

WAR WORK DRIVE FINISHED IN CITY

Portland First in Its Class to Oversubscribe Quota.

STATE VICTORY YET LAGS

Record for Oversubscription in Oregon Held by Columbia County, Which Hanks 200 Per Cent.

By the standard of victory that it raised at nightfall yesterday, Portland is presumed to be the first city of its class to have reported attainment of the required oversubscription in the united war work drive.

Given an original quota of $300,000, asked voluntarily to increase this to $450,000, the city campaign has exceeded so unerringly that the official figures stand at $450,891. But not for long.

While the city campaign is officially ended, Director Ames has instructed the workers to complete all districts and furnish the necessary certificates of their finished task.

For the convenience of those who have not yet subscribed the Liberty Temple will remain open the remainder of the week, holding all voluntary subscriptions that may be offered.

Several Shipyards Yet to Report. The present city figures do not include several shipyards and other industrial enterprises which have not yet reported.

"So far as we know," said Director Everett Ames, "Portland is the first large city to complete its original quota and oversubscribe 50 per cent. Each of us is happy at the splendid result, attained in the face of unusual and trying difficulties, such as no other campaign has encountered.

Leadership is Lauded. "Though any attempt to give individual credit must of necessity neglect the hundreds of workers whose efficiency and effort was unvarying, it is permissible to name the splendid work and leadership of William M. Ladd and Earl Seiling, who secured many of the larger subscriptions, and of W. E. Coman, of the industrial division; Henry Reed, of the house-to-house campaign; Miss Wasserman, executive secretary, and Colonel A. E. Doyle and C. D. Braun."

Throughout the state the war work drive will continue until victory identical with that of Portland is reached by every county, declares Orlando W. Davidson, state director.

Columbia County 200 Per Cent. The record for oversubscription of original quota is held by Columbia County, 25th among the statewide to pass its allotment, with 200 per cent subscribed.

One of the most successful open-air rallies of the series was held at noon yesterday before Liberty Temple, with music by the Multnomah Guard Band, led by Mrs. L. M. Scott, Mrs. M. E. Hogan, and Mrs. M. E. Scott, George, and addresses by Hon. Milton A. Miller and Elton Watkins.

McARTHUR HAS FAITH IN PEOPLE'S ABILITY

Period of Reconstruction Certain to Be Weathered Well.

TRADE DEVELOPMENT NEED

Oregon Representative Speaks Before Chamber of Commerce Upon Vital Questions.

C. N. McArthur, Representative in Congress for the Third Oregon District, speaking at the noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, voted his faith in the ability of the American people to guide the destinies of the Republic through the period of reconstruction.

Development of common sense and a remarkable advancement for a member who has served but three terms. Representative McArthur was likewise commended for accomplishment and for the rank he will have attained on the great House committee on appropriations. Immediate problems of reconstruction and demobilization were touched upon, though in regard to the latter the programme of the Administration was not known as the signing of the armistice came after Mr. McArthur left Washington.

Bill Almost Ready.

"The revenue measure had passed the House and gone to the Senate, where it was referred to the finance committee, where it was pared down and was almost ready to be reported back when the armistice was signed," he said. "It will all have to go over again."

"Business of the country will soon be re-established on a basis of equal industrial conditions. Agricultural development will doubtless experience a tremendous impetus, and we may expect to witness a wonderful growth in production. Commerce, both at home and on the seas, will be developed, and establishment of shipping is especially interesting to the people of this state."

"We want Portland-built ships operated from here to the ports of the Atlantic, as well as to the harbors on the other side of the Pacific. We must have our ships pass through the Panama Canal without the payment of tolls. The canal was built by the United States and paid for with our money and we are surely entitled to its use for commerce between our Atlantic and Pacific ports."

Waterpower Bill Important.

"The waterpower bill is a measure of the greatest importance to Oregon. We have enough waterpower to turn the wheels of industry as great as that of all New England. It should be developed, and when it is it will add immensely to the speedy rebuilding of Portland and Oregon. My colleague, Mr. Sinnott, has done splendid work in the prosecution of this measure, which has established both the bill and the committee on public lands, with places on other committees of great importance to his district and the state."

"Without attempting to say anything merely to make you feel good, I want to say that it was a great satisfaction to me to receive reports of the manner in which Portland responded to every call of the war. I feel that there is no more patriotic constituency in the United States than the district that I have the honor to represent. If there is anything in which the people of Portland are interested in legislation before Congress, or anything before the departments I can do, I want them to tell me about it."

John T. Dougal, was chairman of the day at the luncheon. Preceding the address of Representative McArthur, Fred Lockley just returned from France, where he served in Y. M. C. A. work at the front, told something of his observations and experience while in service. Importance of team-work as applied to operations on the western front was portrayed as having its prototype in the co-operation of business men in Portland for the advancement of the community interests in the period of peace.
