Dr. Muehlon, Former Director of Krupps, Says Kaiser Personally Responsible.

CHARGE STARTLES EUROPE

to Support Imperial Policies. Orders Issued to Give No Quarter in Belgium.

GUMLIGEN, Switzerland, June 5 .-(By the Associated Press.)-Germany was wholly in agreement with Austria-Hungary concerning the ultimatum sent to Serbia at the outbreak of the war, says Dr. Wilhelm Muehlon, former di-rector of Krupps, in further disclosures on the responsibility for the bringing on of the conflict.

Emperor William was personally responsible for Germany's participation and forced the German leaders to support his war policy.

Dr. Muehlon, who was head of Krupps at the outbreak of the war and who recently startled Europe with his disclosures, received the correspondent of the Associated Press at his country place here, where he is now living in

Dr. Muchlon's first disclosures, which caused such a commotion, gave conversations with Dr. Karl Helfferich, former Vice-Chancellor, and Dr. Krupp von Bohlen, chief owner of the Krupp works, in which both told him the Emperor had disclosed his agreement with Austria-Hungary on the ultimatum to Serbia and that Germany would mobilize immediately if Russia mobilized, which would inevitably draw in the other powers and precipitate a universal war.

Stiff arm. Dugger declares that four years ago his arm was dislocated and was not set right. He has applied at every recruiting office and now that Uncle Sam cannot take him in the service he is going to work in the ship-yards.

"I have a brother fighting in the Army," Dugger sald, "and I want to get into action, too, but because of this arm I am rejected. I'll do something to help whip the Hun—I'll help build ships."

He gives glimpses of the chief fig-ures from the Emperor down, but in the main avoids the mention of names for reasons of discretion, though there are likely to be further chapters later, are likely to be further chapters later, giving names, letters and documents, showing how the highest quarters in Germany planned systematically for the bringing on of a general war.

The whole trend of the present work is to show that the world conflict was imposed by the German Emperor's personal military policy and his private engagement with Austria on the eve of the struggle.

of the struggle.
Dr. Muchlon gives further details of the conference with Dr. Helfferich immediately preceding the war in which Helfferich told of the Emperor's plans toward Austria and Russia.

Muchlon's Statement Stands. Although Muchlon has been fiercely attacked by the German government and the Reichstag its version is sub-stantially unchanged. He makes the following addition concerning the emperor's agreement with Austria on the Serbian ultimatum:
"I got the impression that the choice of words had not been agreed upon, which was a dangerous omission by German diplomacy in view of the risks Germany was taking. In effect, Austria was given carte blanche and Germany agreed without condition to everything Austria wrote into the note."

One of Mr. Hoover's first moves was to call the miliers of the United States into a conference, the result of which was a voluntary agreement, between the great majority of the milling capacity of this country and the Government, known as the milling agreement, which provided that the mills should grind only a percentage of their previous three years' average and should limit their profits to a stated amount. The Government, in its turn, agreed with the millers that it would do its utmost to see that there was a uniform and equitable distribution of wheat to all mills on the basis of their allotment.
