

OLYMPIA SOLOMS FACE HARD FIGHT

Passage of Appropriation Bills Sure to Cause a Lot of Trouble.

HOUSE HAS AN ADVANTAGE

Introduces Its Bills by Title Over Week Ago—Plan Is to Rush Measures Through and Force the Senate to Accept Them.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—The biggest fight of the Legislature is on, for today the appropriation bills came into the House and the Senate. The House was shrewd enough to introduce its bill by title only more than a week ago, so that all that was necessary was to include the details today and order the bill printed, when it can go on the calendar for the necessary readings and final passage.

Concurrent resolutions had to be passed by more than two-thirds vote of each house today to meet the constitutional requirement to enable the introduction in the Senate of a bill appropriating $2000 additional for legislative expenses, and the Senate omnibus appropriation bill and of the introduction in the House of a bill which the House later passed, appropriating $300 additional to pay for the printing done this session.

Before the Senate session ended, a fight between the two houses was resumed over appropriations, and the Senate committee pulled back its bill for amendment. Neither house committee had apparently made any provision for a special levy to meet the extraordinary demands which have brought about bills now before the Legislature carrying more than $6,000,000 in appropriations.

Force Action on to Senate. There is a disposition on the part of the House members to force the House bill through the House at the earliest possible date and make the Senate either adopt the bill or get the blame if a prolonged dispute should make an extra session necessary. The House today, on motion of Chairman Thompson of its appropriation committee, made the open river bill, carrying $125,000, and the White River flood protection bill, carrying $100,000, special orders for Monday.

During the morning and afternoon sessions today, the House passed several bills, and killed the Senate bill, which required railroads to advertise their time cards in all the daily newspapers. Among the bills passed, was one authorizing cities and towns to regulate telephone charges; another providing for a branch of the Soldiers' Home on Tidewater, and another requiring that patients at the insane asylums, who are financially able to do so, pay for their maintenance.

The Senate passed the Venice bill, appropriating $50,000 for the improvements on the Lewis and Clowitz rivers; the House bill requiring state inspection of gasoline, and the House bill providing for the State Reformatory. The gasoline bill brought out a hot discussion during which an attempt was made to kill the bill, by indefinite postponement, and also to repeal, by amending this bill, the entire oil inspection act.

Governor Mead's Pet Measure. The reformatory measure is Governor Mead's pet bill this session. The house cut down the appropriation on the bill from $70,000 to $20,000, and Houston and some other seat side Senators tried to force the location of the institution at Walla Walla, but a majority voted with Smith of Snohomish to provide that it be located in Snohomish County.

More than half of the legislators left on the evening train to spend Sunday in the larger cities.

The members of the appropriations committees all stayed here to fight out their troubles, and the conferences on Congressional apportionment and direct primary also remained here to see if they cannot come to some agreement in time to report Monday morning.

FIRST TRAIN SINCE JANUARY 30

Traffic on Washington & Columbia River Road Resumed. PENDLETON, March 9.—(Special.)—For the first time since January 30, a train came in over the line of the W. & C. R. about 4 o'clock this afternoon. For more than a month traffic on this line between this city and Hunt Junction has been completely tied up, but it is now thought that it will be possible to keep the line in operation.

Washouts and slides of all kinds and descriptions assailed this road during the first part of February, and for hundreds of feet at a stretch it has been necessary to practically rebuild it. Several hundred cars loaded with wheat have been standing on the side tracks of the different stations along the line since the last of January, and there has been a congestion of freight and express at Hunt Junction, though a few carloads of the latter have been brought around on the O. R. & N.

BOY IS SLAIN BY ANOTHER

Fatal Hunting Accident Yesterday in the Palouse Country. GARFIELD, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—The 12-year-old son of Mr. Sneed, while out hunting squirrels this afternoon with a younger brother and a neighbor's son named Davis, was accidentally killed by the Davis boy. The boys were hunting west of town and seeing a large bird in the grass Sneed ran around the hill to get near enough to kill it. The two Sneed boys remained where they were when the bird was first seen. Davis got in position and fired. The ball struck young Sneed just below the heart, killing him instantly. The neighbors were notified at once and brought home the lifeless body of the Sneed boy. Both the Davis and the Sneed families are prostrated with grief over the terrible accident.

