ANGLERS READY TO WAR WITH WEST

Commissioner Kinney Warden Finley Said to Be Due for Dismissal.

GOVERNOR'S ACTS SCORED

Charge Made by Multnomah Fishermen Executive Standing in With Predatory Fishing Interests. Clanton Also Criticised.

What had been announced as a routine session of the Mulinoman Anglers' Club, incidental to a statewide organization of sportsmen, developed into a boiling, seething demonstration last night when F. L. Perkins, a director of the club, announced that Governor West had filed charges against M. J. Kinney, a member of the State Fish and Game Commission, and that Kinney likely would be railroaded out of of-

Immediately Governor West became the target of a rain of bitter expletives, and war to the death was declared by the three score sportsmen present in the convention-room at the Commercial Club.

That Governor West is standing in with the predatory fishermen; that Master Fish Warden Clanton is incom-petent; that Governor West refused to reappoint C. K. Cranston to the board because of the political domination of the commercial fishermen, and that millions of trout eggs and salmon fry have been lost this year because of gross carelessness and ignorance at the Bonneville hatchery, were but a few of the charges made public.

Finley Belleved Marked. It was also intimated that as soon as the Scufert-Warren interests of The Dalles cause the removal of Kinney, who is said to be the last remaining friend of the sportsmen on the State Fish and Game Commission, the knife will be applied to W. L. Finley, State Game Warden. As a result of the mass of evidence filed with H. B. Van Duzer, president of the Angiers' Club, John Gill moved for a complete checking of Master Fish Warden Clanton for the year. Mr. Gill's motion was given enthusiastic in-dersament.

Clanton will be asked to submit a complete report of all trout eggs and salmon fry placed in the hatchery and his report will be compared with a check on the fish turned over to Game Warden Finley for distribution in state dreams. The difference, if any, will

Lax Methods Charged.

"We have it on reliable authority that lax handling on Clanton's part has resulted in the destruction of 600,000 Eastern brook trout eggs and of 500,000 estellhead eggs," declared Lester Humphreys, acting secretary. "And," he added, "it is further charged that a majority of 12,000,000 salmon fry were starved and crowded to death at Bonneville."

President Van Duzer supported this assertion prefacing the call for a state-wide convention of rod and gun clubs, to be held in Portland about January as follows:

The Oregon anglers and sportsmen chises, even with a life of 25 years were deliberately double-crossed by Master Fish Warden Clanton at the last Legislative session at Salem, and it is up to us to fight for our rights.

"At present the commercial fisher-men absolutely dominate the Commis-sion, which is being used merely as a political tool of the Governor. As in-dividuals I respect the members of the Board, but their actions as a body have been very obnoxious. been very obnoxious.

"If we cannot organize and exert such pressure as to bring about an amelioration of present conditions, then I am in favor of making the State Board an elective directorate."

Cranston Has Suspicions. E. K. Cranston, former chairman of see Board, who was refused reappointthe Board, who was refused reappoint-ment by Governor West, attributed his downfall to hostility to Clanton, and the control of the commercial inter-"The storm broke over Bert Green-man, superintendent of the Bonneville hatchery," said Mr. Cranston. "He had urged that the net fishermen be ex-cluded from the pot holes below the Oregon City falls and had otherwise incurred the enmity of the West-Schuebel-Clanton faction. Schnebel-Clanton faction.

"I stuck for Greenman but the other three voted Mr. Kinney and myself down and Clanton fired him. Now, Mr. Kinney is kicking over the incompetence at the hatchery and he has received a polite note from the Governor that he is a nuisance and that he is standing in with the Deeme Elevenish standing in with the Rogue River fishing interests. He will have a hearing

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.) — Charges that the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company and the Southern Pacific Railway Company are backing the opposition to the Carr and the Clackamas Southern franhises in the city flew about the Coun-l chamber tonight. Attorneys for oth of the lines that have asked a franchise in the city declared that the real opposition to the proposed roads came from the lines now doing bus-iness here and that they were support-ing the property owners along Water street in the kick that has been regis-tered with the Council.

Both roads also repeated their threats to withdraw from the field if the Council tried to make them spend several thousand dollars in the improvement of the street along which their tracks would be laid. Part of Water street runs in the river and the Council has talked of tacking the provisions on the franchises that will force the companies to build a retaining wail and fill in with earth within a specified time during the life of their contracts with the city.

In the matter of Captain Balley, these are the facts:

With the exception of two police officers, all of Balley's accusers gave their affidavits willingly and voluntarily. This evidence I submitted to the grand jury, and Captain Balley and Sergeant Cole were indicted. In the case of the two officers referred to, I called them in and accused them of having some knowledge of the affair. They first denied it, but later told me I was right, they did know something, and made affidavits to that effect. I promised them that I would do all I could to save them from trouble.

Later I brought charges against Captain Balley before the police committee, the Mayor himself bringing charges against Cole. I did ask a number of officers to tell me anything they knew of Balley's misconduct to which they were willing to testify, but only wanted the truth, and if they could get enything on Balley, and by fair means. I would be glad to get it. I hold in my possession this day a number of originals and copies of affidavits concerning the Balley and Cole case,
