BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

SOCIETY'S mecca for this week will be the Waverley Country Club. Yesterday's several informal luncheons were held and tea was enjoyed by congenial groups of friends, who assembled on the veranda. Every day this week tea will be served between 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock. Several luncheons are scheduled for the succeeding days. Tonight, Thursday and Saturday there will be the Friday dances, which are sure to be popular.

Mrs. Max Houser has a lovely young guest, Miss Ruth Ghrardell, who arrived on Sunday a fortnight ago and who will be feted at numerous affairs. Mrs. Morris H. Whitehouse will entertain a few of the younger girls today for Miss Ghrardell. The visitor is one of the most charming of the society girls of San Francisco.

A strawberry social and lawn fête has been planned by St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral parish for tomorrow night. The lawn will be decorated with Japanese lanterns and in addition to the serving of the refreshments there will be dancing in the parish-house. A fortune-teller's booth will be arranged for all those who wish to find out what the future has in store, and there will be an attractive program. Little Frances Hanrahan will give the special Portland Rose dance that she presented at the Rose Festival. Carl Denton will play a violin solo and M. Simmons will sing a baritone solo. Mrs. McCollister, who is a clever dramatic reader, will be assisted by Mary Belle Hancock in "A Dramatic Episode." Miss Mildred Jones and a number of members of St. David's parish will appear in specialties. Visiting clergymen and their wives, who are here for the summer school, will be guests. Dean and Mrs. McCollister and the guild members will receive.

Miss Edith Strowbridge was a charming hostess at a dinner dance last Friday evening. Among the guests were Misses Stella Riggs, Helen Stewart, Bessie Walch, Myrtle Jacobsen, Helen Morgan, and Messrs. Russell Colwell, Henry Stevens, Edwin Welch, Harry Stewart, Robert Smith, Paul Steffen and Dan Quimby.

Miss Lenore Blasing will entertain at an informal afternoon in the near future.

The many friends of Miss Melva Farwell are looking forward to her arrival in Portland next Wednesday. Miss Farwell, who is a former Portlander, has been visiting in San Francisco, Cal., from whence she is motoring with friends. She will remain here about two weeks.

Miss Minnie Moore and F. E. Druhot, of this city, were married in San Francisco on June 15 in the presence of a few friends. Superior Judge Deary officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Druhot are now being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, of 908 Eddy street, San Francisco. They have many friends here who will shower them with good wishes on their return from the north.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 25.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Morieta Hickman and Hugh E. Burdon was solemnized on Friday at high noon. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage, Vancouver, B. C., with Rev. M. Spinnell, pastor, officiating in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Burdon, of Gladstone, parents of the bride, and Mr. H. Hickman, of Oregon City, mother of the bride.

Following the marriage ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Vancouver, where Mr. Burdon entertained the entire party during their sojourn in Vancouver. The afternoon was spent in a delightful motor trip through Stanley Park, a natural park containing 700 acres, which skirting Georgia Bay.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of navy blue and a large white picture hat. She wore a corsage bouquet of white flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Burdon left on Monday night for their future home at Ocean Falls, B. C., where they will occupy their new home.

The bride was guest of honor at many social functions in this city before her departure for British Columbia. She will be the guest of honor at the Red Cross. The hostesses will be Mrs. Bissell, Mrs. B. M. Satterfield, Mrs. E. F. Fenne, Mrs. David guests, Mrs. J. A. Stutt, Mrs. G. P. Bissell, Mrs. Lou Elyea, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. J. R. Davies and Mrs. J. H. Callahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Farrar, of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. A. Duthie and C. S. Battle, of Vancouver, B. C., are among the prominent society folk who are here for the golf tournament, and are making their headquarters in the Multnomah Hotel.

Captain Kenneth D. Hauser came down from American Lake for the weekend and was the guest of his father, E. V. Hauser, at the Multnomah Hotel. On Saturday night Captain Hauser was honor guest at a dinner party given by William M. Kaiser in the Arcadian Gardens of this hotel. Other honor guests were Miss Jean Porter and Miss Jean Hubbard. H. H. Cloutier entertained for the visitors at a box party at the Heilig Theater, where "The Boomerang" was the attraction, last night.

Mrs. H. H. Herdman has returned from a year's visit in Southern California, and is being welcomed by her many friends here.

Miss Florence Olsen, assisted by Miss Maudie Oakfield and Miss Helen S. Gray, gave a card party Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. R. V. Lewelling, in Milwaukee, in honor of Miss

ATTRACTIVE OREGON GIRL WHO HAS RETURNED FROM NEBRASKA STATE UNIVERSITY.