DRAIN, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—Construction work on all the tunnels of the Drain-Coos Bay railroad has been temporarily suspended, pending settlement of the financial difficulties of the Loss Company. Several hundred men are in Drain today from tunnels 1, 2 and 3, and are being paid off at the local bank. It is stated here that within a few days subcontractors

OWENS AND COLE AND SWENNY WILL RECEIVE DIRECT CONTRACTS FROM THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC FOR THE COMPLETION OF THE WORK ON TUNNELS 1, 2 AND 3, IN WHICH EVENT IT IS BELIEVED WORK WILL BE RESUMED WITHIN THE NEXT TWO WEEKS.

SAYS HUSBAND IS SHYSTER

Seattle Woman Can't Endure Man She Married in Portland. SEATTLE, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—Lucy Crouch today asked the Superior Court here to have the marriage contract annulled into which she entered with Joseph C. Crouch at Portland, in June, 1905, setting up in her complaint that her husband, who is a lawyer, is unprincipled in his professional practices, and this has caused her such mental anguish and mortification that she can no longer live with him. Crouch recently removed here from Portland and has been practicing law. His wife says he promotes fake mining schemes and is a shyster. The Jupiter Mining Company, at Portland is one of his alleged schemes.

GETTING LAND FOR RIGHT OF WAY.

HOQUIAM, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—C. E. Johnston, cashier for the National Lumber & Box Company, has acquired, during the past two months, property on the east side of Hoquiam River, for which he paid over $5000 to the owners. For some time Mr. Johnston has been quietly at work buying this property, which is supposed to be a right of way for the Great Harbor & Puget Sound Railway Company through this portion of the city. The most valuable property embracing the residences of A. L. Matheson, Alexander Polson, George Davis, Mrs. H. Campbell and W. E. Campbell, cannot be bought at this time, and it is estimated $50,000 additional will be spent in purchasing this property.

TO INSPECT OLYMPIA RESERVE.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—Governor Mead today made public a letter received last week from President Roosevelt which says that Secretary Garfield of the Interior Department, Chief Forester Pinchot and Judge Ballinger, Commissioner of the Land Office, are to inspect some of the forest reserves of this state during the coming Summer, especially the Olympia forest reserve.

The President promises that if it appears that any of the reserves that have been made, whether recently or of old date, include additional land, that land will be restored to entry.

YAKIMA CARPENTERS MAY STRIKE.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Carpenters' Union tonight, it was decided to reject the offer of the Mechanics' and Builders' Association, and unless their demands of $4 for eight hours are agreed to, they will strike April 1. The association recently offered the union a scale calling for $2.50 for eight hours, which was rejected tonight. Last year's scale was $2.50 for nine hours' work. Should a strike ensue, 240 carpenters will be idle and building operations entirely suspended.

OXFORD PRIZE FOR WINANS

SALEM STUDENT IS GIVEN THE SCHOLARSHIP. Decision Made by Committee of Oregon College Presidents—Johnson Close Second. ALBANY, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—E. J. Winans, of Willamette University, was awarded the Rhodes scholarship at Oxford by the committee of college presidents in session in Albany this afternoon.

Winans won out over Wistar Johnson, of the University of Oregon, after the committee had spent almost four hours examining their credentials. By vote before the committee the choice was made, but it is understood to have been a 2 to 1 vote.

Both candidates were adjudged practically equal in very high scholarship. Johnson led in athletics and Winans was superior in student activities, having held many positions of honor at Willamette. This quality of leadership is said to have been the point in Winans' favor. The care with which the choice was made is shown by the fact that the committee convened at 2 o'clock and did not adjourn until 6.

Both candidates appeared before the committee. The committee which made the choice consisted of Presidents P. L. Perrin, Pacific University; L. W. Riley, McMinnville College; H. N. Crooks, Albany College, and Professor W. E. Kirk, Willamette University, acting for President Coleman.

LEADER IN HIS COLLEGE WORK

Young Man Who Won Scholarship Is a Resident of Salem. SALEM, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—E. J. Winans, who was today awarded the Rhodes scholarship, is a son of Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Winans, of this city. He is a member of the senior class in Willamette University and a recognized leader among students in the institution. He is president of the student body organization, has served as president of the College Y. M. C. A. and is treasurer of the Inter-College Basketball League, and is an active member of the literary and debating societies of the university. His inclination is toward books rather than athletics, though he is a member of the university basketball team.

