Marines From Gunboat Annapolis Engage Carranzistas Who Refuse to Allow Them to Land at Mazatlan.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—A clash between Carranza soldiers and American seamen from the gunboat Annapolis at Mazatlan was called to attention of the Washington Government today by General Carranza's ambassador here, with a request that in the existing tense situation no man be landed in Mexico from American warships under any circumstances.

The incident, which occurred yesterday, resulted in a casual and brief exchange of fire between the Mexicans and in the capture by the Mexicans of two American officers, who, after an explanation, were released, according to the report presented by the ambassador. A dispatch from Admiral Winslow, of the Pacific fleet, announcing the capture of the men, made no mention of their release, but officials assumed it had occurred after the message was sent. The only American injured was Boatswain's Mate L. M. Laughter, whom the Admiral reported was "gravely wounded."

Admiral Winslow sent only a brief account of the incident, and Navy Department officials immediately requested a more detailed report. Late tonight it had not been received. Meantime there was no indication that the ambassador's request would alter in any way the Administration's plans for protecting Americans in Mexican coast towns, which would involve sending marines and bluejackets ashore to bring off refugees should any emergency require it. More than a score of American war vessels already are in Mexican waters, en route there, or being held in readiness to go as refugees ships.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 19.—An ultimatum amounting practically to a declaration of war against the United States was received Sunday by Commander Arthur Kavanagh, of the gunboat Annapolis, by General Flores, Carranza governor of the state of Sinaloa, according to a radio-gram sent from the Annapolis at Mazatlan and received here today by Admiral Winslow, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet.

Owing to the low-powered radio set of the Annapolis, difficulty has been experienced in communicating with the gunboat, but enough facts have come through to indicate that General Flores had taken a hostile stand against Americans. More than a score of American war vessels already are in Mexican waters, en route there, or being held in readiness to go as refugees ships.

According to word received here, the commander of the Annapolis advised all Americans in the vicinity of Mazatlan to leave as soon as possible. A boat from the war vessel containing Ensign O. O. Kessing, Paymaster Andrew Mowat and a number of bluejackets approached the shore, Ensign Kessing being under orders from Commander Kavanagh to arrange with the Mexican authorities to get out all Americans. Without provocation it is reported, the Mexicans opened fire on the sailors, and Boatswain's Mate L. M. Laughter was seriously wounded. Americans returned the fire as far as is known six Mexicans were either killed or wounded. Earlier reports that a drunken Japanese started the trouble are not borne out in reports received here. Ensign Kessing and Paymaster Mowat were taken prisoners and sent to the fortress, but later released on demands presented to Flores by Commander Kavanagh.

The Mexican state of Sinaloa is situated between the Gulf of California and the states of Durango and Chihuahua, and contains an area of 33,671 square miles. The country along the coast is low and sandy and rises gradually to an altitude of 7,000 feet at the western border of the state, where it is traversed by a portion of the Sierra Madre Occidental Range. Its principal ports are Topolobampo, Mazatlan and Altata.

PHONE GIRLS HEARD

Operators Tell of Talk by Orpet and Miss Lambert.

NEW EVIDENCE SURPRISES

Witnesses Say Student Tried to Make Appointment in Park With Girl on the Night of Her Death, but That She Refused.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., June 19.—Two telephone operators who occasionally relieved the monotony on the night watch by "listening in" on the wire were unexpectedly produced by the state today in the case of William H. Orpet, the university student charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, a Lake Forest high school girl.

The new witnesses, Mary Dunn and Edith Kennedy, testified they heard part of the conversation over the telephone between young Orpet and Marion on the night of February 8, the night before her death. In substance the conversation was said to have been: Orpet—Hello, Marion. This is Will. Are you coming out? Marion—No. Orpet (pleadingly)—Oh, take a chance and come on. Marion—I guess I have taken chances enough with you one point impeaching the testimony of Miss Davis, who spent the night of February 8 with Marion, and who was at the party. Josephine testified that she and the other girls were alone at the party for a moment when she saw Orpet and that Orpet was untrue to her she would kill herself.

Testimony Long Withheld. Mr. Kennedy, who at that time was unmarried and went by her maiden name of Lihdke, and Miss Dunn testified that this conversation took place at about 8 o'clock in the evening of the 8th. When they read of the death of Marion they spoke to others in the office about it, and when she married, Miss Lihdke told her husband, but the information did not reach State Attorney Ralph J. Dady until last Saturday. He informed James H. Wilkerson and Ralph F. Potter, attorneys for the defense, on Sunday, too late for them to prepare for cross-examination and the girls will be recalled for this purpose.

Girls' Testimony Shaken. The girls were among 17 girls at Marion's birthday party February 6. The others testified previously. The entire number except Josephine Davis were recalled on one point impeaching the testimony of Miss Davis, who spent the night of February 8 with Marion, and who was at the party. Josephine testified that she and the other girls were alone at the party for a moment when she saw Orpet and that Orpet was untrue to her she would kill herself.

Whether Orpet really intended to return to his studies by an early train and later changed his mind is a point to be cleared up and may not be unless the defendant becomes a witness. Other witnesses today were Olive Bassmussen, Ethel Cole, Violet Frye, Katherine Robinson, Elizabeth White, Adelaide Smith, James F. King and Percy Longland.

