Perilous Journeys to School

The Northwest Film Center presents "On the Way to School," Pascal Plisson's award-winning documentary extolling the true worth of getting, and getting to, an education. Shot in Kenya, Patagonia, Morocco, and the Bay of Bengal, the film follows the perilous journeys of four children on their ways to school with breathtaking cinematography. Screens on Saturday, April 11 at 7 p.m., and Sunday, April 12 at 2 p.m., 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. at the Portland Art Museum. Admission $9.

Author Back for Book Awards

Award-winning author and homegrown Portlander Mitchell S. Jackson will be back in Portland this week to host the 28th Annual Oregon Book Awards Ceremony courtesy of Literary Arts, Oregon's most prominent literary organization.

Jackson's debut novel, The Residue Years, was selected by the Multnomah County Library to be their highlighted book of the year through their Everybody Reads program, and his work has garnered critical acclaim throughout the United States.

In celebration of Literary Arts 30th anniversary and with the support of the Brian Booth Writers' Fund, the Oregon Book Awards & Fellowships program is granting a total of $59,000 to Oregon's writers and publishers this year, all of whom will be announced at the ceremony.

The celebration takes place Monday, April 13h at the Gerding

Theater at the Armory, located at 128 N.W. 11th Ave., from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Tickets start at $10 and can be purchased at brownpapertickets.com.
