

WOMEN TO ADOPT BUDGET SYSTEM

Suffrage Convention to Attack Financial Side of Ob-taining Ballot.

PROGRESS IS EMPHASIZED

Members Note That 3,600,000 of Sex Have Been Enfranchised Since Susan B. Anthony Began Her Work in 1849.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—To convince members of Congress and the people that woman suffrage has passed the stage of academic discussion and become a live political issue, is one of the most important things that the women hope to accomplish by the National suffrage convention which will be held here from November 29 to December 5. A Constitutional amendment granting the vote to the women of the United States is asked. As a first step toward success they have considerable hopes of obtaining a committee of the House on woman suffrage.

Chairman Henry, of the House committee on rules, has announced a continuous hearing on the question will be held before his committee beginning Tuesday, December 2, and lasting as long as anyone has anything to say on either side.

Money Question Important.
Next to the establishment of the committee the burning question before the convention is how to raise enough money to carry on its work. The demands on the National organization are increasing rapidly, and it is hoped that the gathering of the women will be financially successful. The women hope to accomplish this by means of a new constitution which a committee, of which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt is chairman, has been working for some months. They will provide for an annual budget, and the convention will be held financially responsible for its budget, while every member of the association will be assessed 10 cents a year, instead of each small association's paying a certain sum.

This is the 45th National convention which has been held in the interests of woman suffrage, and one thing that the women will emphasize is the progress which those 45 years have shown. They will recall the first appeal made to Congress for votes for women in 1849 by Susan B. Anthony, who continued to address committees of every Congress from that year until 1906.

Question Becomes Practical.
They will point out that since Susan B. Anthony began her work, 3,600,000 women have become qualified to vote for Presidential electors, while women are already voting in that elect one-fifth of the Senate and one-seventh of the House. During the past year there were 47 suffrage victories in Oregon, Kansas, Arizona, Alaska and Illinois.

With so many women enfranchised the suffrage question is becoming a highly practical one, especially for Representatives and Senators. Those from equal suffrage states either become quickly converted to the cause, or speak of the subject with the utmost care. It is no longer a question only of abstract justice, but a factor in the political game.

The suffrage leaders contend that developments in the last year show that their hopes for a constitutional amendment are well founded. They believe that the adoption of the income tax and the direct election of Senators amendments—which are the 16th and 17th, respectively—show that the demand for change has been aroused and they are almost confident that the 18th amendment will be passed.

In addition to urging constitutional amendment, the suffragists believe that they will accomplish more in the states by their work in the head of the state in any other way. They intend to organize by Congressional districts, thereby bringing pressure to bear on each member of Congress, and to help toward obtaining amendments to state constitutions as well as in the fight for a Federal amendment.

CHILDREN WILL BE TESTED
Backward and Talented Pupils to Be Subjects of Study.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—The holding of a clinic for examination of exceptional children, under the direction of the department of education of the University of Oregon, was announced yesterday at a meeting of the teachers of the city at their usual Saturday meeting.

It is the intention of Professor Fred C. Ayer, who is in charge of the department, to study both the backward pupil and the pupil of marked talent. The work is to be taken up as a part of the instruction in the university, using the schools of Eugene as a laboratory for the tests.

The actual operation of the clinic will enter about a series of physical and mental examinations, but will include also data from the child's school record and from the home or developmental history.

The mental tests will include those for perception, discrimination, memory, imagination, interest, association, judgment and ingenuity.

Dates for the first of the clinics have not yet been set.

FOSSOR FOR PRISON REFORM
Governor Says Men Sentenced Should Be Able to Aid Families.

