PARSONS IS CAPTAIN

Star Halfback at Oregon to Head Team in 1914.

PLACE IS WON ON MERIT

New Leader Is Veteran of Game and Played in Championship Squad of Washington High—Choice Is Approved in Portland.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Dec. 1.—(Special.)—John P. Parsons, Oregon's star right halfback, was elected captain of the 1914 football team today at a meeting of Coach Bendick's regulars. Only the 12 players who have earned their letters that past season were eligible to vote. A secret ballot was taken, Parsons receiving a majority on the first count.

Not only does the fact that Parsons will be a senior in college next fall qualify him for the honor, but his work the past two seasons has made him a logical choice. He was by all odds the greatest ground-gainer on the team, and was picked as all-Northwest halfback both years.

The new leader obtained his first football experience in Salem's "Kid" conference. Later he went to Skingway, Alaska, and returned to Salem in 1908 unheralded as a gridiron hero. Richardson, captain of the local high school eleven, recalled how Parsons had shown on the back lots and induced him to join the squad. Parsons scintillated for Salem that season, and in 1909 jumped to Lincoln High School, of Seattle, the team winning the Sound championship. The following year Parsons again changed camps, playing with the Washington High School champions, of Portland.

During the summer of 1911 Parsons contracted typhoid fever in Alaska, and after a hard siege he entered Oregon in the fall. Fat but fragile after his illness, Parsons failed to show the class which had earned him prep school fame, although he worked out with Warner's squad. His performances since then, however, need no comment.

Parsons is registered from Portland, is 22 years old, five feet nine inches tall, weighs 160 pounds and is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Parsons' election as captain of the University of Oregon football team is approved by Portland followers of the game. Parsons' work with the university team the past two years was spectacular, and as captain of the team he should continue to shine. He starred at Washington High School, and was a member of the team that played the Oak Park High, of Chicago, three years ago.

tion. Both coaches have had the squads out for practice daily and tonight will find both eleven indulging in signal workouts.

Several of the best young players in the lightweight section are playing on the two teams and a fast and exciting game is likely. Hugh Boyd will officiate as referee with the other officials to be chosen later.

The teams probably will line up as follows:

Widgerman	R.T.R.	Thayer

TOMAN MAY NOT GO

Jones Admits Umpire Likely to Remain in Northwest.

ANOTHER SHIFT RUMORED

Cleveland Writer Says Hagerman Will Go With Rodgers and Ty Lober to Naps—Bill James Confirms Transfer Tale.

While Fielder Jones, president of the Northwestern League, refuses to divulge his appointments of umpires for 1914 until after the annual league meeting, he virtually admitted yesterday that Jimmy Toman would be back again.

Toman was supposed to go to the National League in the Spring, Jones having arranged a deal with Thomas J. Lynch, but Lynch's determination in favor of Tener likely will spoil Toman's well-laid plans.

"If Toman doesn't go up I will be glad to get him back," admitted President Jones last night, as he boarded the train for San Francisco to attend the Pacific Coast League meeting, December 3.

Among other Northwestern officials in the party were D. E. Dugdale, of Seattle; F. C. Parr, of Spokane; Nick Williams, manager of the Portland Northwesterners, and W. W. McCredie, owner of the Portland clubs. W. W. McCredie, Portland Coast manager, also accompanied.

A strenuous effort will be made to persuade the Coastiers to give the Northwestern League another year or two in Portland.

According to Ed Bang, Cleveland writer, a deal is on for the transfer of three Portland players to the Naps. The three mentioned are Hagerman, Rodgers and Lober.

"What lends color to the story is that the Naps can use another right-handed batter in the outfield," says Bang in the current issue of Sporting Life. "Manager Birmingham is the only right-handed hitter on the Nap roster at present and Lober is a right-handed swifter."

"As for Bill Rodgers: Well, everyone knows that Nap Lajoie cannot go on forever playing second base and it's far better to be prepared when the end of Lajoie's playing days come than to do a lot of hurrying and scurrying around in search of a keystone performer."

"But when one talks of the big Frenchman quitting baseball one is talking a long chance, for the King wasn't such a bad performer during the past season. In 127 games he batted .335. Lajoie struck out far fewer times than any other batsman. He went down by that route exactly 17 times."