HISTORY IS REPEATED

GUARD MOBILIZATION RECALLS STIRRING DAYS OF 1898. Old Second Oregon Regiment Was Assembled Here and Made Part of First Overseas Expedition.

National Guardsmen laboring to get kits packed and be on their way to the Glackamas mobilization camp naturally look forward to an early engagement with the tanned enemy across the great American border, and some are hopeful for a surprise move such as beset older brothers, and even fathers, who formed the first expedition 18 years ago that moved from San Francisco for the Philippines and had their initial official engagement at Guam, Ladrones Islands. It will be 18 years tomorrow since the cruiser Charleston steamed into the harbor of Guam, known as the port of SAN LUIS D'APRA, and fired the few shots that produced such a willing surrender of the tiny garrison. The visit of the cruiser was entirely mistaken by officials of the port, who put out from shore in a small boat, and on gaining the deck of the Charleston, apologized to Captain Glass that they could not return his salute, owing to a lack of powder. They did not know war had been declared.

After that the transports City of Peking, with the First California Volunteers, and the City of Australia, with General Thomas M. Anderson and seven companies of the Second Oregon, steamed into the harbor, the City of Sydney, with three Oregon companies and several of the Fourteenth United States Infantry, remaining outside the coral reef.

The following day the Governor of the island, Senor Jose Marina y Vega, formally surrendered with his officers, and Oregon men played a part in the situation, they being members of Company A, Captain Heath, and Company D, Captain Pruscott. In addition to four officers 24 Spanish soldiers were taken prisoners, stowed aboard the City of Sydney and carried to Manila.

The expedition reached Manila Bay June 20, landing at Cavite the next morning, and then began the real life of the Oregon men in foreign service, which ended only when they boarded the transport Ohio for home June 14, 1899.

In 1888 President McKinley's call on the state for a regiment of infantry was made April 25, and Governor Lord appointed officers of the regiment April 30, the troops being mobilized May 2 at the old Irvington race-track. May 11 Companies A, B, C and D, commanded by Major C. U. Gantenbein, entrained for San Francisco, and were followed May 16 by the remaining eight companies, commanded by Colonel Owen Sumner. They reached San Francisco May 18 and May 24 went aboard the transports, sailing the next day, and there moved into the Pacific the first expedition to depart from the United States for war in a foreign land. Honolulu was reached June 1, 1898, and June 4 the expedition got under way again from the Hawaiian city.

Sealed orders resulted in the course being changed so as to strike the cruiser San Diego, flagship of the Pacific fleet, with Admiral Cameron McR. Winslow on board, left here at midnight tonight either for Guaymas or Mazatlan. The cruiser Chattanooga left at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Acapulco and the cruiser Denver left three hours later for Salina Cruz.

The warships are under orders to proceed to the west coast of Mexico at top speed. Something like war-time scenes were witnessed in the harbor today prior to the departure of the vessels. The ships' bunkers were filled to capacity with coal and large supplies of meat and other stores were taken on board. The cruisers Colorado and Pittsburgh, the latter the flagship of Rear-Admiral Fullam, commander of the Pacific reserve fleet, will sail tomorrow to join the ships under Admiral Winslow.

The cruiser Maryland will steam from Bremerton, Wash., tomorrow morning direct to the lower coast. The cruiser South Dakota, now in drydock at Bremerton, also will be released tomorrow for duty in southern waters. The protected cruiser Milwaukee and the destroyers Truxtun, Hull, Hopkins and Stewart are expected to receive orders tomorrow to proceed south. Including ships now in Mexican waters, Admirals Winslow and Fullam will have a fleet of 17 cruisers, gunboats and destroyers.

That there is a possibility Admiral Winslow contemplates landing a force of bluejackets and marines on Mexican soil in an emergency was indicated today by the fact that officers and sailors of ships owning motorcycles were requested to bring them aboard. It was understood Admiral Winslow would form a motorcycle squadron for scouting purposes if it found it necessary to land bluejackets.

SAN FRANCISCO LUMBERMEN HOLD OUT FOR COMPROMISE.

WORK TO BE CARRIED ON AS IN PAST, THEY SAY—PORT COLLECTOR TAKES UP UNIONS' FIREARMS PROTEST.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—The Ship Owners' Association of California and the lumber interests of the state will not enter into any agreement with the striking longshoremen for a cessation of the strike through which the longshoremen are seeking to obtain increased wages and closed shop until some compromise can be effected. This decision was reached here today at a meeting of representative lumbermen.

O. B. Johnson, a lumberman, said that the work of the lumber schooner owners would be carried on as had been done in the past. The striking union men entered a protest today with J. O. Davis, Collector of the Port, against the carrying of firearms by nonunion workmen and guards at the piers. Collector Davis said tonight that he was preparing to take the matter before the Federal grand jury. This action followed the killing last night of Thomas Olsen, a union picket, said to have been unarmed, by men supposed to have been nonunion workmen.

The Pacific Coast division of the International Longshoremen's Association held a meeting here tonight without definite results. It was stated, however, that there had been a lessening of the tension in the situation, and officials believed that things would run along smoothly until the resumption of conferences between the executive council of the association and the Waterfront Employers' Union on June 26.