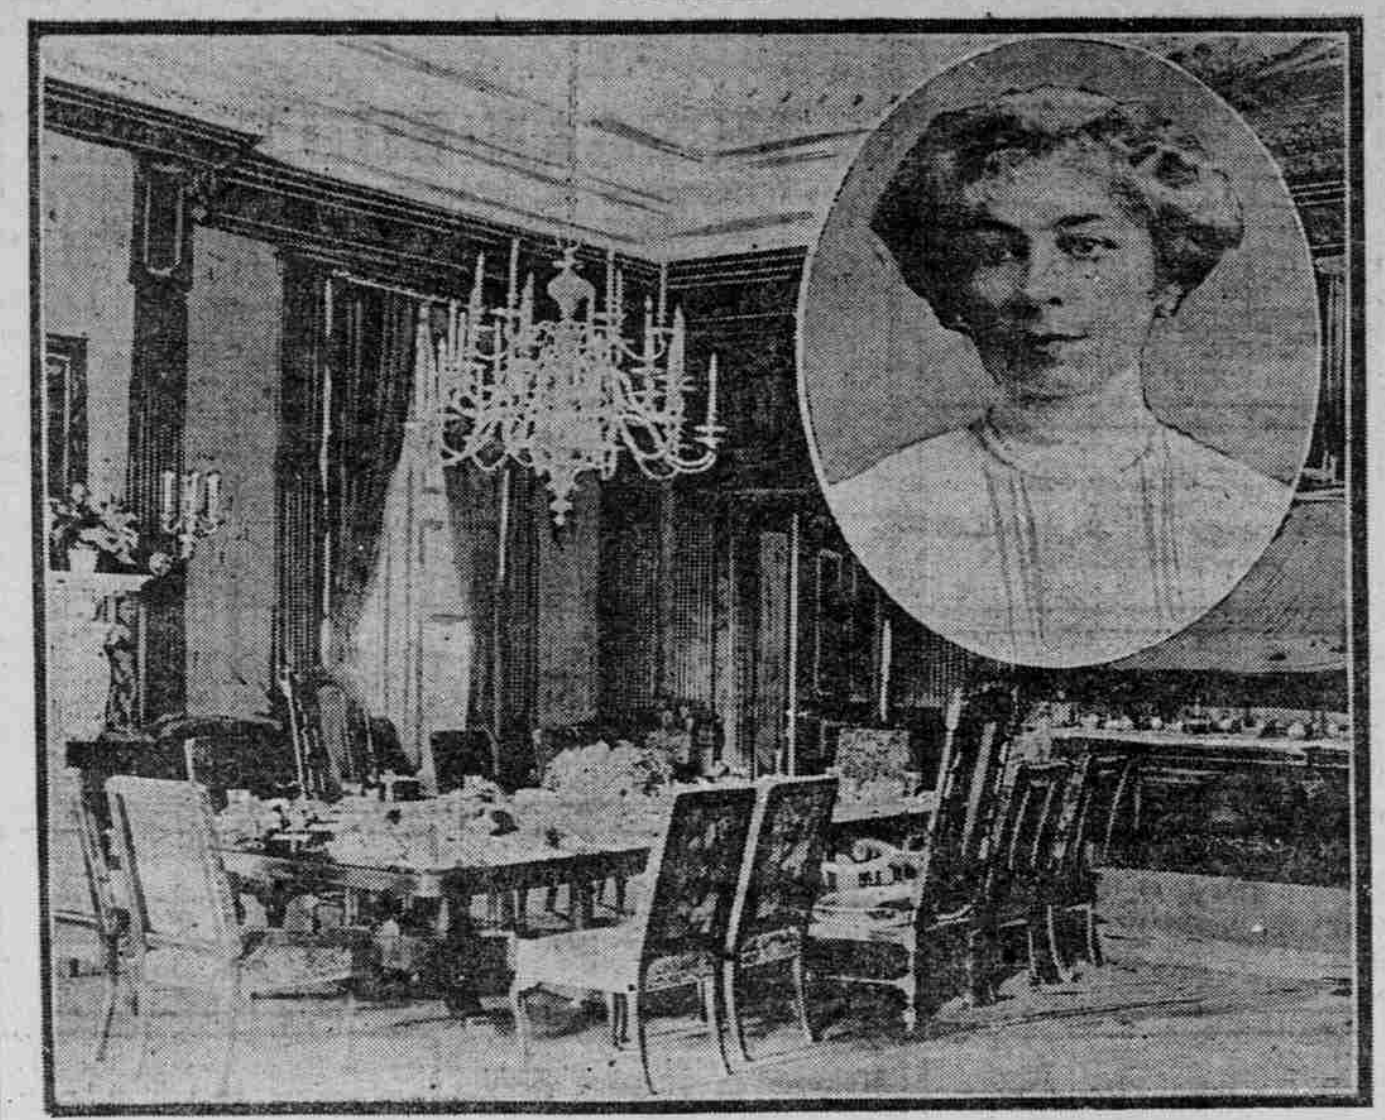

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—"Out of 20,000 sentences each year to Massachusetts jails and prisons, approximately 10,000 are not for any crime whatever, but only for poverty," said Governor Foss, in a statement issued tonight. "This happens," he continued, "because the law has permitted judges to throw into jail persons who are too poor to pay small fines."

The Governor announced he would devote considerable time to prison reform upon his retirement from office. He urged that every man sent to jail should have an opportunity to earn money for the support of his family.

VAUDEVILLE ACTION BIG
English Concern Asks $3,000,000 Damages as Result of Trust.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Charges of conspiracy to monopolize the production of vaudeville in this country and in Canada are made in a suit filed in the United States District Court against the United Booking Offices of America, the Central Vaudeville Promotion Company, Benjamin F. Keith, A. Paul Keith, Frederick P. Proctor, Edward F. Albee, John J. Murdock, Morris Meyerfeld, Jr., and Martin Beck.

