PARK BONDS INDORSED

SUNNYSIDE PEOPLE THINK THEY ASSURE PLAYGROUNDS.

Improvement Association and Parents' Teachers' Circle Also Favor Union-Avenue Bridge Approach.

The Sunnyside Improvement Association and the Parent-Teacher Circle, in session Wednesday night in the Sunnyside school, assembly hall, unanimously indorsed the proposed park bond issue of $290,000. The meeting was called to consider the question of procuring a playground for Sunnyside, either in the Laurelhurst Park or on ground near the Sunnyside school. It was the sentiment of the meeting that unless the bonds are voted there will be no playgrounds at Sunnyside this year.

Curtis pointed out the need of playgrounds. Mrs. R. E. Bondurant, president of the circle, declared that Sunnyside must have playgrounds. P. Newell, Rev. William Fry and others urged the importance of the playgrounds.

It was reported that playgrounds are not to be provided in the Laurelhurst Park, except on a small scale and it was the opinion of several that Firwood Lake in Laurelhurst Park, occupying several blocks of level ground, might be drained and ample playgrounds established there. It was stated that this would interfere with the plan of making Laurelhurst Park beautiful and the other portions of this park could be used as a playground by grading, but even this was objected to for the reason it would necessitate the destruction of many of the trees in the park. After extended discussions it was decided to appoint a committee of 15 or more from the improvement club, Parent-Teacher Association, Men's Club of the Methodist Church and other organizations of Sunnyside to take up the playground question with Commissioner Brewster.

Brace Cady, of the Union-Avenue Development League, addressed the meeting, after which a resolution was passed approving of Union Avenue as an approach to the interstate bridge.

It was announced by Rev. William Fry, of the Methodist Church, that he would speak briefly on the park bond question at the Sunnyside Methodist Church Sunday night. Other pastors will be asked to talk on the question Sunday.

Grants Pass Asks Reduction. GRANTS PASS, Or., Dec. 4.—(Special.)—A well represented meeting of taxpayers was held to discuss the proposed tax budget of expenses upon which a levy is to be made before the County Court. It was the sense of the meeting that a resolution be prepared and sent before the Commissioners asking that the levy as proposed be reduced six mills, which would mean that the levy, in all, would not rise over 20 1/2 mills, which was the amount of last year's general levy.

The oldest royal dynasty in the world is that of Japan, which goes back unbroken 2000 years.

On the majority of corners the property owners have been willing to pay the cost. On other corners, where the property owners have refused to stand the cost, the city has put in the improvements. During next year several hundred corners in the residence districts will be rounded at the expense of the city.

comes, until it is interpreted by the courts," said J. B. Cleland, in an address at the luncheon of the Progressive Business Men's Club at the Multnomah Hotel yesterday.

By way of explanation, Judge Cleland said that the tax regulation applied to every single person whose income was more than $1000, and every married person whose income was more than $4000, provided the husband and wife were living together. The exemptions were the President of the United States during the present term, the judges of the supreme and inferior courts now in office, all state officials and officers of municipal subdivisions of the state, all labor organizations, religious and scientific associations, chambers of commerce, boards of trade and like organizations, where the earnings did not pass to the individual.

Judge Cleland explained further that the measure would apply to all benefits that accrue to one from property or service, including salaries, rents and other gains, but deducting necessary business expenses, not including personal or living expenses; also all interest on indebtedness of, and losses in, business, except by fire recompened by insurance; bad debts, provided they are charged off within the year, and reasonable depreciation for wear and tear.
