DELIGHTFUL OUTINGS.—Excursion fares to Columbia Gorge Points Much Reduced. The Columbia river region between Portland and The Dalles will be much more attractive this summer to the fellow who doesn't own an automobile than ever before because of the greatly reduced excursion fares that have just been fixed upon by the Union Pacific to go into effect on Saturday next, April 15, and continue daily all summer. Remember these are not merely week-end fares.

Every station between and including Portland and The Dalles is included in the new tariff, and an advantage not heretofore enjoyed is that the fares apply both ways, that is, Portland to any point and return or vice versa. Following is the list: Fairview ... $2.75 Herman ... $2.55 Troutdale ... $3.00 West ... $2.70 Corbett ... 1.15 Lindsey ... 2.90 Latourell ... 1.35 Viento ... 3.00 Lushier ... 1.40 Bonny ... 3.15 Bridalveil ... 1.45 Meno ... 3.20 Mult'ns Falls ... 1.45 Rubton ... 3.25 Onocenta ... 1.75 Hood River ... 3.45 Dodson ... 1.90 Mosier ... 3.75 Warrendale ... 1.95 Chatfield ... 3.95 Bonneville ... 2.10 Rowena ... 4.15 Eagle Creek ... 2.25 Crates ... 4.35 Cascade Locks ... 2.35 The Dalles ... 4.60 The return limit is one day following the date of sale.

The usual week-end roundtrip fares from Portland to the principal stations named above also go into effect next Saturday. They are a little lower, and of course will be the preferred fares for Saturday and Sunday trips into the Columbia Gorge region. Read them:

Latourell ... $1.20 Cascade Locks ... $2.10 Bridalveil ... 1.20 Herman ... 2.50 Mult'ns Falls ... 1.45 West ... 2.40 Onocenta ... 1.55 Viento ... 2.70 Dodson ... 1.70 Hood River ... 3.05 Warrendale ... 1.75 Crater ... 3.45 Bonneville ... 1.90 Rowena ... 3.85 Eagle Creek ... 1.95 The Dalles ... 4.10

An entirely new feature for the Columbia river week-end trip is the privilege of returning on the North Bank road if desired from either Cascade Locks, Hood River or The Dalles. For this privilege the fare will be $2.55 via Cascade Locks and Stevenson; $3.50 via Hood River and Union River or White Salmon; and $4.45 via The Dalles and Granddalls. Ferry service across the river is not included in the fare.

The train service of the Union Pacific makes the trip to and from the stations above named very comfortable and affords a most delightful outing.—Adv.