If Ty Lober's job at Cleveland depends on his batting right-handed the blond will stay there about as long as a mosquito camps on a hot baksover. Not only does Ty bat left-handed, but he throws from the same side, talks from the port side of his mouth and does everything else in the left-handedest manner possible.

Bang says that Hagerman's switch seems assured, for Cleveland needs another right-handed pitcher. Bill James, before departing for Los Angeles the other night, wagered a new hat that Hagerman would go to the Naps. James said he was on the inside of the deal.

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Joseph J. Lannin, who is negotiating for a half interest in the Boston American League baseball club, is to be president of the club if the pending transaction is completed. John I. Taylor, who, with his father, General Charles H. Taylor, owns the other half of the stock, will continue as vice-president.

The retirement of President McAleer, Secretary McRoy and Jake Stahl, ex-manager, from ownership interest in the club is said on good authority to have been effected through the sale of their stock to Lannin for upward of $200,000.

MERCURY GIVEN BY ERROR

Girl Prepares 50-Grain Draught for Her Mother for Medicine.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Leah Fortell, midwife, 40 years old, of the Bronx, swallowed one of the largest quantities of bichloride of mercury ever reported—50 grains.

The same operation which has been attempted in two other women's cases recently, that of sipping the covering of the kidneys to relieve the constriction caused by the mercury, was performed upon Mrs. Fortell.

After several nights without sleep, nursing a patient, Mrs. Fortell stretched out on a couch in the living-room of her home with a headache.

"Louise," she called to her little girl, 9 years old, "come and get mamma some medicine."

When the child stood by her Mrs. Fortell said:

"Go into my bedroom, Louise, and open my medicine chest. Take the bottle of cough lozenges and put five of them in a cup of hot water. When they are dissolved bring it to me."

After a time the child came running with the steaming cup and the mother drank it at a draught. Instantly Mrs. Fortell was seized with agonizing pains. She tried to rise from the couch, but fell in a heap. She staggered up. The frightened child ran and came back with the bottle, a blue label, which had contained five 10-grain tablets.

Dr. Washington Hunt, 1249 Simpson street, rushed his patient to Lebanon Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Teboldt, 32 1852 Second avenue, suffering from indigestion of mercury poisoning, was removed to the prison ward at Bellevue Hospital, charged with attempted suicide. She had been ill and despondent.

Mrs. Helen Janin, of Staten Island, has practically recovered after an operation to relieve the kidneys of traces of bichloride and soon will leave the hospital. Mrs. Agnes Pleasants is in Fordham Hospital after a similar operation and has hopes of recovery.

Nelson Is Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Fred K. Nielson, of Omaha, Neb., was today appointed an assistant solicitor of the State Department, with authority to act as solicitor in the absence of Solicitor Folk. He has been in the State Department since 1904.

A law to prohibit persons from crossing streets except at intersections and the establishment of a public safety committee is suggested by Corner Hoffman, of Chicago, to stop the increase in accidents in that city.

'JACK THE RIPPER' HERE

WOMAN'S GARMENTS CUT BY MAN WHILE IN THEATER.

Slashing of Clothes of Fairer Sex About Year Ago Is Duplicated by Recent Offender.

A new "Jack the Ripper" has appeared in Portland and signaled his appearance Sunday night by slitting the skirt of a young woman while in a local theater. The young woman, whose identity is withheld by the police, did not notice the action until she arrived home after the show, when she found that two long rips had been cut in her skirt and undergarments.

According to her story, vouchered for by L. E. Lindsay, of 261 Thirteenth street, the young woman was wedged into a crowd in the rear of the theater. She recalled that a man brushed against her. She moved and he repeated the action. At that time she was able to get a seat. It is presumed that the man cut her garters.

Nearly a year ago a man with similar methods worked in Portland theaters. It was then explained the action was part of a plan of Eastern manufacturers to destroy goods of their competitors, but this theory did not meet with general acceptance. Complaints were made anonymously to the police, but in the absence of any woman willing to prosecute, little action was taken. The practice stopped after a month of intermittent acts.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—An order was issued today by Secretary Lane with the President's approval, creating a power site reserve in Boulder Canyon on the Colorado River, 20 miles east of Las Vegas, Nevada. It is expected the construction will develop 40,000 horsepower at a minimum of expense.
