Lewis and Clark Fair Issues 300,000 Books.

ALL ABOUT OREGON COUNTRY

Edition of Thirty-Six Tons, Full of Fine Pictures and Impressive Facts Which Will Enlighten the People on Oregon.

Thirty-six tons of pamphiets adver-tising the Lewis and Clark Exposition and the Oregon country generally have finished a journey through the presses and are now ready for distribution throughout the United States. There are 300,000 of the booklets-more than half a dozen such editions, as the most popular novels may claim. Great con-fidence is placed by the Exposition management in the power of this tre-mendous edition as an advertising me-

Arrangements for the distribution of the books have not yet been completed, although it is intended to ship 50,000 copies to St. Louis for distribution uncopies to St. Louis for distribution un-der the supervision of Commissioner-General Dosch. To the largest news-papers of the country, 4000 in number, will be sent copies, together with a short review of the contents in order that the book reviewers may know at a glance what the book contains. Sev-eral thousand copies will be held at eral thousand copies will be held at Exposition headquarters for filling mail requests. Just what disposition will be made of the rest has not yet been determined.

The booklet, which was compiled by Secretary Henry Reed, of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, is especially attractive in make-up, aside from the large amount of general information and data it contains. Furthermore, it is of a size which will fit easily in one's coat pocket, and thus, in many instances, will escape being thrown away when the recipient lacks energy to carry a book around in his or her hands. The feature of the book is its fine fillustrations of many picturesque, characteristic and pleasing scenes of the Oregon Country. The reading mat-ter deals for the most part with the industries and resources of Oregon, and the inducements it offers to settlers and investors. There are chapters, also, on the States of Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming. The place of prominence is devoted to the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Lewis and Clark Exposition.

The wonderful progress that has been made throughout the Oregon Country in recent years is shown forcibly. The area of this great country, composed of Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming, was, it is shown, nearly 307,000 square miles when explored in 1805-6. Its population in 1850 was 13,300, while in 1904. tion in 1850 was 13,300, while in 1904 it is 1,500,000. In 1850 it produced 276,-000 bushels of grain, and in 1900 over 64,000,00 bushels. Its manufactures have grown from $2,250,000 in 1850 to $200,000,000 in 1904. It now annually adds to the Nation's store of wealth $70,000,000 in gold, silver, copper

Concerning the present State of Oregon, the following facts are given:
"Value of the standing timber at an average price of $12 per thousand feet for lumber, $5,600,000,000; foreign commerce, $12,600,000 a year; exports of breadstuffs in 1903, $8,668,619; Government and state lands open to settle-ment, 23,250,000 acres; output of dairies, $2,500,000 a year; annual produc-tion of hops, 16,000,000 pounds; value tion of hops, 16,000,000 pounds; value of poultry and eggs, $4,250,000; value of livestock, $34,000,000; value of manufacturing output, $84,000,000; output of fisheries, $3,000,000 a year; value of orchard products, $3,000,000 a year; product of mines, $5,000,000 a year."

J. J. Hill Will Testify Against Man Soliciting "Write-Ups."

MINNEAPOLIS. May 7.—Benjamin Smith is under arrest here on a charge of swindling, the complainant in the case being ex-Senator W. D. Wash-burn. It is said one of the witnesses against Smith when he is brought to trial will be J. J. Hill. Smith, repre-senting himself as a representative of an encyclopedia and art concern, called on Mr. Washburn and exhibited a check for $150 purporting to have been signed by James J. Hill for a "write-up" in an encyclopedia. Mr. Washburn was impressed, and Smith secured a check for him for $150. Among Smith's effects was found a letter of identification to Mr. Hill written on private paper of Andrew Carnegie aring the coat of arms of Skibo

EX-GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK TO NOMINATE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

FRANK S. BLACK.

Frank Swett Black, who is to make the principal speech nominating Theodore Receivelt for President at the Republican National Convention, next June, was born in Maine in 1863. He graduated from Dartmouth College in 1875, and engaged in journalism. He was editor of the Johnstown (N. T.) Journal, and later was a reporter on the Troy (N. Y.) Whig. He was admitted to the bar in 1879, served in Congress 1895-97, and was elected Governor of New York in 1897, retiring in 1898.

Taggart Encourages Tammany.

Tammany men are taking great comfort in an interview with Thomas Tuggart, the big man in Indiana. In this interview, which took place at Indianapolis, Mr. Taggart, who has been a strong Parker man, is quoted as saying that efforts in behalf of the New York Judge will not be relaxed, but admitted there is a growing sentiment for McClellan in Indiana, and wound up by saying that if New York should find that Parker cannot be nominated without danger of party disruption, McClellan may receive the Indiana vote.

