

RAIL SESSION LARGE, SAYS LABOR LEADER

B. M. Jewell Reads Report of Supposed Conferences.

COUNTER-ATTACK BEGUN

Employees Declared Under Complete Domination of Chiefs, and Acting Under Duress.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Honest efforts by the railroads would have resulted in wage agreements without bringing the matter before the labor board. B. M. Jewell, head of the federated shop crafts, told the board today in continuing the presentation of evidence intended to show that the charges that the wage question was before the board illegally because the conferences between the roads and employees were improper.

Mr. Jewell read a long statement telling of previous conferences lasting several days each and pointed out that the conferences for the present dispute lasted only an hour or two in most cases.

"They were cut and dried and there was no attempt by the roads to hold a real conference or to reach an agreement," Mr. Jewell said.

John G. Walber today modified a statement he made in presenting evidence for eastern roads.

He had said that the employees were completely under the domination of their leaders, and that they were threatened by leaders, even "lynching bees" being planned at times.

Mr. Walber said he had been too strong in referring to lynching bees, but that he did not retract the other parts of his statement.

Citing the conference between the shopmen's committee and the management committee at the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe as "typical of conferences on all the roads," Mr. Jewell read long extracts from the minutes of two conferences in the company offices at Topeka, Kan.

Mr. Jewell recounted how the conference assembled December 11, 1931, and how the carriers' proposal of wage cuts was presented to the employees. There was little or no effort to present reasons for a cut, other than that freight and passenger rates must come down, and that wages should be reduced to allow the lower rates.

Compromise Is Refused.

T. A. Goff, chairman of the Santa Fe system Federation of shop workers, asked for some supporting evidence, according to Mr. Jewell, and was met with constant intimations that there could be no compromise.

Reading from the record, Mr. Jewell told the board that John Purcell, assistant to the vice-president of the Santa Fe, had told the employees that if they would not accept the road's proposition, there was no use of prolonging the conference. He further said, according to Mr. Jewell, that if the employees refused to accept the matter, they would immediately go to the labor board.

Mr. Goff then told Mr. Purcell that there had been no argument presented for such reductions, but the railroad official replied that he did not think the committee could get any closer together if they stayed there six months, Mr. Jewell said.

The witness then quoted Mr. Goff as saying that his committee would accept a reduction if it was shown to be justified but that the committee did not consider a conference had been held within the meaning of the transportation act requiring negotiations of disputes before bringing the matter to the board.

Second Conference Failure.

That conference lasted three days, Mr. Jewell continued, when it was adjourned until January 13. A second conference on that date similarly failed.

"The record of this conference, which is typical of those on all roads, shows the attitude of the railroad," said Mr. Jewell. "It shows that the employees met the committee with open minds, fully empowered to accept that they continually pressed the company to compromise, and all they got was an evasive answer. The management refused to move from its position, and would offer no evidence in support of its claim."

Label Case Is Argued

CEANCES OF MISLEADING
PUBLIC DISCUSSED.

Connecticut Hosiery Company Action, Brought by Trade Commission, Is Heard.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14.—Whether manufacturers who brand their goods on articles produced by them which are common and known to the trade can be prosecuted for using unfair methods of competition because the brands may mislead the purchasing public, was orally argued today in the supreme court in a case brought by the federal trade commission against the Winsted Hosiery company of Connecticut.

The government insisted that the use by the company of the words "merino," "wool" and "worsted" in labeling underwear composed of a small amount of wool and a large amount of cotton, was an imposition upon the public and that this view had been recognized by certain manufacturers' associations which had recommended the abandonment of the practice.

Justice Pitney suggested that the business methods presented indicated some manufacturers "were willing to play the game against the public."

M. J. France, counsel for the company, declared there has been no misbranding because it had been the custom of the trade, commonly practiced by all manufacturers of knit goods.

Justice Pitney suggested that the word "merino," according to some recognized dictionaries and in the trade, indicated, Mr. France said, a mixture of wool and cotton, whereas Solicitor-General Beck insisted that the public understood it to mean wool.

present treaty programme, he said, were following the footsteps of ex-President Wilson by endangering the result in order to preserve their handwork intact.

Both Senators Lodge, republican, Massachusetts, the republican leader, and Underwood, democrat, Alabama, the democratic leader, argued against the amendments on the ground that they would necessitate reopening the negotiations. When Senator Walsh suggested that the American people would not be satisfied with such an explanation, Senator Lodge retorted that "we'll risk that."

