RAYBURN MAKES PROGRESS IN OAKS' BANK ROLL

Mackmen Hold Potlatch Over First Series Captured by Club This Season.

ANGELS COME THIS WEEK

Most of Beavers Have Struck Stride and Portland at Last Promises to Become Dangerous Factor in League Race.

With a bankroll sadly depleted by hungry ballplayers' appetites and railroad ticket inroads the Oakland ball club left last night for Los Angeles.

When there is no Sunday game the clubs depart almost resigned to go forth and spar with a 10-ounce spade in some farmer's 60-acre ring.

Last week, although five games were played, one or two of them matured on rainy, murky afternoons more fit for goose shooting than for baseball.

In consequence the exchequer of the poor Oakland club must have looked long and hard forlorn when Howard waddled about the track last night.

Most of the Beavers have struck their stride at last and the Portland club should be a dangerous factor from this time henceforth.

SALEM, Or., May 6.—(Special.)—Although high winds and heavy, intermittent rains caused ragged scores at the opening day of the shoot of the Oregon State Sportsmen's Association, 30 teams from in and out of the state were not deterred from enjoying their favorite sport.

That trophy for the Honeyman award was diamond trophy remained unselected when the last bird was broken today. Dodele and Scripture tied in the shoot for this trophy.

That trophy is now held by Pete O'Brien, of Portland, and must be held for three consecutive years for permanent ownership.

Arvil Wilson High Gun. Arvil Wilson, of Salem, was high gun for the day, excluding professional shooters.
