

SEEK STEAMER TERMINAL

TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY WANTS A PACIFIC PORT.

Representatives of the Russian Government Are Now Here on a Tour of Inspection.

A. Badyansky and two other prominent Russians arrived here yesterday and registered at the Hotel Portland.

They represent the Russian government in an official capacity, and come to the Pacific coast on a very important mission, which is to recommend a terminus for a great Russian steamship line.

It has been definitely determined that Vladivostok shall be the terminus of the Siberian railway, and from that point Russia is desirous of getting into close touch with the United States.

Mr. Badyansky and his two companions are commissioners to examine these ports of the Pacific and report back to their government on the advantages of each.