Tammany spokesman, sprung a boom for District Attorney Folk, of St. Louis, in a speech he delivered during the closing hours of Congress, but Mr. Folk has come back with the statement that he wants to be Governor, and won't take anything else, as he regards his first duty now to see that the people of Missouri are pro-tected against grafters and boodlers. This naturally disposed of the Folk boom what there was of it, in short order. Ever since Bryan's speech at Chicago, in which he attacked the New York platform, there has been a feeling that Parker would have to ultimately be dropped and some man taken up who would not be personally offensive to Bryan and that large element of the party that swears ago, which was told of in The Oregonian D. B. HILL PRODS TIGER ago, which was told of in The Oregonian at the time. McClellan was a regular in 1896 and 1900, and it is believed his nomination would be pleasing to the Bryan

Should McClellan be nominated the probabilities are that he would be knifed by the Hill men, but the Tammanyites are prepared with statistics to show that Hill's following is a paper organization, and in the entire state he can hardly count on the absolute control of as many votes as an ordinary Tammany assembly district leader.

Of course New York delegates will go to St. Louis bound for Parker, but the Tammany men expect to do a good deal of effective talking regardless of the fact that their votes will be delivered for a man they declare publicly and privately cannot be elected. They are going to make the fight of their lives and expect to convince the delegates from other sections of the Union that it would be suicidal to name New York's Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals to run against

But no matter what the outcome may be, this bitterest of fights has left sores that will take long to heal, and Republicans realize that the skies are getting brighter, and they are beginning to see the stars which denote political victory There is only one thing absolutely certain in politics," confided Senator Chauncey M. Depew to a group in the Amer corner at the Fifth Avenue Hotel the other night, "and that is that when they have a chance to win, one can confident ly count on the Democratic party in New York state making fools of themselves. And his hearers, all astute Republicans cordially agreed with him.

Hearst Boom Killed.

There isn't much talk about the Hearst boom nowadays, and politicians are generally of the opinion that it has been killed. Mr. Hearst has no headquarters in this city nowadays, and his papers are devoting less than half their usual space to descriptions of the progress of the boom. All of which is significant,

It is now a question whether his name will even be presented to the convention. He expects to get encouraging results in June. The figures are: the South, and has Iowa "cinched," but outside of that the actual results have not come up to the preliminary press agent reports.

One thing is clear, however, and that is that he has spent a frightful amount of money, and the men employed on his papers fear that they will be compelled to make good later. In fact the only happy persons are those who had the handling of the money during the early days when everything looked rosy.

Candidate Seizes Election Books.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 7 .- At the Republican primaries today Grant P. Hall, running for Secretary-of-State. created a sensation by securing the election books in the Fourth Ward. This was because the election officers refused him challengers. The trouble finally resulted in the polls not being opened, Hall was arrested and re-moved from the polls. At Patrick, where Gene Chandler was shot last night, the polls were not even opened

STATEVOTE 100,000

Republican Plurality 20,000, Says Frank C. Baker.

STATE CHAIRMAN PROPHESIES

Campaign Will Be Short, but Desire to Start the Roosevelt Ball Rolling Stimulates Interest in Result.

One hundred thousand votes in the state elections next June is the prophecy of Frank C. Baker, chairman of the Re-publican State Central Committee. A plu-rality of 20,000 votes is Mr. Baker's size-up of the Parablican up of the Republican conquest.
"And I'm not a hot-air artist, either," says Mr. Baker. But Alex Sweek, chairman of the Dem-ocratic State Central Committee, has brave notions of his own. Vaingloriously and grandiloquently he proclaims that his sharpshooters will pick off all the Re-publicans in sight. That's the way for him to talk as chief of the unterrified, and that's why he does it.

"How big will be the Republican plurality?" was asked of Alex yesterday.

Alex was in a hurry, for the sunbeams of Washington County were fondly waiting for him, and the orb of day was sinking for him, and the orb of day was sinking in the West ere Alex started on his journey. "There will be a good-sized plurality," he stoutly declared, but immediately catching the dismay on the face of his myrmidons, corrected himself and expialned: "Republican plurality? There ain't going to be any."

"Not even one vote plurality?"

"No, str." he stubbornly responded, and that very moment was off for the subsams of Washington County.

"B-r-r-r-" sounded a noise from Mr. Baker when Alex' defi was carried to his ears. The noise was of Mr. Baker's clear.

ears. The noise was of Mr. Baker's clear-ing his throat. It was very flerce, indeed, and came from far down the orifice. "Our friends, the enemy," said he, "Our friends, the enemy," said he, "would better be sure their people are go-ing to stay on the ticket before they talk too much. Our folks haven't got enough places on the ticket for the boys. Their feiks haven't got enough boys for the Whitney L. Boise, Chairman of the Re-publican County Central Committee, took a shot at the unterrified, too. "Hot air," said he, "don't cost them anything, but if they're doing anything nobody has beard of it."

Stirring Up Registration.

