MISS ILLINGTON'S VIEWS ARE VOICED BY HUSBAND

Enchanting Actress Yearns to Leave Behind Her Monument of Having Excelled in Shakespearean Roles.

MARGARET ILLINGTON, WHO IS STARRING IN "WITHIN THE LAW."

BY LEONE CASS BAER. MARGARET ILLINGTON, of New York, Chicago and all points West, says she thinks we will have a fine town if we ever get it finished.

"I read that the buildings are exceedingly high and that you put up one a day, but I haven't seen them. I dare not stop to look up at them or I'll fall into some of the graves that are being dug in the streets."

I interviewed the marvellously clever Miss Illington yesterday. That is, correctly speaking, I interviewed Mr. Edward Boyes, who travels with his wife on her starring tour in "Within the Law."

The lovely, lissome and I give you my word—absolutely charming Miss Illington sat by and said, "Yes, Eddie," "No, Eddie," or "That's what I think, too, dear," whenever punctuation was permitted.

She is really in hopes I could get a close, intimate study of this complex Illington creature with the tremendous emotions and positive genius for depicting thieves, but even a genius is handicapped in conversation when a husband sits on the threshold of word exchanges and snipes up every blessed bit of chatter that escapes.

It's just as discouraging as when you chase in the kitchen way to some neighbor woman's to talk over a corner cover pattern or the new baby, and find her husband warming his feet in the kitchen oven. Last year and the year before it was exactly the same. Her hand would hold his ear to the key-hole of interviews, because last year he owned the show, "Kindling," and was new to the theatrical business. Besides, I reckon he thought I'd go away and misquote somebody.

Show "Owned" by Selwyn. This year a chap we haven't any of us met, Archie Selwyn—a brother-in-law of Margaret Mayo, a Gervais product—owns "Within the Law"; owns it body and soul, too, from the advance man to the paste that sticks the big pictures of Miss Illington on the boards.

By a juggling method known only to her husband, she has been able to stay right on with this great big crook drama, "With the Law," for two weeks. Margaret, she plays the role of Mary Turner and also she understands ranged. Every community in Douglas County will send an especially large delegation, as each point in the county has been personally visited by a special committee of 20 representative men and women from Roseburg, Eugene, Cottage Grove, Junction City, Springfield and other points, and used large delegations. The Southern Pacific is making an effort to put on a special train from Albany south. The Salem delegation will join that from Portland. The people of Oregon are determined to stop a large portion of the travel in this state and not have it all go through Oregon, with the only stop at Portland.

It is becoming generally felt that the proposed exhibit of Oregon products at Ashland will be a most important factor in bringing about this result.

Officers of the Northern Pacific railway will gather at Tacoma, next Saturday evening to tender a banquet to Henry Blakely, general Western freight agent, who has been promoted to the office of general freight agent at St. Paul, and H. E. Still, who succeeds him. P. H. Fogarty, assistant general freight agent, and W. H. Ormsby, traveling freight agent in Portland, will attend. Traffic officials in various cities and towns in the Northwest also will be present.

Mr. Blakely's promotion is an indirect result of the recent election of Howard Elliott as president of the Northern Pacific. J. M. Hannaford, vice-president in charge of traffic, succeeded Mr. Elliott; J. G. Woodworth, traffic manager, succeeded Mr. Hannaford; J. B. Baird, general freight agent, succeeded Mr. Woodworth; Mr. Blakely succeeded Mr. Baird; Mr. Still, who succeeded Mr. Blakely, was assistant general freight agent at St. Paul.

Mrs. Alfred J. Larson is a candidate for the office of Mayor of Troutdale. She will contest the election with E. S. Edmondson, whom the Sheriff tried to oust, but who remained in office. The remainder of the tickets are as follows: Recorder, Jean Larson and G. C. Bates; Treasurer, L. Kummer; Councilmen, Herman Blaser, E. R. Jennings, L. Russell, R. A. Dodson and F. Fox; three to be elected; Marshal, George Richardson and James Monahan. Mr. Dodson is 80 years of age.

Indications are that Portland will send a strong representative delegation to the development convention in Roseburg Thursday, judging from reports brought in by the members of the special committee on the excursion, which met at the Commercial Club yesterday at luncheon to discuss plans for Portland's representation. Members of the committee, all of whom were present, are: O. M. Clarke, A. H. Devers, Paul De Haas, W. L. Crissey, G. F. Johnson, C. W. Stinger, John M. Scott, Tom Richardson and W. B. Gliske.

Despite the fact that this was the first meeting of the committee, some of the members had been doing advance work and had 11 signatures in hand. One of the most popular things about this trip is that every minute of daylight will be given to work and only one day will be lost from business. The train leaving the Union Depot at Portland at 8:15 P. M. Wednesday gives opportunity of going to bed early and on arrival at Roseburg the sleepers will be sidetracked and delegates can take their time in rising and breakfast at leisure.

The Roseburg depot is near the business center and the train leaves at 11:15 P. M. for Portland, but if anyone wishes to retire earlier he may do so. Portland is to be reached at 7:20 A. M. Friday. The round-trip rate, including lower berth, is $11.45; upper berth, $10.75. Large delegations will be present from Ashland north to Roseburg, as a special train at a low rate has been ar-

EVENING SHOPPING TO BE TOLERATED

Concession Made by Welfare Commission on Showing of Big Department Stores.

SEVEN DAYS' LEEWAY GIVEN

Four Saturdays and Three Nights Before Christmas Women May Work Until 10 P. M., Then Orders Will Be Effective.

Permission was granted yesterday by the Industrial Welfare Commission for women employed in Portland stores to work until 9 P. M. for the four Saturdays before Christmas, including today, and for the three nights just before Christmas. Other days prior to Christmas women may work in the stores only until 8 P. M., in accordance with the Commission's recent six-week order.

