THEFT OF $250,000 IN JEWELS SOLVED

Five Highly-Trained Thieves, Including Woman "Spotter," Under Surveillance.

SOME OF BOOTY IS FOUND

Robbery of Mrs. Hanan's Home in Narragansett Pier Laid to International Band-Two Now on Way to South America.

NEW YORK, March 12 .- (Special.)-The mystery surrounding the theft of fewels worth $350,000 from Mrs. John H. Hanan in her home in Narraganset Pier last July will probably be cleared up in the next week or so. Jewelry amounting to about $65,000 already been discovered in certain jewelry houses in Amsterdam and Parls and clews to a gang of five persons, in-cluding one woman, have been obtained by detectives who have been at work on the case for months.

From information that has been gathered by agents of a detective bureau it seems the burglary was committed by a band of international thleves. Members of the bang are highly trained, splendidly educated, and thus able to carry on their illicit and thus able to carry on their lilicit trade in many countries. Three of the gang, including a stylishly-dressed woman, who acted as "a spotter of jeweiry" for the gang, are now in France, and are under surveillance. Two of the men recently sailed for

South America and are supposed to be carrying with them part of their loot, which they expect to dispose of there. At about the same time that Mrs. Hanan was robbed of her jewels Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, who was Mary Harriman, lost jeweis worth about $190,000 from her home in Newport. It is regarded as likely the same band is responsible for that burglary.

Lumber Exporter Tells Progressive Business Men's Club World Is Against Canal Act.

William D. Wheelwright, president of the Pacific Export Lumber Company, told the members of the Progressive Business Men's Club at the weekly luncheon at the Multnomah yesterday why he thought the section of the Pan-ama Canal act passed in August, 1912, exempting American bottoms plying in the coastwise trade from paying toll, should be repealed by Congress.

Mr. Wheelwright summed up his po-sition in the matter in these words: "Why antagonize Great Britain by do-ing what we promised not to do, in the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty? All the nations of the world agree with her on the point of exempting no vessels, under whatever flag they sail, from paying canal tolls. Even the American Nation partially favors the American Nation partially favors the repeal of the exemption clause. Only a few of those directly interested in the coastwise trade monopoly favor the exemption from tolls.

The clause in the Hay Pauncefote treaty covering the matter shall be open to all Nations on equal terms to all and there shall be no discrimination. The wording is not 'all other Nations,' as some have tried to construe it. Great Britain would never have signed such a treaty if that word 'other' had been inserted in the clause.

"Again, if the United States Government shall exempt coastwise ships it might as well exempt all ships flying the American flag. It is the foreignging ships that should be protected, if any, not those which are pretected by an enormous monopoly.

INCREASE OF 1000 IS HOPE

Competing Forces Highly Enthusiastic and Eager to Begin Contest - Benefits Derived From Organization Are Told

Enthusiasm was at high pitch in the auditorium of the Portland Young Men's Christian Association last night when 200 men met at dinner and out-lined the big membership campaign that is to to held next week. The meet ing developed into a spirited rally in which the men not only pledged them-selves to put in a week of hard work in behalf of the association but paid igh tributes to the organization from heir personal experience.

The two sides of 100 men each, which will be pitted against each other in the contest, occupied tables at oppo-site sides of the room last night. Armed with cowbells and horns, they cheered their own speakers to the echo. So demonstrative was the rivalry that all of the speakers would have had difficulty in getting a hearing had it not been for the efforts of General Secretary Stone, who presided. After Mr. Stone had called attention to the terms of the contest, by which it is hoped to increase the membership of the Y. M. C. A. by 1000 men and boys next week, J. E. Werlein made a rousing talk, in which he predicted the success of the campaign and particu-larly of the results that his side would

"There are thousands of men in Port-land who should belong to the Y. M. C. A, and it is our duty to see that by the end of next week at least 1000 more of them do belong," he declared. "The men who go out to seek new members have every advantage on their side. There isn't a single logical argument against joining. The Y. M. C. A. has something to offer every man in Portland and if a person is so unselfish that land and if a person is so unselfish that he doesn't want to join to benefit himself he should join to benefit film-self he should join to belp along the association and incidentally the city. The Y. M. C. A. to all intents and pur-poses is a civic institution. A large and strong association is one of the best assets and the best advertisements that a city can have."

"While each side is in this contest to beat out the other, we are all in it because we believe in the Y. M. C. A.," said Mr. Clark who replied to Mr. Werlein. "We know the work that is ione here and we want others to know it as we do. If the young men of Portland realized what membership in the Y. M. C. A. means to them we would have a rush of applicants that would buige the walls of the building. What I want to know is if we are to have the co-operation of every man here in bringing the membership in the here in bringing the membership up to safe margin over Los Angeles and

CANCER CAUSE OF DISAPPEARANCE OF HORACE GREELEY CLARK.

Brother of Dead Man Says Stories of His Dropping Out of Sight on Honeymon Not True.

LOS ANGELES, March 12 .- The mysery surrounding the sudden disappearance in Chicago in 1902 of Horace Greeley Clark, who died in Milwaukee today, was solved here today by his brother, Earl D. Clarke. Horace Greeley Clark planned the "disappearance" because of incurable cancer of the face. "Much which had been writen about the case was entirely untrue," said Mr. Clark. "My brother was a divorced man and was not on his wedding journey when he disappeared. Just why he dropped from sight while on a trip on the water I don't know, but I sup-pose he felt he had to disappear in some way, as he had become broken-hearted over his physical aliment. He could not bear to have his relatives and friends see the ravages of disease which reputable physicians frankly told him could end only in death. "After he had been gone a year he after he had been gone a year he informed other relatives of his whereabouts and the reason for his having dropped from sight.
