

PACIFIC FRIENDS AND FOES STILL ACTIVE

Forces in Senate Fight Are Being Lined Up.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM GAINS

Much Grumbling Heard Among Republican Mild Reservationists. Outlook Is Dubious.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—During a truce in the peace treaty debate today, senate leaders marshaled their scattered forces for another and decisive attempt to reach a compromise on article 10.

As a result, some semblance of cohesion was restored among the compromise advocates on the republican and democratic sides, but the total of votes assured for any compromise was still short of the necessary two-thirds. Leaders expressed little hope of final agreement.

Resurrecting the new republican substitute for article 10 reservation, the republican leaders agreed on some changes in wording in the hope that they might regain the support of the handful of republican senators who refused to support the substitute yesterday. It was understood that they had not entirely succeeded tonight.

Democrats claim gains. Among the democratic compromise advocates, who claimed upward of 50 democratic votes for the substitute last night, was continued aggressively and the leaders asserted they had made further gains today. Late in the afternoon, however, Senator Hitchcock started a determined counter offensive against the new reservation, with the result that the status of compromise advocates of the democratic side became almost as uncertain as it was among the republicans.

The best claim made tonight by the most optimistic advocates of compromise fixed the democratic support for the substitute at 32 votes and the republican support for it at 39 votes. That left 71 votes to carry the bill, leaving a shortage of two votes from the 73 necessary to ratify the treaty.

Much Grumbling Heard. The situation contained many interesting possibilities, these being intimations that, among other things, the democrats were planning to introduce the substitute if the republicans failed to do so. There also were some grumblings of discontent among the republican mild reservationists and it was said the new draft might be presented from that quarter. The republican leaders finally decided to discard it.

During the day the treaty was not called before the senate at all, though Senator Brandegee, republican of Connecticut, one of the irreconcilables, made a speech criticizing the article 10 substitute and warning that if it were adopted President Wilson might treat it as an interpretation only, accept the ratification and tell the other powers that the reservation did not impair the nation's obligations.

Tomorrow the treaty will be taken up again formally, though the leaders do not expect a final vote on article 10 before Saturday.

AMERICA HELD RESPONSIBLE

Blame for Delay in Turkish Settlement Laid to U. S.

LONDON, March 11.—Blame for the troubles that are being experienced in settling the Turkish problem were laid at the door of the United States by Earl Curzon, the foreign secretary, in explaining the peace conference's negotiations to the house of lords today.

"The difficulty in framing the treaty is largely due to delay, and America is responsible for the delay," Lord Curzon said.

The foreign secretary added that the peace conference hoped that when the new states were set up in Asia Minor, however, the "United States would help materially in assisting the new Armenia."

Earl Curzon's exact statement follows:

"The difficulties with which we are confronted result from the fact that the treaty with Turkey, which has been taken up a year ago. The delay is solely due to America; it is deeply regrettable. I blame nobody, but the present situation is due to the fact that 12 months have been lost in dealing with it."

Earl Curzon spoke in answer to Viscount Bryce, who declared that the Turk had been directly or indirectly responsible for all the European wars in the past century, and maintained that he should have been driven out of Europe and behind the Taurus mountains.

Earl Curzon said the peace conference believed the only way to expect a quiet near east was to arrange things so that the new states could be on terms of friendship with some measure with their neighbors. To take Constantinople from the Turk and otherwise lay down too hard a peace, he declared, would only aggravate his hatred and result in an ending turmoil.

A plan for immediately impressing Turkey that the armistice had been completed, he said, and the allies had sent instructions to high commissioners at Constantinople to execute it.

LOSS OF APPETITE

Pimples and Other Eruptions—Mental and Physical Weakness.

They are all common at this time of year and are all indications that the blood is wanting in the power to defend the body against infectious and contagious diseases, because they are all indications that it needs cleansing, enriching and vitalizing.

It is important to give them attention—it is in fact hazardous to neglect them.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today and begin taking it at once, regularly after eating and if convenient in a little hot water.

Remember, this medicine has given satisfaction to three generations, for the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. It builds up the whole system. It makes food taste good.

The Emporium will prove to you that it is not necessary to pay high prices for serviceable wearing apparel. The daily experience of hundreds of women who purchase here bears out this statement.

Jersey Suits for Utility Wear

Suits made to sell much higher, but on account of a favorable purchase we can make this price. Tan, brown, Copen, Pekin and heather mixtures are shown, with attractive style features. Pin-tucked backs and fancy pockets, narrow belts, rows of buttons skillfully used, convertible or notched collars, play an important part. Any one of these clever suits will give a wealth of wear.

DRESSES

Of Modish and Practical Style
Jersey & Tricotine Frocks

There are Russian blouse models and the ever-becoming straight-line frocks, held in at the waistline with cord girdles or narrow belts of leather. Braid and thread embroidery in contrasting colors trim them. Such popular dresses borrow military trimness from the many rows of narrow black braid that smartly offsets them. Wonderfully good looking.

Tacoma Rector Praises Work of James Moore Hickson.

TACOMA, Wash., March 11.—(Special.)—Rev. C. Y. Grimes, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, declared that he spent the most quiet night in months last night after he had received the ministrations of James Moore Hickson, lay healer of the Church of England. Rev. Mr. Grimes has been near death for months and it was especially to visit the visitor that Mr. Hickson came to Tacoma, although he laid his hands on hundreds of others.

Rev. Sidney T. James, rector of St. Luke's church, declared that several of the persons who prayed with the miracle man reported improvement in their condition.

STOCKMEN WILL CONFER

Marketing Problem to Be Taken Up by Growers.

MONTAGE, Cal., March 11.—(Special.)—A meeting of the stockmen of Jackson, Josephine and Klamath counties, Oregon, and Siskiyou, Trinity, Modoc and Lassen counties, California, has been called for this place Saturday, March 13. The meeting is being arranged by Lewis Carrigan, secretary-manager of the Northern Counties association and the different farm advisers.

The purpose of the meeting is to consider the formation of an inter-marketing association for the stockmen of the eight counties named and to lay out a schedule of auction sales for the coming season. The plan is to market the cattle of southern Oregon and northern California in the same manner as hogs are marketed in some other sections of the country.
