F. S. AIKEN, 80, TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY THIS EVENING

Friends of Man Resident of City for Sixty-nine Years to Visit His Home at 8 East Seventeenth Street.

BY ADDISON BENNETT.

OVER on East Seventeenth street, at No. 8, there will be much commotion tonight. The automobiles will be drawing up and the neighbors will be tooting in to give a fervent "God bless you" to F. S. Aiken, for the party was arranged to give a few hundred of his friends and well wishers an opportunity of seeing one of the most interesting citizens of Portland, Frank S. Aiken.

The story of Mr. Aiken's life is in many ways like a dream, a dream that began in misery, but wound up in joy. So joyful, in fact, that the old man himself says he has never on his lips a subconscious, but audible "hum" of some old fervent and religious hymn. Happy? Why, F. S. Aiken is the happiest man in Oregon, one of the very happiest on earth, and nowhere else could he be found a more celebrating his 80th birthday so happy as he.

69 Years Spent in City.
 For 69 years Mr. Aiken has lived in Portland, arriving here with his father and six brothers and sisters. But not his mother! There was much sickness on their trip and the mother died in Idaho, seven miles below Salmon Falls; then at the Cascades a little sister was taken, and eight days after coming to Portland, the father died.

Think of it, dear reader, think of the parents and infant sister being buried in the same grave! At the age of a new country, leaving as head of the family a boy of 18, and of the burying of the mother and sister in a strange land, and of the father in the old Portland cemetery, on the block now covered by the Multnomah hotel.

Only F. S. Aiken now is left of the Aikens. The others have all passed away, but he is and for many years has been giving all of his time to the baby home, caring for infants up to 3 years of age, or rather taking them in to that age and finding new homes, new fathers and mothers for them.

Years Spent in Work.
 So long has he been a father to the fatherless that he often could, if he desired, point to some prosperous citizen working along Portland street and tell him all about his present "parents," and his start in life in a basket left on a step.

How can enough praise be given to such men as Mr. Aiken? How can we withhold our dollars from the community chest when the little babe that goes to the baby home is given to be cared for by men like Mr. Aiken to take care of these little babes, who otherwise might be lost?

Mr. Aiken has one other hobby—the craft called the Artisans. At 9

TRUCK DRIVER HURT.—Clement Sites, 35, of 376 Knott street, was slightly injured yesterday when a lumber truck operated by him was struck by an in-bound Oregon Electric train at the foot of Lincoln street yesterday afternoon. The truck was crushed to a mass of wreckage, but Sites escaped serious injury by jumping just before his truck was struck. The truck became stalled on the railroad crossing and the train rounded a sharp curve and hit it head-on before the motorman could apply the brakes. Sites was removed to a hospital, but later was taken home when his injuries were found to be slight.

FIREMEN TO HOLD MASQUERADE.—The Firefighters' Benevolent association will hold a masquerade ball and carnival at the Labor temple hall on the evening of St. Patrick's day. Music will be given by large orchestra and six prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. Serpentine and various other carnival novelties will be used and the decorations committee has arranged some new and novel decorations. The public is invited. Tickets may be purchased at the headquarters of the firemen in the city, or at the door on the night of the ball.

DEPENDENTS BROUGHT HERE.—John Wilkinson, who was arrested in Astoria on charges of bootlegging, was brought to Portland yesterday and lodged in the county jail to await action of the federal grand jury. Three alleged bootleggers also were brought from Astoria at the same time and their cases will be presented to the grand jury. They are Arthur Coppelan, Mitchell Stone and Frank Swanson. Two others charged with liquor violations, A. Counts and Ben Thompson, also are on bail in Astoria.

WOMAN BOOTLEGGER LOSES APPEAL.—Elizabeth Hontauk, fined $75 by Municipal Judge Roseman for bootlegging, failed in her appeal to the circuit court yesterday when a jury in the court of Circuit Judge Evans returned in four minutes from its deliberations with a verdict of guilty. She will be sentenced to the federal reformatory for women at Alderson, Wyo., on appeal. Judge Evans' policy has been to increase fines levied in the lower court on convictions on appeal. There were two women on the jury.

FORESTER IS PROMOTED.—R. M. Evans, supervisor of the Whitman national forest, has been appointed assistant district forester in charge of forest management of the eastern district, according to announcement at local forest service headquarters yesterday. Mr. Evans will be stationed at Washington, D. C., and will assume his new duties April 15. He has been associated with the work of the Oregon and Washington district of the forest service since 1910.

ALBERTA CLUB WILL MEET.—Alberta Commercial club will hold its 30th meeting next Monday night in Oddfellows' hall, East Seventeenth and Alberta streets, when plans will be discussed for the spring dance. The club will give a dance in Oddfellows' hall the night of April 1, for the benefit of the club's baseball team, which has been organized and will be a unit of the city league this season.

OBORN TRIAL IS SET.—Harvey E. Oborn, manager of the Holman Undertaking company, who was indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of white slavery, will be tried on May 1. The trial was set for May 1, yesterday morning by Federal Judge Bean. Assistant United States Attorney Byrnes will represent the United States in the case.

CARVER LINE TO BE EXTENDED.—Announcement was made yesterday by incorporators of the Viola Halfway company, that an extension of the Portland and Oregon City railway, more commonly known as the Carver line, will be made from Carver, Clatsamas county, a distance of nine miles, to Viola, on Clear creek. The total cost is given at $90,000.