ERECT STATUE OF PATHFINDER

Eva Emery Dye's "McDonald of Oregon" Honored at Seattle Fair. SEATTLE, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—Through her book, "McDonald of Oregon," Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, of Oregon City, will likely see a statue erected on the State University campus to the memory of Ranald McDonald, the great pathfinder, for an unveiling at the opening of the exposition in 1909. McDonald, through whose veins ran the blood of Scottish Kings and Chieftains, was born at the mouth of the Columbia, but his bones rest on Washington soil, and his life's work is reflected in the development of this state. The same interest attaches to his memory in relation to the exposition that attached to

MODERN BUSINESS METHODS WEAR OUT OUR NERVES SAYS PROF. BODLEY

The game is hard and competition early eliminates all but prize-winners in our business life. American, especially sedentary ones, are down and out before their time. Medicine doesn't help them; vacations do no good; you have got to get back your nerve and brain force. Some of the most prominent business men have come to me after years of dependent resignation to their loss of mental and physical energy. By a simple process of careful training I have in a few months brought them back to a prime condition of youth and health. My method is personal, individual exercise of physical organs, which have grown atrophic through mismanagement of use. The improvement is felt after the first week. You need not leave your business, but give me an hour three times a week, and in three months or less you will feel a new man in full possession of your fighting powers. Come in and let me have a talk with you.

ROSENTHAL HAILED AS THE WORLD'S GREATEST PIANIST

HAS CREATED THE MOST TREMENDOUS SENSATION IN RECENT YEARS

The Giant of the Pianistic World to Give Concert at the Heilig Next Tuesday Evening—The Most Important Musical Event This Season.

The musical season of 1906-7 will be made pre-eminently notable by the return after eight years of absence of that giant of the pianistic world, Moritz Rosenthal.

To those who are informed on contemporary musical events, the name of Rosenthal stands for the extreme possibilities to which the art of piano playing can be carried. "Amazing," "bewildering," "incredible," "stupendous"—such are the adjectives that the critics have lavishly showered upon his performances. There is no one today probably there never has been a master with such a prodigious command of the pianoforte as Rosenthal.

Career a Triumph. Born in Lemberg, Austria, some 40 years since, his career has been one long chapter of success and triumph. As early as his fourth year he showed unmistakable musical ability. At the age of 10 he began appearing in public, performing Chopin's Rondo in C. He studied with Mikuli, Liszt and Josenfy; at 14 he was appointed pianist at the Rumanian Court. He continued his pianoforte studies with tireless energy.

In 1887 he began appearing frequently in public, and from that day to this has won unchallenged admiration for his performance over his astounding performances. Rosenthal himself, attaches the utmost importance to his present American tour. For months in advance he devoted himself to arduous preparation for his appearance before the American public, foregoing all engagements abroad. Every detail connected with his return to this country has had his personal painstaking attention. Naturally, there could be no matter more vital than the piano he is to play. The result of his deliberations is that he has given preference to the Weber over all other pianos. This choice, made only after the most exhaustive tests and with a thorough knowledge of the entire piano field, is most significant. The Weber piano chosen by Rosenthal is to be the medium of his wonderful art in sold exclusively by the "House of Highest Quality"—Eilers Piano House, 252 Washington street, which branches in every leading Western city.

Only the Weber. There is no piano manufacturer who would not consider it the greatest triumph to have his instrument favored by this charming, yet prodigious master of the keyboard. Rosenthal's answer to the conflicting claims of rival manufacturers is an appearance before the most cultured and critical audience from coast to coast, playing always and exclusively the piano that responds most completely to the demands of the virtuoso—the Weber.

In 1882 he began appearing frequently in public, and from that day to this has won unchallenged admiration for his performance over his astounding performances. Rosenthal himself, attaches the utmost importance to his present American tour. For months in advance he

HILL LETS SHIP GO

Will Abandon Steamer Dakota to Board Underwriters. GETS $2,500,000 INSURANCE

Reported Also That Sister Vessel, the Minnesota, Will Be Disposed of to Japanese Firm—Dakota Very Badly Injured. SEATTLE, March 9.—(Special.)—Messages received from New York today declare that President James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Steamship Company, had met the underwriters there yesterday and, acting upon advice received from Yokohama, that the vessel could not be saved, determined that the steamer Dakota should be turned over to the underwriters at once. Hill to collect the $2,500,000 on the policies covering the vessel.

Advices from Yokohama say the boat is resting on the rocks bow down, with her stern torn away for a distance of 200 feet, and the watertight bulkheads in her bow destroyed. Her bow is down so low that at high tide the water is 35 feet above her forecastle head. The propellers and rudder are high out of water. The probabilities are that the Minnesota, the sister ship, will be sold to a Japanese line.
