SALT LAKE, July 5 .- (Special.) - The Sait Lakers won a sleepy post-holiday game today, 8 to 3.

The local batters pelted Ken Penner every way and probably could have made more if they hadn't still been feeling the effects of the Penner ing the effects of the Fourth. On the other hand, the Portland fence-busters were helpiess before Walter Leverenz, who pitched a superb game. Portland's first run was made in the first on a hit batsman, a sacrifice and out, a single and a sacrifice fly. Their other two were made in the seventh, after two were out on hits by Fenner and Hollocher, a costly underthrow by Crandall and a still more costly overthrow by Ryan,

Salt Lake stowed the game away in the third, when they made four runs on five hits. The chief factors in the scoring were doubles in succession by Sheely, Ryan and Quinlan, with a fin-ishing single by Crandail. All of Salt Lake's eight runs were earned, 18 hits telling the tale. Score:

It is Cobb's belief that this mascot is partly responsible for his great showing this season.

Several years ago, when the Detroit Tigers were in New Orleans, Cobb met Rivers, an ardent baseball fan. The Georgian was struck with the quaint wit and knowledge of baseball possessed by this colored midget, and it may be said in passing that Rivers took a liking to Cobb.

"How would you like to travel with the Tigers!" asked Cobb. "Guess we have a place for a fellow of your accomplishments."

"Don't think I could leave my busi-complishments."

"Don't think I could leave my business just now, Mr. Cobb," said Rivers.
"I'll keep you all in mind and see what I can do for you later."
This Spring when the Tigers visited New Orleans Alexander was right on the Job to greet his old acquaintance. "Well, Alex, that offer still goes," said Cobb as he shook the hand of his admirer. "We certainly need you this year. I don't think we can win the pennant without you."