Miss Marjorie Hesselbine, of Forest Grove, has just returned from Lincoln, Neb., where she has been attending Nebraska State University and University School of Music. Miss Hesselbine is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority.

Eleanor F. Baldwin, J. D. Stevens read several selections. After refreshments had been served the evening was given over to music and dancing.

Among those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fender, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ingham, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Chapman, Mrs. M. T. Gattfield, Mrs. F. M. Youngs, Mrs. H. W. The social committee of the University of Oregon summer school held in Portland in planning an informal reception tomorrow night at the Commercial Club on Fifth and Oak streets. All the members of the school and their friends are cordially invited to be present.

A military ball of exceptional interest will be that planned for Saturday night, when Battery A Auxiliary will entertain at the Multnomah. Adjutant-General White and Mrs. White, Captain B. V. Clayton and Mrs. Clayton will be in the receiving line and with them are to be George L. Baker, Mayor-elect, and Mrs. Baker, Judge and Mrs. W. N. Gaten, Judge and Mrs. Tarwell, Sheriff Hurlbut and Mrs. Hurlbut, Mrs. C. L. Mead, Mrs. W. D. Jackson, Mrs. Ingham, Mrs. R. E. Daniels, Mrs. John Eubank, Mrs. H. Danneman, Mrs. P. Downey, Mrs. J. Hoover, Mrs. Alexander Gooden, Mrs. J. W. Howattson and Mrs. E. Pattison, president of the auxiliary.

An event which has been anticipated eagerly for some time is the lawn carnival and dance for which the women of the Alameda Park will be hostesses this evening on the lawn of the homes of Mrs. Delmar Shaver and Mrs. George S. Reid, on Alameda drive. Among the musicians who will contribute to the pleasure of the evening are Harry Sheriff, Judge Hennessy and John Claire Monteith. A good time is promised for all who attend. Among those active in planning the affair are Mrs. E. A. Curtis, Mrs. O. K. Jeffery, Mrs. George S. Reid, Mrs. L. S. Frank, Mrs. C. Claude McCulloch, Mrs. J. D. Gill, Mrs. J. B. Hale, Mrs. C. G. Murray, Mrs. C. L. Gare, Mrs. Delmar Shaver, Mrs. Lou Fuller, Mrs. E. B. Newhall, Mrs. Arthur Porter, Mrs. H. M. Wade, Mrs. Arthur Barendrick, Mrs. J. L. Goodell, Mrs. A. W. James, Mrs. J. C. Ross, Mrs. George Dorcas, Mrs. Dudley Clarke and Mrs. A. J. Browning.

The cavalry ball given by Troops A, B and C in co-operation with the women of the Oregon Cavalry Auxiliary, was one of the brilliant events of Friday night. The Multnomah Hotel presented a gay appearance with its decoration of flags and flowers and the attractive gowns of the women as they danced several years ago. The mingling of colors, the patrons and patronesses included state and city officials and their wives and the officers of the troop.

GRESHAM, Or., June 25.—(Special.)—The marriage of Leslie T. St. Clair, of this city, and Miss Ruth A. Shaw, of Fairview, was solemnized at the home of Dr. R. Elmer Smith, pastor of Sunnyside Methodist Episcopal Church, Saturday, in the presence of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair, and the bride's mother, Mrs. H. M. Shaw, a brother, Lee R., of Lindcott, Wash., and sister, Mrs. Harry Donley, of Portland. Mr. St. Clair is a member of Company 7, Coast Artillery, O. N. G., and is employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company as assistant superintendent of messengers. Mrs. St. Clair has been living at the home of her mother, at Fairview. The marriage was hastened by the fact that Mr. St. Clair expects to be called into the service shortly.

Mrs. C. C. Van Arsdale and Mrs. R. S. Beach, of Portland, are in Los Angeles for a short visit. They are registered at Hotel Clark. Before returning home they will visit various places of interest in the Southland.

Miss Helen Downing, a popular Portland girl, has gone to Medford to be the guest of friends. She will be one of a party which will motor through California during the summer.

Miss Elsie Walker has sent out cards for an informal afternoon Wednesday at her home in Sherwood drive.

Mrs. William R. Ladd and her daughter, Miss Lois Ladd, will leave Saturday for an extended visit in California. They will visit friends in Los Angeles and other cities.

Mrs. G. R. Knight and little sons, George and Dick, will go to Beach Center, Wash., next week to pass the summer.

An informal dancing party was given Friday night by Miss Marie Brady at her home on East Thirty-first street. The guests included a number of the college set. The Brady home was decorated with greenery and Japanese lanterns and parasols. A dainty supper was served.

