BEAVERS WIN GAME

Play a Scrappy Ten-Inning Matinee.

SCORE IS SEVEN TO SIX

For a Time It Was Oakland's Day but Good Playing at the Close Redeems Portland Team's Earlier Errors.

Yesterday's Results. Pertland 7. Oakland 6. Seattle 10, San Francisco 2. Frenno 4. Los Angeles 1,

There were all kinds of excitement in the scrappy ten-inning matines annexed by the local team at the Vaughnstreet grounds yesterday. At the commencement of Portland's half of the inith chapter, Oakland had a lead of one tally, which handleap was sustained by McCredie's mon through three bungles at third on the part of Charife Moore, which allowed of Van Halfren's erew making four runs and topping the supposedly safe lead acquired by the home guard in the sixth and seventh.

and seventh. The Columbia University lad re-deemed himself in the deverest man-ner when the first extra session required Portland's presence at hat, for Moore waited and worried Oscar Gra-ham long enough to induce the south-paw to place a nice one in the groose, which was promptly laced by Markley for a two-ply wallop that registered the manager for the run that broke up the matines, and sent the 2000 happy fans home extolling the merits of the Portland lad, who had previously seri-ously effended them by almost losing Garvin Is Unfortunate.

Virgil Garvin began the proceedings for Fortland, and the lanky twirler was in excellent form, but was unfortunate during certain periods of the maneuvers, when a flukey hit or a bunch of errors would send the nimble base-runners of the opposing team careering around the sacks. After Moore's several bad breaks in the eighth, Califf was sent in to bat for Marse Garve in Portland's half and the Moore's several had breaks in the eighth, Califf was sent in to bat for Graham 2.

gave Oakland the first run in the third. Jimmy McHale and Bill Sweeney found Graham for triples in Portland's half, and the score was tied.

Hits by Lister and McLean scored another for Portland in the fourth, and Oakland tied it up in the fifth on Markley's hit and a double by Kruger. Timely hitting by the locals resulted in the scoring of two in the sixth and one in the seventh. Oakland came to the front in the eighth, when with the first two men easily disposed of, Moore muffed a foul from Deveraeux's bat and the Red Dog walked a moment later. Following this came a couple of more bungles by the young third-sacker, and one by Lister, and with the bases populated and one run in, Oscar Graham found Garvin for a double that cleaned the slate, and Oakland had a lond of one run.

Sweeney hit safe in Portland's bait.

Sweeney hit safe in Portland's half of the ninth, and scored on Franck's error of Lister's infield poke, which resulted in a storm of cheering on the part of the home crowd.

Califf disposed of Oakiand in the tenth, and it was up to the locals to prevent late suppers. Walter McCredie cracked out a double and after McLean's long fly had been grabbed by Smith, Charite Moore was called upon to redeem himself, and responded nobly, for with two strikes on him ed nobly, for with two strikes on him he met one fairly and the ball shot by Markley, ticketed for the right garden

Markley, ticketed for the right garden fence, and McCredle was over the pan for the run that ended the session. The game was full of features, especially in the batting line, for two triples and seven doubles were chalked up to the players of the opposing teams during the game.

This afternoon's game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and Ben Henderson will make his initial bow to the Portland fans. Opposed to the undersated Portland twirler will be Bill Reidy, who will fling 'em for Van Haltren's crew.

SOME GOSSIP OF THE FANS

Charlie Moore, Who Is Holding Down Third Base for Beavers, Is Considered One of the Promising Players.

Now that the future of the Pacific Cosat League is practically assured, the fans can settle down to comparing the respective merits of the different players, and speculate on the chances of Portland winning the pennant, or at loast finishing in the first division. The games so far played in this city have demonstrated that McCredle has a good bitting team and a solendid a good hitting team and a splendid pitching staff, which will prove of material assistance in landing a place in the league race.

The player who is at present attracting a large portion of the attention of the fans is Charlie Moore, the Columbia University lad, who is holding lumbia University lad, who is holding down third base for the local nine.

The youngster had never played a professional game before joining Mc-Credie, and as a matter of fact, had seen but very few such games, his previous experience having been acquired while a student at Columbia University and by playing ball on the vacant lots of this city.

He has quite a number of faults, but where is the player of several years experience who has not some defect? As for Moore's ability, it may be summed up in a few words. He is the most promising young player that has summed up in a few words. He is the most promising young player that has graduated from the local lots since the days of the Parrott brothers, Jiggs and Tom. The lad is a good hitter and has a strong throwing arm, and as soon as he gets accustomed to his surroundings he promises to be a second Joe Tinker.

Tinker.

The hest feature of Moore's standing with his more experienced team-mates is the manner in which they unite in encouraging the lad. It matters not how badly he may play or how easily he may be caught off the bases, the other Portland players pat him on the back and tell him where he has made a break and how to rectify the error the next time.

With this sort of feeling toward the youngster his future is certain, for it is the associates of a young player that have the making or marring of the future of a promising member of the profession.

Left on bases—Portland 8, Oakland 9, Oakland they will return for another series. The coming week will witness the San Francisco club as the opposing team on the local diamond, and as the Seals are the leaders in the race at present, are the leaders in the race at present, some interesting games may be expected. Parke Wilson, although handicapped by the loss of Catcher Street and Outfielder Waldron, both of whom deserted after the earthquake, has a strong combination. He depends principally on his pitching staff, for in Hitt, Henley, Williams, Shea and Wheeler the Seal aggregation have five formidable slab artists who are hard men to beat.

men to beat. Business Manager Higgins, of the Portland team, says that the Southern Pacific Railway contributed more toward alleviating the sufferings of the stricken families of San Francisco than any other corporation or community. He tells a most interesting story of the experiences of the Portland team dur-ing the earthquake, and the narrative of these happenings record many ludi-crous incidents relative to the behavior of most of the Portland players.
