

TWOPLACES HELD UP

Senator Mitchell's Recommendations May Prevail.

OREGON MAN TO SUCCEED IVEY

Burns Land Office Vacancy Still Open

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Two Oregon appointments are held up, and probably will not be made until the delegation is here.

The President will appoint nobody that he is not sure is a good man for any position, but the impression prevails that Mitchell's recommendation will receive more consideration than that of any other member of the delegation.

Portland Given a Show.

The constant hammering which the Oregon delegation and the City of Portland have made at the Quartermaster's Department has had the effect of giving Portland some show whenever an opportunity offers.

No Tariff Legislation.

It is now well understood among those who have conferred with the President that he will not recommend any tariff legislation at this session.

likely to be confined to suggestions as to reduction of internal taxation. While he will have something to say about the trusts, he will not indorse the Babcock bills, but will give a rather strong recommendation to reciprocity treaties, suggesting reciprocal agreements with any country where trade and commerce can be improved.

The surplus in the Treasury is not regarded as any great menace by the President, especially as he has been advised that the river and harbor, and the Nicaragua Canal bills will no doubt pass in the coming session, and require a considerable outlay.

Denunciation of Canal Treaty.

The denunciation by Nicaragua of the canal treaty, so far as known here, is regarded as a step in the direction of the construction of the canal.

Tuesday's Election and the Senate.

The election last Tuesday will not affect the political complexion of the United States Senate, which will convene in December.

Criticism of Schley.

Now that the Schley court of inquiry has concluded everything except preparing a verdict, there is considerable speculation as to what the result will be.

Rush for Generalships.

The vacancies which will occur by the retirement of Generals Merritt and Hall have resulted in tremendous pressure being brought to bear upon the President.
