a court Monday, when she appeared before Municipal Judge Stevenson, charged with vagrancy. Her case was set for Thursday.

The arrest of the Gellette woman came shortly after she had made a similar complaint against Marie Hawkins, the Gellette woman, Marie Hawkins and Jennie "Buff all live in the Hart Hotel, at Fifth and Burnside streets, where Mrs. Hawkins also keeps a 5-month-old baby. Late Saturday night the Gellette woman, who had been a source of considerable information to the police, informed Police Sergeant Harris and Captain Riley that Mrs. Hawkins was living in a disorderly manner in the house, and she also involved Mrs. H. Anderson, proprietor of the place. Both were arrested, and when they were lodged in jail they started a return fire of information against Mrs. Gellette.

Mrs. Gellette gave additional information to the police Sunday night, and declared so emphatically that the place in which she was living was a disorderly house that Captain Riley ordered her arrest as a vagrant, under the city ordinance which says that an inmate of a disorderly house is a vagrant.

Mrs. Gellette immediately called up Police Captain Glover on the telephone, asking him to furnish bail. This he failed to do, but an attorney who soon appeared promised Municipal Judge Stevenson that he would in jail the two women in court, and they were released.

Mrs. Gellette's reputed hold upon the police of the last administration was considered so strong that when Rena Moorman, a friend of hers, was arrested for disorderly conduct in the South Portland confectionery of Patrolman P. C. Anderson, she was immediately released, her name expunged

PRAYER FIGURES IN COURT

Fight Over Effects Held for Room Rent Is Ended.

A framed copy of the Lord's prayer and her marriage certificate figured strongly in a fight which Julia A. Mason, formerly residing at the Yamhill House, Park and Yamhill streets, has been waging for several days to get possession of goods which she says she left in the place two years ago, and which ended yesterday.

Mrs. Mason first applied for a search warrant in the District Court, alleging that Julia R. Millard, living at Sixty-fifth avenue and Sixty-second street, had the goods in her possession. She alleged that when she left the Yamhill House two years ago she left the trunk in lieu of a board bill, and that in the several interchanges of management since that time the trunk was taken home by Mrs. Millard when Mrs. Millard disposed of the lodging-house.

She also swore out a similar warrant in Municipal Court, and Patrolman Miller served the warrant.

Of the list of articles which she enumerated he found only one bedspread. This Judge Stevenson returned to Mrs. Millard after he had heard the case, saying it was little, in the face of the balance of $15 on the bill. The framed prayer, marriage certificate and other goods, it was testified, had been returned to Mrs. Mason since she began suit.

His invitation to her to join the party through Idaho came Sunday and Miss Joyce left immediately. Miss Joyce has been in charge this year of the Winter school garden work at Woodlawn and in the past seasons has been one of the leading spirits in the garden work of that school.