The Commission modified its previous ruling that no women should work in Portland stores after 6 P. M. This arrangement was effected following the appearance before the Commission yesterday of George W. Joseph, representing four department stores—the Meier & Frank Company, Olds' Worthman & King, Lipman, Wolfe & Company and Holtz, Roberts Brothers' store was not represented, but will abide by the results of the conference.

The Commission modified its previous stand in consideration of the following arguments, as presented by Mr. Joseph. The department stores have bought heavily of holiday goods, which the public by long habit is accustomed to buy at late hours just before Christmas. The Commission modified its ruling to effect at a time just before the holiday shopping season, and the public not accustomed to the changed conditions, the stores would be liable to heavy loss in unsold goods.

It was urged by Mr. Joseph that the holiday season is not an advantageous time to begin to train the public to do its shopping early, and that it is the period at which it would be most difficult to reorganize the working forces of the stores to meet the changed conditions.

The five stores named are willing to abide by the ruling of the Commission limiting women to eight hours and 45 minutes work each day and will arrange their schedule accordingly. The Commission is pleased to receive this voluntary co-operation from the larger stores," said Chairman O'Hara last night, "and is gratified that it has been able to reach an agreement which relieves department store women from working 10 hours a day during the holiday rush."

The Commission also said that the larger stores have agreed to have no women work later than 7 P. M. after January 1, which means that they will quit work at 6 P. M. after that date. The Commission had ordered for the five months prior to May 23, when the 6 o'clock ruling becomes effective.

HOLSTEINS ARE BID UP

Eighty head bring $37,000 at auction at Granger, Wash. Dr. Wetherby, of Portland, One of Buyers of Registered Stock at Sale of Davis and Marks Herds.

Thirty-seven thousand dollars for 80 head of registered Holsteins sums up the result of the Davis and Marks auction sale at Granger, Wash., Monday, when all the H. C. Davis herd was sold and a small consignment from the Marks herd was put under the hammer. The sale is pronounced by livestock experts one of the most successful ever held and is regarded as a convincing illustration of the rapidly growing popularity of the black and white breed on the Western Coast.

The largest record holder in the sale was bought by J. C. Roberts, owner of Daybreak Farm, at Battle Ground, Wash., for $825. This heifer, Countess Louisa Zoza, has a senior 2-year-old record of more than 23 pounds of butter in seven days. In the same sale the Municipal Civil Service Commission, Dr. J. R. Wetherby of Portland, who is operating a 1000-acre ranch in Curry County, was one of the discriminating buyers, his purchases including a $400 granddaughter of the sire King Segis, and a yearling bull of excellent breeding and individuality, to be given a place at the head of the Star Ranch herd.

Herman McKenzie, of Silverton, bought the $200 calf from the Roberts herd. Other buyers were Frank Hatch, Modesto, Cal.; the Munro Company, of Spokane; Royce, of Seattle; Jansson, of Seattle; Johnson, of Colorado; Hubbard, of Mount Vernon; Mr. Richards, who paid $1175 for a 2-year-old daughter of King of the Pontiacs; and Mr. Moore. Mr. Marks paid the highest price of any purchaser, one of the Davis cows going to him for $200. It was understood that he was not financially interested in any of the animals offered by Mr. Davis and his purchases from the herd were made for his own benefit.

E. M. Hastings, of Lacona, N. Y., editor of the Sale Catalogue, was present and acted in the capacity of sale manager. George A. Gue, of Battle Ground, Wash., was the auctioneer, assisted by Limburger, of Yakima; Hughes, Ehoton and Williams.

WOMAN SEEKS MAYORALTY

ROYAL The Standard for Baking Powders the World Over is an Absolutely Pure, Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. CREAM OF TARTAR is the crystallized acid of grapes refined to absolute purity and ground to a creamy flour. It is declared by physicians the most wholesome of all fruit acids, and has been proved by long and universal experience the most efficient and satisfactory for baking purposes. Highly refined products of the grape, properly combined with bicarbonate of soda and a little corn starch to absorb atmospheric moisture, are the sole ingredients of the ideal, high-class, standard baking powder. Many acids have been tried during the last hundred years to find a substitute for the grape cream of tartar which would cost less. In recent years alum, which makes a baking powder at a cost of two cents a pound, has been used because of its trifling cost. Alum, however, has been disapproved by scientific chemists and physicians and is not employed by manufacturers of high-class powders. Cream of tartar powders being healthful themselves, add to the healthfulness of the food.

him charging him with being off duty without leave. A petition by ex-Patrolman H. A. Foster for a place on the eligible list of the fire department was rejected. Arrangements were made for a meeting of the commission Monday night, at which the case of C. G. Murphy, ex-meterman of the water department, will be disposed of finally.

AFTER SICKNESS OR OPERATION It is a pathetic mistake to accept drugs or alcoholic mixtures when nature craves nourishment to repair the wasted body and restore the vigor of health. For forty years the best physicians have relied on the wholesome predigested nourishment in SCOTT'S EMULSION which is totally free from alcohol or opiates. Scott's Emulsion sharpens the appetite—renews blood—nourishes nerves—strengthens bones and restores the courage of health to make life bright. Scott's Emulsion sets in action the very forces that promote health. Its purity, richness and strength has stood the test of forty years.

OLD CASE TO BE SETTLED

Final Decision to Be Made Regarding C. G. Murphy, ex-Meterman.

City employees who are reinstated in the service after resignation are to serve a probationary period of six months hereafter, the same as persons entering the service, was decreed by the Municipal Civil Service Commission yesterday. New appointees serve six months and can be removed at any time without right of appeal to the Civil Service Commission. The commission refused a petition filed by ex-Patrolman C. A. Wylie, asking for a reopening of the case against
