

STIMULUS IS GIVEN TO CORN GROWING

Farm Demonstration Train is Arousing Interest From Standpoint of Silos.

TUALATIN FARMERS EAGER

Oregon Agricultural Experts Discard Academic Talks and Tell Men of the Soil How to Make Hogs and Cows Pay Well.

CANBY, Or., Feb. 4.—(Special).—If nothing else shall be accomplished by the 12-day trip of the Southern Pacific-Oregon Agricultural College-Portland, Eugene & Eastern demonstration train through Western Oregon, it is assured that the area of corn growing acreage of the future will be enlarged and the industry stimulated.

Five hundred farmers of that region are already growing corn under direction of the Oregon Agricultural College and from seed furnished by that institution, and since the beginning of the present demonstration train itinerary, there has been a constant and insistent demand for practical instruction on the construction of silos.

At Newberg, Sherwood, Molalla and Canby today 2500 visitors of the demonstration train and showed that hogs and silos were right now the popular things of interest to the Willamette Valley farmer.

Professors E. L. Potter and W. A. Barr have given it to them without any fee at all.

Technical Terms Abandoned. Technical terms have been abandoned and talks on hogology can be as plainly understood as a conversation between men who farm from the top rail of a worm fence.

The home-made silo is just as good as any patent silo, said Professor Barr. "You can put up a stave silo for $200 that will hold 200 bushels of corn until it has become weeds, makes good silage."

700 Out at Newberg. At Newberg where the first demonstration was given this morning, 700 farmers, many of them accompanied by their wives, were on hand at 8 o'clock.

At Sherwood where the second stop and demonstration was given, 500 farmers were waiting for the arrival of the train. Five lectures were given at one time in order to specialize information wanted upon the hog and dairy.

The train arrived at Molalla at 3:15 this afternoon and the crowd which greeted it was estimated to be the largest by far in the history of the valley. It is estimated that 1500 were at the Canby stop.

Two hundred and fifty farmers were out here at Canby at 6 o'clock this afternoon to witness the hog and dairy demonstration. Tomorrow the train works from here to Silverton and gives a night demonstration at Salem.

CHEHALIS WINS SITE SUIT

Supreme Court Rules in Controversy With Centralia Over Reservoir.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 4.—(Special).—Affirming the Lewis County Superior Court, the Supreme Court today decided that the City of Chehalis was entitled to a reservoir site on the north fork of the Newaukum River, for which Centralia and Chehalis cities have been fighting in the courts.

Since the filing of the suit Centralia has secured the rights of riparian owners, but the Supreme Court declined to pass on this phase of the case, deciding that it would have to be settled separately.

SCHOOL DISPUTE SETTLED

Request for Resignation of Condon Principal Withdrawn.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 4.—(Special).—Differences over the method of instruction, which led last week to a request from the School Board to W. A. Beer, principal of the Condon school, that he resign, were settled last night at which Mr. Beer and his attorney were given a hearing.

Professor Beer has followed rather original lines in the handling of his school, allowing a greater latitude in the selection of their work, especially in drawing and manual training, than has been the case in other schools in the city.

VALLEY TO EXHIBIT

Willamette Association Will Take Space at Exposition.

COMMITTEE MAKES PLANS Meeting is Held at Salem and It is Decided to Have Display in Agricultural Building and Two Others.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 4.—(Special).—At an enthusiastic meeting of the Willamette Valley Association here, it was the unanimous opinion that the Valley should be well represented at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

It was decided to make the exhibit from the Valley as representative of the resources as possible, and the only fear seemed to be that the space awarded would not be sufficient.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Feb. 4.—(Special).—Actual work on Chehalis' gravity water system has begun on the right-of-way which is being cleared on the headwaters of the north fork of the Newaukum River, a crew of 20 men being at work.

RETAIN YOUR GOOD LOOKS. CUTICURA SOAP. Assisted by Cuticura Ointment does much to keep your skin clear, scalp clean and free from dandruff, and hands soft and white.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE. Save Your Hair! Get a 25-Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now.

THIN, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Adv.

ESTATE TO BE CONTESTED

A. F. Salmson Wants Property Left by Lena Kassman.

Contest for the $5000 estate left by Lena Kassman, the waitress who died at the County Hospital last month, was indicated yesterday by the filing of a petition by Attorney Robert Salmson, on behalf of A. F. Salmson, a rancher of Ridgefield, Wash., who claims he is a nephew of Miss Kassman.

In the statement made by Salmson filed yesterday by his attorney he gives his recollections of his aunt, who he says he saw while on a visit to Portland during the Christmas holidays.

Soon after the death of the woman, who had no relatives, as far as was known by her few Portland friends, Attorney J. R. Walton petitioned on behalf of the state that an administrator be appointed to preserve the estate. Judge Cleaton announced that he would protect the estate, but would appoint an administrator for 30 days, that any heir the woman may have had might have opportunity to present his or her claim.

CLEVER SCHEME FAILURE

Convict Tries to Talk Way Past Prison Guard.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—A man in Chelmsford Jail presented himself at the gate, stating that he wished to leave, as he had finished his work of repairing the organ. He said his name was Griffin.

"I don't remember you coming into 'Prison this morning," said the warden at the gate.

"Oh, yes," replied the man, "I came in with the chaplain."

The warden consulted the record of visitors, and finding no such name, communicated with his officers, who recognized Griffin as one of the prisoners and removed him to his cell. It was found that he had slipped away during exercise and changed his clothes in the probation warden's quarters.
