SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—In a well-played and largely-attended game, Seattle broke the deadlock in the eighth and won by a score of 6 to 5. The turn in the tide came about in such a manner that Seattle has little to crow about in her victory. Frisk, the first man up in the eighth, was struck out fair and square, but Umpire McCarthy did not see it that way and gave him his base on balls.

Delahanty followed with a two-bagger to the fence, placing Frisk on third. Murphy hit to Weed, who made a poor throw and Frisk scored. Russ Hall's two-bagger brought in the second.

Portland got three hits in the ninth, but Frisk made a clever running catch. Russ Hall handled a hard one close to second and Delahanty took a foul fly, ending the game with the bases full. Stanley caught a brilliant game, one of his stops at the home plate of a long throw being superb. Beck and Delahanty led in batting, although Frisk got a triple and Russ Hall two singles. Henry Goodman, one of the owners of the San Francisco club, is in Seattle. He says that Dugdale has permission to use new players, but he does not think he can use Runkle from Butte. Dugdale was instructed today by President Bert not to use Pitcher Sick Roach again.

FARRELL'S MIND CHANGES.

Yields to Butte's Bluff in Regard to Dugdale's Claim on Roach.

What a panicky, feminine, mind-changing person Secretary J. H. Farrell, of the National Association of Minor Leagues must be. A short time ago he was willing to go on record that Butte's claim on Sick Roach's services was null and void and that Portland's right to him was the grocer's. This was because the National Commission had decided against Butte, but when the Butte magnates came back with a threat to sue the National Association of Minor Leagues for half a fortune, Mr. Farrell underwent a change of his thinking and has decided that he cannot play Roach until he has settled with the Butte club.

Mr. Farrell found a ruling that helped him out wonderfully, and he sprung it when he saw chances of having to fight a damage suit. The truth of the matter is that Butte, Secretary Farrell and anybody else who had followed the coach case knew that Butte had no right to this player's services. Butte never thought of causing Roach trouble until he joined Dugdale. When he began to pitch winning ball, those Butte magnates saw a chance to make some money out of Roach. They knew it would be useless to try and force him to return to Butte, so they hung a price on him. Perhaps they will get it, but in case Dugdale balks, one thing is sure, Butte won't get Roach to work a single day for it.

Mr. Farrell has the following ruling to make in the case:

The National Board has a well-defined rule that a manager has not the right to extend a release to any player after the playing season has closed, thereby dissipating the assets of the club. Any manager clothed with authority to release players during the playing season must do so with the knowledge and consent of the club president.

A most careful investigation of this case discloses the striking fact that this player's 1902 contract contained the reserve clause in full force, and he was regularly reserved for the playing season of 1902 under this contract. Therefore, there was no occasion for the manager to negotiate a non-reserve contract for the season of 1904.

We must decline to establish as dangerous a precedent as to permit a club manager to dissipate the assets of any club member of the National Association by granting release to players without the knowledge and consent of the club owners during the reservation period.

The previous decision of the board is affirmed.

Game Postponed.

The game scheduled to take place today at Hawthorne Park between the Columbia University and Royal Club teams to decide the amateur championship of the city, has been canceled, the university refusing to play. This leaves the Royals the champions, and they are prepared to defend the title against any amateur team of the city.

DUG'S NEW TEAM

Six Pacific National Cracks Are Signed.

FOUR NEW MEN PLAY TUESDAY

Famous Home-Run Marshall One of the Recruits—Dugdale Predicts That He Will Finish Near the Top.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—When the Portland baseball club opens at home on Tuesday morning with San Francisco it will present almost an entire new team. The following players will make their first appearance in a Portland uniform:

Stanley, Hogg, Rockenfield, Runkle, Holland and the famous Homerun Marshall. They are all from the Pacific National League, and have been playing great ball, several of them having been drafted by the major organizations for the coming season, and some of them will be found wearing the Portland colors again next year.

Manager Dugdale has been after these men for some time, offering a good bonus for their release, but he couldn't secure them at any price, so he did the next best thing—bided his time, and long before the Pacific National season closed he had made arrangements to have these men finish the season with Portland, and that is what caused so much excitement.

After President Bert wrote Dugdale that these men could not be played by Portland, he called a special meeting, and a vote was taken which was favorable to Dugdale. The new men will all be on hand by Wednesday, and four of them will be in Tuesday's game.

Dugdale makes this promise to the baseball-loving public: The team he puts on the field, by next week will be the equal of any in the league, and with a week's time and practice to get acquainted with their surroundings, the players will start in the race in earnest, and at the finish Dugdale makes the prediction: Portland will be one, two or three in the race for the pennant.

Hogg, the New Pitcher, Arrives.
 Willie Hogg, Dugdale's latest addition to his pitching staff, arrived in Portland last night and spent several hours in renewing old acquaintances. Hogg looks to be in splendid shape and says that he has been taking good care of himself. Unless Dugdale changes his plans, Hogg will pitch the opening game against the Seals.

Mail advices from St. Louis state that much credit is due F. J. Durham, of Portland, for the work he did in helping to secure the lumbermen's convention for Oregon. Mr. Durham was for many years a prominent lumberman in Michigan, and though it is but a few months ago that he came to cast his lot in Oregon, he is enthusiastic over the future possibilities of the state. His personal acquaintance with the Hoo Hoo from any section of the United States is of untold advantage in the securing of the next convention. Mr. Durham, though just out of a sick bed, rushed on to St. Louis at his own expense and put in good words and effective work.

A. W. Hadley, the special agent of the National Irrigation Association and direct representative of George H. Maxwell, was in the city yesterday in the interest of irrigation day at the Interstate Fair to be held at Spokane on October 5. Mr. Hadley is traveling through the principal cities of the states adjacent to Washington. It is his purpose to advocate interest in the irrigation question, and he takes the stand that irrigation is the paramount issue of the States of Oregon, Washington and Idaho at the present time.

Dr. Dill is making a tour of the Pacific Coast, and is supplying the New York papers with descriptive articles of the Oregon Country.

SEUFERT GIVES LAND.
 Right of Way for Cello Canal Now Secured by the State.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon between the State Canal Commission and the representatives of the Government, at which the final arrangements for the right of way for the Cello Canal were decided upon.

F. A. Seufert was present and conceded for the use of the Government for the construction of the canal a strip of territory 5 1/2 miles in length and varying from 200 to 800 feet in width. The right of way is now all in the hands of the Government, which the final arrangement of the strip of about one-half mile. As soon as the state deposits the $15,000 required by the decree of the court for the condemnation of this property a judgment will be given and the entire right of way will be secured for the construction of the canal.

The rights of way for the Cello Canal and the Portage Road have both been secured by the state on one hand, and the members of the Open-River Association on the other, and it will be but a short time until the construction of both projects can be commenced if desired.

CAR-SERVICE MEN MEET.
 No Successor Is Elected to M. C. Shields, Who Has Resigned.

The members of the Northwest Car Service Association held a meeting in Seattle yesterday to select a successor to Commissioner M. C. Shields, who had resigned. No man could be decided upon, however, and an election by mail will probably take place within ten days. The association keeps records and accounts of all cars handled by the
