

The marriage of Miss Jennie Claytor

to Dr. L. A. Kent was solemnized on Thursday, January 14, at the residence of the groom's mother, Mrs. Nancy Kent, at Dillard, Or. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Howard, a ploncer of Dillard, in the presence of close rela-tives only. Both the bride and groom have very many friends in Portland. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Ashford Clayton, of Cole's valley, and a well-known ploneer of Douglas county. The groom is a former Turns Out in Force for the Third of the Assembly Dances-Other Events of the Week.

The third of the Assembly dances was given at Parsons hall, on Friday evening last. The hall presented a pretty spectacle of sylvan scenes, with its artistically arranged decorations of evergreens, fresh from the forest, and the pleasing effect was enhanced by the beauty of Portland's fairest society women. On either side of the hall were arranged tete-a-tete bowers of soft woodland greens, illuminated by Japanese lanterns of delicately tinted hues and shades. At the upper end of the room was stationed the orchestra, behind a beautiful and glittering spiderweb, interwoven with tropical palms and plants. To the right of the orchestra was a large retreat, constructed of seasonable boughs and ferns, artisticaly placed, and in which punch and light refreshments were served between dances. Shortly after midnight an elaborate repast was served at vis-a-vis imbles, decorated with rare potted plants. The petronesses of the occas on were: Mrs. George Good and Mrs. Walter J. Burns, who welcomed the gnests in a most charming manner. The tollets of the ladies were noticeable for beauty and ele-

AMONG THE COLLEGES. Events of the Week at the State University-Elsewhere.

At the state university, the principal event of the week was the reception given on Wednesday evening by the local alumni association and Dr. and Mrs. Strong in honor of the U. O. Glee Club. The affair was held in Villard hall, and a large number of students, graduates and other friends of the institution were present. Professor E. H. McAllster, '90, gave the opening address in which he set forth the mems of the newly formed alumni lub, Dr. Strong spoke briefly concerning the work of the gice boys, and their elation to the university, and Professor. M. Glen, '84, told of the club's enhusiastic reception throughout Eastern Oregon. The Glee Club sang and of course were encored time and again. The Treble Clef Club then favored the audience with a selection, after which the "Rough House Quartet," Messrs. Blythe, Goodrich, McArthur and Whittlesey, sang a "rooting verse," a relic of last Thanks-giving day. Friday evening the Laurean Society

MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE.

Students Back and at Work, Refreshed by Their Vacation. College reopened on the 3d inst., after a vacation of 10 days. The great majority of the students spent their vacation at their respective homes. A few remained at the college, some of whom were visited by their parents. A few new students have arrived.

The question as to the advisability of establishing a university near Portland is still under consideration. Liberal offers have been made in order to induce the Fathers to undertake the work, but as the undertaking is a weighty one, involving great risks and large expenditure, some time must elapse before all the conditions will be fully considered and a letinite decision made. A debating society has been organized by the college students. The members meet once a week and are most enthusiastic over the prospect.

Last Saturday evening the members of the athletic club gave an entertainment to the faculty, college and seminary. The programme embraced vocal solos, tumbling, wrestling, boxing and bag-punching contests. The entertainment was interesting and enjoyable throughout.