The guest list included, Misses Palmer, Lois Ladd, Wilma Young, Marie Sheehan, Cora Hosford, Marie Gearin, Marion Beach, Helen Zimmermann, Mary Holmes, Florence Holmes, Rose Irving, Mary Irving, Grace Rierston, Esther Merrill and E. Rierston, George McKenzie, John Q. A. Daniels, Jr., Charles Dundore, Jack Dundore, Mr. Beard, Robert Clark, Kenneth Goodall, Mr. Hudson, Jack Gearin, Harold Bromberg, Emmett Rathburn, William Hasseltine, E. Loder, M. Miller, Joseph Sheehan and Day Murphy.

KELSO, Wash., June 25.—(Special.)—Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock Miss Bertha Carroll, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carroll, became the bride of Leslie Brauer. The ceremony was solemnized at the bride's home, which was decorated in pink and white for the occasion. The bride, leaning on her father's arm, and preceded by the little flower girls, Carol Irving and Jean Raasch, of Portland, and her bridesmaid, Miss Hazel Hill, entered the drawing-room while Miss Edith Hendrickson played Lohengrin's "Wedding March." The bridegroom was accompanied by a life-long friend, Thomas Bruce, of Portland. Beneath a wedding veil of white roses suspended from an arch Rev. H. E. Greening, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the impressive ring ceremony. "I Love You Truly" was sung by Miss Hendrickson, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Strain.

The bride was beautiful in a creation of white tulle and georgette crepe. Her veil, caught with orange blossoms, hung to the hem of her skirt. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Hill wore a pretty gown of white chiffon over pink. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served, the bride wishing her great grandmother's wedding blessing.

The bride is popular in Kelso, and graduated from a Portland business college several years ago. Mr. Brauer came to Kelso about a year ago from Portland, and holds a responsible business position in this city.

TRAINING THE CHILD

BY WILLIAM BYRON FORBUSH, PH.D.

MIKE DILLON was our chief. When he shouted "Come on," none of us fellows said "Rats!" We ourselves did not seem to know just how it came to pass that he always had his way. Somehow he had won his reputation. If he did not fight, it was because he didn't need to. Boys fairly cry out to be led. In their weakness and absence of any sense of law, and with their strong fraternal instinct, they attach themselves strongly to persons. We by common consent had settled upon Mike. Matching powers in the usual preliminary process of choosing a chief. You remember how you used to boast, "My father has got a better horse than your father", to which your young friend promptly replied, "My big brother can lick your big brother." Sentimental Tommy carried this to the furthest extreme when he reported to the lad who bragged, "My father went to sea a hanging once," with the invention, "It was my father who was hung!" But Mike never matched powers with anybody.

Money and Manners Naught. Social position, wealth and material possessions have nothing to do with gang-leadership before 13. Maurice Levy is the richest boy in town in the plains, "he prod," but the fact only encourages the other fellows to fill him up with smallpox remedy and splash him from the tarpot. Mike was not a rich man's son.

The final choice comes to the strongest. Not always as the result of a physical fight, but the natural right. There are gangs to which one can win membership only by wrestling with the leader. But these are uncommon.

The secret of Mike Dillon's leadership was in his resourcefulness. It was his imagination. He was the one who always thought of the most things to do and the most novel ways of doing them. He was so enamored of originality that I believe he would have laid down a gang law with his first over a new fellow had come along with some particularly rash idea, and even followed him to the death.

Here is a good hint. If your son is in a gang whose leader is not quite so nice as you wish, or otherwise, as you could wish, whipper a wholesome idea into the culef's head, and maybe you will become a gang leader after fashion yourself.

Mike in Action. Mike always added enthusiasm to invention. I wish you could have watched him play a game of conduct a snow fight. He sang with gusto from the start and we were his "men." His tirelessness was contagious. He spurred on the others, praised the successful, and promptly, unfeelingly but impartially put the duffers, even if one of them was his best chum, out of the game. Such tactics win, and his appreciation stimulated, while his unreasoning justice left no wounds or complaints.

I have seen a quality of leadership in a Saturday training baseball game by that 12-year-old boy that would have carried an entrenchment or an election.

Behind his resourcefulness and alertness was another quality, that his own exact self-esteem. Perhaps it was not exactly that. This boy had made the novel experiment at some time of standing alone, of doing something different, and had enjoyed the luxury of finding out that it worked. He had also discovered that it not only worked, but that if it was worked hard enough it won the mastery of imitation. He had come to depend upon himself and to have others depending upon him. So it was not so much self-esteem as self-reliance that held him staunch and sturdy above the crowd.