Politics Is Charged.

Politics on both sides of the chamber, during both the Versailles treaty fight and the present contest, was charged by Senator Williams, democrat, Mississippi, who also declared that if Great Britain were not a party to the treaty, "Irish-American and German-American opposition" would have disappeared long ago. Both Senators Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, and Stanley, democrat, Kentucky, replied declaring resentment at the injection of such a suggestion into the debate.

The roll call on the Robinson amendment follows:

For Adoption—
Republicans—Borah, France, Johnson, La Follette—4.
Democrats—Ashurst, Caraway, Cullen-son, Fletcher, Gerry, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hitchcock, Kendrick, Myers, Overman, Pittman, Robinson, Shepperd, Shields, Simmons, Smith, Stanley, Tamm, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana and Watson of Georgia.
Total for—30.

Against Adoption.
Republicans—Baile, Braniff, Duggan, Calder, Cameron, Capper, Colt, Cummins, Curtis, Dillingham, Dupont, Edge, Ellims, Ewing, Gurnea, Harlan, Hendrick, Hiram, Jones of Washington, Kellogg, Keys, Ladd, Leavelle, Lodge, McNamara, Mc-Cumber, McKinley, McLean, McNary, Neisson, Newberry, Nicholson, Norbeck, Nor-riss, O'Connor, O'Fallon, O'Neil, Pennington, Hawson, Shortridge, Smoot, Spencer, Stanford, Sterling, Stephens, Townsend, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson of Indiana and Willis—31.
Total—61.

Senator McKellar Paired.

Of the absentees it was announced that three republicans, Harrell, New and Weller, and the democrats, Daniel, Owen and Trammell, opposed the amendment, while Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, was announced as favoring the amendment.

Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, was paired in favor of the amendment.

The text of the Robinson amendment follows:

"Each of the high contracting parties will respect the rights and possessions of all other nations and refrain from all acts of aggression against any other power or powers. If there should develop between any of the high contracting parties and any other power or powers, a controversy relating to said insular rights and possessions or to any far eastern questions which is not satisfactorily settled by diplomatic means, it is likely to affect the harmonious accord subsisting between any party or parties to this compact and any other power or powers, the high contracting parties shall invite all powers claiming an interest in the controversy to a joint conference for the purpose of settling the same. The whole subject shall be referred for consideration and adjustment."

Bucoda Building Dedicated.

CENTRALIA, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—Bucoda's new Oddfellows building, recently completed at a cost of approximately $15,000, was dedicated Saturday night. About 400 persons attended the dedication service, conducted by Grand Master George Chamberlain of Tacoma and his staff.

Bucoda Rehearsals served a supper, the new building is two stories and of concrete construction. The ground floor is for business and the upper story for lodge purposes.

Illiteracy Board Named.

KELSO, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—Cowlitz county's illiteracy commission has been appointed by County Superintendent Gardner, who is chairman of the commission.

Members are Mrs. Walter McClelland, Mrs. Hite Imus and Mrs. Bennett of Kalama and Mrs. Clara Burdett of Kelso. The commission will work to obliterate all illiteracy in this county, there being very few illiterates at present.

Centralia Masons to Build.

CENTRALIA, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—C. L. Rickard, secretary of the building committee of Centralia Masons lodge, No. 83, yesterday called for bids to be opened April 8 for the erection of a three-story brick building on property owned by the lodge at the corner of Pearl and Magnolia streets. The ground floor will contain store rooms and the second floor will be for lodge purposes.

Rate Hearing at Tacoma March 20.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—The department of public works was notified today to join with the interstate commerce commission in a joint hearing at Tacoma, March 20, on the application of the railroad to eliminate breakfast foods in less than carload lots from carload rates enjoyed in grain and grain products.

Army Seeking Recruits.

MONTESANO, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—Captain George A. Jahan, 33rd infantry, and a detachment of six enlisted men are in Montesano this week seeking recruits for the army. The detachment is traveling by truck and a headquarters camp has been established in South First street. According to Captain Jahan, the army is short 20,000 men of its authorized strength of 150,000.

Youth Committed to Reformatory.

KELSO, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—Ruben Beck, 14-year-old Woodland boy, was committed to the state training school at Chehalis yesterday for having stolen a bicycle. The boy had been in trouble repeatedly and despite many promises to the judge continued to play truant and to misbehave.

Elks Building Fund Grows.

