At Seaside House,

At Senside House a pretty little birth-day party was given Miss Martha Hoyt upon reaching her fifth birthday. The little ones joyously watched the cutting of the large birthday cake that contained a ring, a thimble, and a dime. Jack Laidlaw drew the ring, Hazelton Will-fams the thimble, and little George Tay-lor the dime. George Taylor would have felt like 30 cents if he had had 20 cents felt like 30 cents if he had had 20 cents

Imitation Delft-ware is not sold in the City of Delft, and so this one firm certainly has a good time. for it has no rivals in this line, real or otherwise. The proprietor, Reyners, a very wealthy man, has the business kept up for the advantage of Delft, and the number of foreigners who wish to pur-traveler finds on leaving the station by simple following his nose, as all steps seem to wend onward to the place where we find the one small first-class botel, the only Delft blue shop, one or two postcard shops, the New Church, the Old Church, the ugly old Palace of the Princes of Or-ange, the schoolhouse, and even the ros-trum from which the loud tuneless Delft band plays on Sundays. In the New Church, to which tickets of admission are procured at Reyners' Delft shop, are the remains of all the Princes and Princesses of the House of Orange-Nassuu, 25 in all, beginning with in Berlin, and thinks seriously of going to William I, and ending with the last King William III, father of the present Queen. A very simple but beautiful monument is that of Hugo de Groot, who died in 1845, and who was one of the greatest scholarly gentuses the world has ever known. On July 4, 1889, the delegates of America to the International Fence Con-ference of The Hungue calebrated the 1994 ference of The Hngue celebrated the 1234 anniversary of Independence day by doing homage to the memory of Hugo de Groot, A beautiful solid sliver and gold wreath, which was made by Marcus, jeweler of Berlin, was fastened to the tomb. The Tivoli Opera Company, from the favorite organization will begin a one week's engagement. The company is known all over the country as one of the strongest ever got together, and they will present, in addition to "The Toymaker" and "The Idoi's Eye," the great comio opera with which the Bostonians were so long identified, "The Serenade." This com-pany gave the opera for six weeks during the season just passed at the home thea-ter, and press and public were unanimous in their praise of the company and the production. Everywhere comparisons were made with the original company, and all in favor of the Tivoli rendition. The opera is by the foremost writers of comic opera in this country. Smith and Herbert, and is conceded to be their best effort in that line. The Tivoli Company comes to

FISHING IN THE SURF AT END OF FALSE WORK, GOVERNMENT JETTY, AT MOUTH OF COLUMBIA.

Interest in the Government improvements at the mouth of the Columbia River is heightened by the fact that Congress has made an appropriation of $1,500,000 for extension of the present jetty, that will insure a minimum depth at mean low tide of 35 to 40 feet of mater over the har at the entrance to this magnificent harbor. Even with these improvements only partially completed, as they are today, vessels of 10,000 to 12,000 tons carrying capacity ascend the Columbia and Willamette Rivthat y comparison is intry and shipping port of the Pacific Northwest, at all stages of water. On the completion of extensive improvements contemplated at the mouth of the Columbia River, appropriation for which has already been made, the largest venues affrait will be able to enter this river, whose watershed embraces within its limit a country that in its extent and in the diversity of its productive powers is the richest part of the United States. The Government jetty at the mouth of the Columbia River is reached via the line of the Astoria & Columbia River Rail rond Company, by way of Flavel and Fort Stevens. Many Seaside visitors there find good sport fishing from the false work at the jetty's end.