He rather shone in contrast with our modern boys, because he never said "Don't" or "Hush." He was positive or nothing. No one had ever seen Mike afraid.

Glamour of Command Seen. I have often wondered whether Mike ever gave commands for the sake of showing his authority. A little incident has made me suspect he did. I heard him say to a girl, "This boy had not even heard of him, when one day we met suddenly on the streets of our little town, and he, indignantly I drove on. It was the only time I ever broke the spell. I wonder if he intended to come out!"

Just now we are a scared Nation, because we have not more men who know whether they are going and who tell us so. If we had a Mike, we would suppose we would have to bear up under a Congress of blinking pacifists. If we had a Mike, we would give attention 30 years ago to the sturdy ringleaders of Boyville?

THE Oregon State Nurse's Association at their annual meeting on Wednesday will be addressed by Dr. Ralph Matson. The nurses will meet in the afternoon in the library for a business session and for Red Cross planning and in the evening they will assemble once more in the library.

The reception held recently at the home of Mrs. E. H. Ingham, at Woodlawn, was a brilliant and well-attended affair. The invitation list was large and was well represented, and the entertainers proved even better than usual. The beautiful drawing-room was bright with the glow of the French roses, the refreshments being served in the rose-embowered veranda.

A pleasant surprise was in store for the members of the Press Club, as well as their guests, the President's Club, in the presence of Mrs. Martha Pulman French, the retiring president, who has been absent in San Francisco and Bay City for several weeks.

Miss Mable Bernice Warren, pianist, played a selection from "The Ruins of Athens," entitled "Turkish March." For an encore she gave a snappy Gluck-Brahms Gavotte. Miss Beatrice Palmer, a contralto of ready voice, sang charmingly two solos, "A Fairy Love Song" and "At Dawning." Miss Pauline Alderman accompanied her. Miss Gladys Y. Miller gave a reading from "The Other Woman," by Richard Harding Davis, and for encore a dainty sketch.

Mrs. Ingham's two daughters, Florence and Theodora, costumed daintily, gave an aesthetic dance, "Hallowe'en Polka." Miss Theodora closed the program by a lovely Syrian dance entitled, "The Pipes of Pan." Mrs. Theodora Thomson accompanied the dancers. A delightfully informal evening was spent in singing and dancing by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ingham, Miss D. E. Ingham, Mrs. Martha Pulman French, Miss Alys French, Miss Phyllis French, Mrs. Nathan Harris, Mrs. Mary L. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Ball, Mrs. William N. Alexander, Mrs. R. E. Rohr, Mrs. Minnie Roof Dea, Miss Leta Dea, Miss Elizabeth Hickey, Mrs. George M. Nolan, Mrs. Theodora Thomson, Mrs. J. J. Handaker, J. Frederic Thorne, Miss Florence Aleson, Mrs. Gilbert H. Horton, Miss Helen Sayer Gray, Mordant Goodnoether, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dowling, Miss Felcomer, Miss Viola Orschild, Mrs. Nora Armstrong, Mrs. F. T. Warren, Miss Mable Bernice Warren, Miss Beatrice Palmer, Miss Pauline Alderman, Miss Gladys G. Miller, Miss Theodora Thomson, Mrs. Ingham and Miss Florence Ingham.

Milton citizens tendered an elaborate reception to Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp on Friday, Mrs. Kemp's birthday. Mrs. Kemp was entertained in the home of Mrs. Addie Sewell and at noon Dr. and Mrs. Gillis gave a dinner for her. Later she went to what she expected to be a baby reception at the home of Mrs. McQuarry. They found the house beautifully decorated in gold and white nasturtiums and a large company asssembled. They held a delightful short musical programme and Mrs. Kemp gave them a talk on the great patriotic service work that the W. C. T. U. is undertaking.

It was Baby Day in Milton and the babies were there. Mrs. Kemp tied the white ribbon on 14 babies. Then came the impressive ceremony pledging the 14 mothers to work to keep Milton a good place for these babies to grow up in and to make them loyal and patriotic citizens of Oregon. Afterwards Mrs. Kemp was surprised with a beautiful big birthday cake and presented with a handsome gold brooch with cameo setting.

Girls were present with Red Cross markings on their caps, as nurses, to help the mothers in caring for the little folks. Mrs. W. S. Ahern presided and the affair was a big success.

Dr. Esther Pohl Lovejoy returned yesterday from the East, where she went to attend the National Medical Association convention and to confer in Washington with the women's committee of the National council of defense.
