THE FINISHING SCHOOL is the title, because pupils who have devoted 3 to 6 months at a Business College or High School require a FINISH. None write without looking at their pencil, crooked fingers, and write like a rabbit vata, wherean eyes and care should be used on the speaker. Typewriting shorthand noise direct on any make of machine does away with shorthand, and New Zealand adopts it, for what that country thinks to-day America thinks tomorrow, and Francisand a year after. Only qualified stenographers use the blind finger system, all the rest are amateurs and are worth only their sait. The Finishing School is also a HEGINNER'S school, and teaches in one months or longer. Frarents consider the cost for clothing food and dress whilst devoting three months to study. In less than one week our pupils are reporting slow unterances, and in one month are shie to compete against the 5-month's pupil; a challenge of $100 is open. Bad speling is cured. The memory improved. Frof. Norton, Principal, a retired reporter in the British liouse of lords and Commons and High Courts for IT years. Address 66 th 81.

THE KAISER has the Fig. The schools reopen on Monday next and the Finishing school at 66 Sixth st., Fortiand, is ready for pupils. Those from business colleges and high schools get the secret in one week, how to repert with eyes on the speaker, and not on the notebook, and to write 3 to 6 lines behind the speaker. The memory is properly trained, but spelling cured, writing shorthand notes on any make of machine, all for $5. Money refunded if not as I say, Prof. Norton. H. A. principal. Enroll now, or the 20 I desks will be taken.