PIVE ASK DIVORCES.—Divorce suits filed in the circuit court yesterday were: Florence W. against Wade E. McLane, Edith B. against Richard B. Munzel, Homer against Ruth Bennett, Louisa against William A. Voigt and Jennie against Albert E. Cook.

DR. SISON LUNCHEON SPEAKER.—Dr. E. O. Sison of Reed college will address the Social Workers' association on "The Mind of Democracy," at 12 o'clock today at a luncheon in the Seward hotel.

MORE TOURISTS EXPECTED

MIDDLE WEST MOTORISTS TO VISIT PACIFIC COAST.

Seattle Auto Association Officer in Portland on Way Home From Long Tour.

Motor tourists from the middle west are coming to Oregon and other Pacific coast states during the coming summer in greater numbers than ever before, according to D. A. Shelor, manager of the Western Washington Automobile association with headquarters in Seattle. Mr. Shelor has completed a two months' trip through the middle west and south and was in Portland yesterday on his way from California back to Seattle. He left last night for the sound.

Motor tourist business in the Pacific northwest thus far represents just a skimming of the surface so far as future possibilities along this line are concerned, Mr. Shelor said. He forecast a steady increase in tourist business for Oregon and Washington until this becomes one of the great states of the two states. Shelor made the trip through the middle west in the interests of closer co-operation between the automobile clubs of the different states, so that better exchange of road information and touring service could be provided.

While here he was the guest of the Oregon State Motor association. Yesterday noon he went to Vancouver to take a lunch arranged by the Vancouver branch of the Western Washington Automobile association and last night was the guest at a dinner at the Multnomah hotel given by the Oregon State Motor association. Following the dinner Mr. Shelor told of the impressions from his trip. Mr. Shelor formerly was a Portland newspaper man.

GODOWSKY U. S. CITIZEN

Master Pianist's Naturalization Papers Completed.

American in home, in associations and in friendships, Leopold Godowsky, the master pianist who plays in the Helling theater tonight, is also an American by naturalization. Mr. Godowsky's many concert tours have delayed the completion of his naturalization papers, although he had taken out his citizenship papers when he was a young man.

Recently in New York he determined that his citizenship should be made a reality, and in spite of a illness which confined him to his bed, he disobeyed medical instructions and he is Leopold Godowsky, American.

The oranges will be held by the government, pending condemnation proceedings. The fruit was declared to have been shipped here to Page & Son by the Randolph Marketing company of Salem, Cal.

INFLUENZA REPORT LESS FAVORABLE.—Eight deaths from influenza were reported to the city health bureau yesterday, covering Saturday afternoon, Sunday and Monday. This report is not so favorable as the reports issued by the bureau during the latter part of last week. Dr. John Abele, acting city health officer, is of the opinion, however, that the influenza epidemic in this city is on the wane.

PORTLAND WOMEN GOLDEN GLOBE.—P. Hetherington, executive secretary, and John T. Douglas, chairman of the members' forum of the Chamber of Commerce, went to Goldendale, Wash., yesterday to attend a reorganization meeting of the commercial body there. Both were scheduled to address the meeting last night and will return today.

DAMAGES FOR $11,500 ASKED.—Damages of $11,500 are sought from E. A. Sommer in a suit filed in the circuit court yesterday by Ashby L. Paulkner, who charges that an influenza he was stricken with was contracted on July 20, 1931.

BANK TELLER INDICTED

County Grand Jury Returns Bill Against Ernest Stewart.

For the alleged embezzlement of $3749 from the United States National bank, where he had been employed as teller, Ernest Stewart was indicted by the Multnomah county grand jury yesterday. He has been in jail since February 1 in default of $5000 bail, his arrest following a confession written to bank officials when he became conscience-stricken.

The embezzlements had been going on for months, Stewart said in his letter. He said he had been forced into taking the money by sickness at home and lack of sympathy from his wife. The latter and three children are in Spokane. Stewart said he believed he could make restitution by selling stories which he had been writing "feverishly."

Stewart got the money, he said, by appropriating remittances in the day's mail, replacing the sums with checks from the following day's mail. He handled large sums of money.

DEATH HELD UNAVOIDABLE

Coroner's Jury Exonerates Slayer of Orwell Selmer Jacobson.

ABERDEEN, Wash., March 14.—(Special).—The coroner's inquiry into the death of Orwell Selmer Jacobson, who was killed yesterday by being run over by a wood truck as he was crossing the street at the Stevens school in answer to the call bell.

That death was due to an unavoidable accident. The driver of the truck was exonerated. A feature of the report was a recommendation to the school board to fence the school grounds and so far as possible prevent the use of the street as a playground.

Do Teeth Sleep?

THERE'S no subterfuge—no mental or other reservation or evasion—when Dr. Stevenson says to you that he will extract a tooth or prepare it for any kind of dental work absolutely and to a certainty without pain, hurt or discomfort to you!

That's a strong statement—and a true one! Come to Dr. Stevenson with this idea firmly fixed in your mind: Whatever he does for your tooth is not going to hurt you! You'll leave the chair with the feeling that the doctor is an old friend!

Dr. Stevenson's local anæsthesia, highly perfected, puts only your tooth to sleep while the work is being done. You remain awake and enjoy it.