The plaintiff in the action is H. B. Marinelli, Ltd., a London corporation, with branch offices in this city, Paris and Berlin, which is engaged in the business of arranging itineraries for vaudeville performers. Through its attorney, former United States Attorney Henry A. Wise, the plaintiff asks damages of $3,000,000 under the Sherman law, on the ground that its business was ruined by the discriminative acts of the defendants.

The plaintiff asserts that on August 1, 1913, the defendants banded together to increase rates of about 10 per cent. The plaintiff asks that the commission be extended to other carriers to increase rates on all classes of freight.

The prisoner was brought to North Bend by Deputy Sheriff Willard and bound over to the Superior Court by George H. Mead, Justice of the Peace, in the sum of $1000. He will be taken to the King County jail tomorrow morning.

"WETS" TO AMEND ACTION
Oregon City Men Granted Time to Attack Court Order.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—The saloons were granted 10 days in which to amend their complaint in the Circuit Court asking for an injunction against County Judge Anderson.

The "wets" had asked the court to prevent the County Judge from declaring the result of the last election, at which Oregon City voted "dry." The application was filed 45 minutes after the order was entered. The "wets" now have to ask the court for an order setting aside the order of the lower court and argument will be heard some time after the 10-day period has expired.

The average length of life, it is stated, rose from 21 1/2 years in the 10th century to 80 1/2 years in the 19th century.

RATE HEARING OPEN

TESTIMONY MAY GO OVER

Death of Commissioner Marble, Expiration of Clements' Term and Transfer of Prouty May Indicate Postponement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Interstate Commerce Commission will begin tomorrow a hearing on the proposed freight rate increases of approximately 5 per cent filed October 15 last by railroads in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers.

A parole bureau in connection with each of the state reformatories was another change advocated. Men released on parole, he said, were too often thrown back into their old habits through the neglect of the state. A bureau to find employment for them and exercise a certain amount of supervision over their actions, he thought, would keep many of these unfortunates in the path of rectitude.

GOOD ARGUMENTS GIVEN
PLEAS FOR OREGON INDUSTRIES PROVE TO BE EXCELLENT.

Principal Reason Cited in Oregonian Contest Is Buyers Indirectly Receive Dividends.

Hosts of excellent reasons are being given for loyalty to home industries by the contestants in The Oregonian essay contest. The principal argument advanced is that, all things being equal, Oregonians should buy Oregon made goods because by so doing they not only get the worth of their money, but actual, even if indirect, dividends in the way of increased property valuations and greater general prosperity for the state.

This contest, which will be repeated every month for a year, is open to all boys and girls of Oregon less than 16 years old. Cash prizes of $5, $2 and three prizes of $1 each will be given each month, or $150 during the year. Essays must not be more than 200 words long and should be brought to the Home Industry Department, Oregonian, not later than 5 P. M. on the last Friday of each month. The writers are asked to mention the things that are made in Oregon which are used in their homes. This pertains especially to food articles, such as breakfast foods, canned goods, coffee, etc. Mention the brand by name.

REFORMATORY PLEA MADE
Judge Stevenson Says Courts Are Restricted in Handling Criminals.

A state home for the treatment of inebriates whose cases are not hopeless, an industrial home for offenders who are not vicious, but cannot safely be paroled, the establishment of a morals court for trying violations of moral laws and the rigid quarantine of communicable diseases were recommended by Municipal Judge Stevenson in his lecture on "The Courts and Criminals" at the First Unitarian Church, Seventh and Yamhill streets, last night.

After tracing the changes made in dealing with old offenders and youths Judge Stevenson dwelt briefly on the causes of crime, attributing an enormous percentage of offenses either directly or indirectly to the use of intoxicating liquors, environment and impulse.

Because the Sellwood precinct in which it is situated went "dry" at the last election it is probable that the Mount Hood brewery will be closed down, says Paul Wessinger, head of the Weinhard brewery, which owns more than 50 per cent of the stock of the Mount Hood concern.

MORE SCHOOLS UNCLEAN
Many in Three Counties Are Insanitary Is Charge.

Mrs. Katherine Kelly, school inspector for the State Board of Health, reported in person to Health Officer White yesterday on an inspection of the rural schools of Jackson, Josephine and Deschutes counties, to which she had devoted three weeks. She had a lamentable report to make of the majority of the rural schools, but her tour was not without its bright spots, conspicuous among which was a certain little mountain school in Josephine County, which was taught by a young girl, Miss Bretherton, who was a graduate from the Washington High School, of Portland, last year.

The wages of the chauffeurs of the United States total more than those of school teachers.