Stirring Up Registration.

Mr. Boise will be ready to open the campaign with brase bands, Roman candles and spellbinders next week. The organization has to work now in full-swing. It is rounding up electors for registration, sending and taking them to the County Clerk's office and supplying out-of-town voters with affidavits through notaries. A great deal of such work will be accomplished this week. Mr. Boise has set the members of the executive committee busily at work. Each of the tencity mambers has charge of a ward and is there directing the precinct organizais there directing the precinct organiza-tion. Headquarters have been established in McKay building and Mr. Boise has already purchased furniture therefor. already purchased furniture therefor.
The campaign will last three weeks. It will be sharp and brisk all the while.
Republican strategists plan to put Democrats to rout at once and to keep them running all the while. The enemy's gen-

"Three weeks," said John, "is long enough. I don't believe in a long fight and never did."

When Chairman Baker heard the faint prevail here, the best of results are exschoes of the loud Democratic boastings, he warmed up at once.

"They're talking for a loud noise," pro-claimed Mr. Baker, of Alex and John. "They're like the boy out in the street who has clams to sell."

Mr. Baker Plans Trip.

Mr. Baker plans to travel over the state apostle of the faith. "But I'm not going to preach," said he, "on, no. Then what am I going to do? Oh, I'll sow ittle seeds of kindness."

Mr. Baker hopes to see Republicans roll up a big plurality next June. He counts a big plurality then as more to be desired than in November.

"The eyes of the whole United States," sail he, "will be on Oregon next June. This state owes a big vote to the Republican cause in June, chiefly for Roose-velt's benefit. It won't make so much difference in November, for Roosevelt will carry Oregon anyhow. But the political effect of the June election will be immense, Oh, yes!"

100,000 Votes in June.

Mr. Baker has dug up the record of the last nine state elections in Oregon From them he estimates that 100,000 voters in this state will cast their ballots in

REAR GUARD OF SETTLERS.

Last of the Season's Immigrants

Yesterday marked the last day of the special immigrant rates over the rail-roads for this season. Only a few families who are seeking homes in the Northwest came in over the various lines during the day. The travel of this class has been gradually dwindling for two or three days past and there will be no more be-days past and there will be no more before Fall.

Since the special rates were inaugurated in the Spring, the roads have brought to Oregon and Washington several thousand persons, it is estimated, though the exact number cannot be figured at this time.
A large portion of these people have settied in the Willamette Valley, many of them having located homes there on previous occasions. Of the remainder, a portion went to Idaho and others to Washington.

In advertising the special rates to the Northwest for homeseekers, the railroads have endeavored to do it among a class crats to rout at once and to keep them running all the while. The enemy's generals are trying to raise a campaign fund but the money doesn't roll in plentifully, despite Republican prosperity. They will establish barracks, too, probably in Marquam building. When Chairman Sweek was asked how the rent would be paid he answered ruefully that the money thus far in sight had come out of his own pocket. Both he and John Van Zante, who is County Chairman, are rejoiced by the Republican promise of a short campaign. they could make productive and paying farms. With such a class of people work

Again in the Fall the immigrant rates will be installed by all the roads, and another contingent of settlers will be brought into the state.

The special rates are not maintained all the time, because, as is explained by the railroad officials, if immigrants were brought into the state every week and every day, the country would be over-crowded, and there would be difficulty in getting them all satisfactorily located. Under the present scheme, it is believed those brought here in the Spring will have thoroughly established themselves in new homes before Fall and they will be enabled to assist their friends from the East who come during the later seaon, to secure suitable places for them

If Parker were a younger and less experienced man, all this baiting might be worth while. If he were as frank and as impulsive as the Republican candidate perhaps, a little of this kind of taunting would bring out a square avowal of his principles. But Parker's training or the bench has taught him how to hold his tongue, among other things. He knows, as any other experienced poli-tician knows, that the candidate is not to anticipate his nomination too hastily, and that there is no obligation on him to say one word until the party has framed its platform and has officially notified the nominee that he is the party's choice. No other of the Democratic candidates for the nomination has yet said what he stonds for Parker merely said what he stands for. Parker merel stands with the rest in keeping silent.

If Parker is nominated he will be expected to say, in his official letter of acceptance, what he stands for in American politics. Until that time he is no only within his rights, but within the proprieties, in keeping his opinions and policies to himself. The Democrats who are trying to force him to speak out in advance are merely doing what they can to make trouble for him, Between their tactics and those of Congressman Scott the only difference is that Scott is in the opposite party, and would naturally like to embarrass the Democratic candidate. The others object to Parker and would like to put aim out of the race. But they are wasting their time. If

Parker is to run, it will not do to underestimate him. He is of the Clevelan type, with plenty of common sens healthy retigence and no deficiency brain. He is a good politician, and he the last man to give his own case awa