ABERDEEN, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—Bonds totaling $75,000 have been subscribed for the proposed new Aberdeen Elks' home, which makes one-half of the necessary sum pledged or in sight. The remainder of the needed sum is expected to be found by April 1.

GIRLS! LEMONS

WHITEN ROUGH

CHAPPED HANDS

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerine and rose water in smoothing the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.

GOTHAM ARRAIGNED BY BAPTIST PASTOR

Youth Jazz-Wild and Dance-Crazy, Says Dr. Straton.

UNDRESS ACCEPTED STYLE

Overthrow of "Pulpit Pussy-Footing" and Adoption of More Sensational Preaching Urged.

NEW YORK, March 14.—In a letter addressed to "discriminating New Yorkers," Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, today pleaded for the overthrow of "pulpit pussyfooting" and the adoption of more "sensational" preaching.

It was from Dr. Straton's pulpit that William A. Brady, theatrical producer, recently defended the morals of the stage and moving picture studio, in an open debate with the pastor. Rev. Stuart MacArthur, pastor emeritus, recently withdrew from the congregation after criticizing Dr. Straton's preaching.

"There is no use in trying to heal the cancer of sin with soothing syrup," Dr. Straton declared in his open letter, "and it is idle to sprinkle cologne water upon the putrid iniquities of a rebellious race."

Christ Held Sensationalist.

The clergyman declared that if it were a crime for a preacher to be a sensationalist, then Amos, Elijah, Daniel, Peter, Paul and even the divine son of God himself would have been convicted as criminals in their day.

Of the times, Dr. Straton said: "We have reached a pass where messengers cannot step from a newspaper office into an automobile, waiting directly in front of the door, without being robbed of thousands of dollars."

"Peaceful merchants are murdered in their open shops. Many of the playhouses are so foul that our children cannot walk the streets without confronting veritable tramps of hell, the wiliness of which is reflected even upon the billboards."

"Our young men and women are jazz wild and dance crazy. School girls, even, are poisoning themselves by smoking cigarettes. They have forgotten to blush and are being taught that the smart thing is to use the lipstick and paint pot and to swagger at least a little bit."

Undress Accepted Style.

"A condition of undress that would formerly have caused a raid by police even in the tenderloin, now is the accepted style in the hotel lobby, theater, ballroom and even in the streets. The flapper has taken the place of true femininity. Contemptible little dogs are in the arms of wives instead of babies."

"The marriage vow is being thrown aside like a scrap of paper. Our American life is being broken up by a thousand outside attractions. The Sabbath day is being desecrated by commercialism. Some of our preachers have lost faith in the Bible and gone mad over amusements and materialistic rationalism."

"The very foundations of our modern life seem at times to be trembling."

MRS. POWELL ON STAND

Opera Singer Testifies in Damage Suit Against Railroad.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Mrs. Alma Webster Powell, ex-opera singer, testified before Supreme Court Justice Crosey in Brooklyn today in support of her claim that a railroad accident July 2, 1929, caused her voice to become permanently impaired. She is suing the New York Central Railroad company for $15,000 for injuries received when one of the cars of a train on which she was traveling was derailed near Miller-ton, N. Y.

Beside losing her singing voice, Mrs. Powell testified that she received other serious injuries. Her right ankle was broken, she said, making the right leg two inches shorter than the left; her right wrist was fractured and the right little finger was broken so that it is now crooked. The latter two injuries prevent artistic piano playing, Mrs. Powell told the court.

Accused in cross-examination of offering to go "fifty-fifty" with one of the physicians who attended her if he would testify in her favor, Mrs. Powell indignantly cried: "Preposterous."

Immigration Order Protested.

ASTORIA, Or., March 14.—(Special.)—Some weeks ago the immigration department issued an order that, owing to a shortage of money, each employee of the department must take a furlough of one month without pay this spring. This would have meant the closing of the local office, as only one inspector is stationed here. An announcement was made this morning, however, that R. P. Bonham, inspector in charge of this immigration district, has forwarded a strong recommendation to the department that the local office be kept open continuously and that Roy J. Nore, the local inspector, be exempt from the enforced furlough. A reply from the department is expected within the next week.

Well-Known Logger Killed.

KELSO, Wash., March 14.—(Special.)—C. E. Orrell, a well-known logger of this city, was killed at the Eufaula company's logging camp, near Mount Sol, yesterday when he slipped and fell beneath the train. He was employed as a brakeman, a work he had followed for many years. He leaves his widow. The body was brought to Kelso this afternoon.
