Bad Bill Tozer, with his newly acquired "spitter," displayed much finesse yesterday, and San Francisco de-feated Portland in the final game of the series, 2 to 1. The Angel castoff worked his squid ball to the nth power every lap of the journey. Add to that, Bill's speed and a rather leaden sky, and you'll readily comprehend why the Beavers appeared as non-plussed as a tribe of Digger Indians at a lecture at Reed College on the "Last Days of Pompell."

The series ended on an even keel, three games aplece.

Yesterday's farewell to the Beavers at McCredie Park aid not break the season's attendance mark. Early in the forenoon it rained, and, when the sun finally did emerge, it looked as pale and sere as a flying flapjack. At the park chilling breezes made light overcoats a necessity, and yet 7000 fans were on deck to enjoy a well-staged production. Seven thousand means—let us see, around $2500—and $2500—well, we wouldn't, would you?

West Pitches Good Ball.

West Pitches Good Ball.

Hi West pitched good ball for the Mackmen, but not up to Tozer's form. Bill had such sluggers as Rodgers and Ryan swinging like postern gates, and two of the hits, by Speas, were dinky little raps that almost died of neglect before they reached the inner defense. West gave way to Brown in the seventh inning to make room for Brashear, a pinch hitter, who did not hit. But Hiram is charged with the defeat because he made the mistake of tossing one up to Rabbit Mundorff as early as the third inning, which had no more on it than the conventions prescribed for Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden.

Tozer opened with a thump to left field. Fitzgerald went safe on a wide throw to first by West, after he had lost the ball under his feet. O'Leary sacrificed both along a peg, and then Rodgers ordered West to walk Schaller deliberately, filling the bases and setting the stage for a double play.

Momentarily it worked wonders, for Downs fanned in the pinch, but not so Mundorff. The Rabbit singled to right and it was all over.

TACOMA, Wash., May 3 .- (Special.)-"Iron Man" McGinnity and Pat Eastley, of Portland, pitched ten innings of the tightest ball seen here in some time this afternoon. The Colts had made four hits and one un and the Tigers also had made a run and had made three hits. In the tenth, however, the Colts pressed, Mc-Ginnity weakened ever so slightly, his support cracked, two runs breezed ever and the Portland aggregation had won the last game of the series, making it stand 5 to 2 as far as games are conerned.

The game itself was a corking good one. Both pitchers were at their best and it was any one's contest until after the Colts had retired in the tenth. Then Vancouver Defeats Victoria by Vancouver will be the first sevengame moreel, and then Victoria and Tacoma in turn will regale Portland fandom. Aside from the Vancouver Champs, none of the teams appear to have any edge on the Colts.

The visit at home ought to give the blonde manager a chance to get his second wind.

Manager Williams likely will use Stanley today, opposing Jimmy Clark for Vancouver. Clarke is the former University of Washington star hurler, who has been a consistent winner since his professional debut.

Kippert, Schmutz, Ingersoil and Konnick are missing from last year's Vancouver club, but Bob Brown has filled their shoes with McCarl, former Seal and Spokane Indian, at first base, Catcher Cheek, formerly of Sacramento, and others of like califber.

Walia Walia right-hander, and "Tiny" will be turned back to the Western Tri-State environs.

Nick takes this action mally because Leonard hasn't had much success in his tryout, but, perhaps the fact that Wait McCredie left behind two young hurlers of promise helped Nick make up his mind.

Peet and Salveson are the young prodigies turned over to Williams by the Beavers. Scanlon, a new first-sacker, late of the Imperial Canteloupe League, will also join the Colts here today.

After a disastrous start the Portland Colts made good against Tacoma in the series ended yesterday. It may be that the Colts are just finding themselves, Nick met so much rain during the training season that he hardly knew whether there was such a commodity as sunshine in the weather man's game kit.

Of course the boys were out of shape at the wire, and likely that had a great deal to do with the creatic start.
