The American Girl of 1908

MODES FOR SPRING 1908

Paris and London have decided, New York has criticised and adopted. The new fashions are absolutely defined—all doubts are dispelled. The accompanying picture—"The American Girl for 1908"—drawn by the fashion expert of the Dry Goods Economist, shows the cardinal points of the leading tailored suit and its accessories, many of which are at present shown in Portland only by Lipman, Wolfe & Company.

The Japanese or Butterfly Suit

This is the leading suit fashion for the season. It is shown in varied effects, made of the new wool Panajahi; also shadow stripe serges and panamas. The leading shades are Seville brown, navy, Copenhagen blue, tans and greens. The skirt—not shown in the picture—is pleated and has fold trimmings. Prices $35 to $75.

The "Merry Widow" Hat as Illustrated

This is the correctly new "Merry Widow" Hat—first shown exclusively by Lipman, Wolfe & Co. Made of black satin, trimmed with fine large wings, velvet ribbon and rich jet pins. Price $7.50. Made to order at prices up to $30.00.

Long Kid Gloves in White, Tan and Brown

White Glace Kid Gloves, 16-button length, for all dress occasions. Tan and brown Long Gloves are correct for street wear. French women will go to the Bon Marche in Paris for "Trefousse" Gloves. Lipman, Wolfe & Co. are the sole agents for "Trefousse" Gloves in Portland.

The Correct New "Gibson" Stock Collar

See the illustration of the correct collar, which has been named "The Gibson Stock." It has bolting cloth foundation, Irish and Valenciennes lace ornamentation. The Gibson Stock will meet with the favor of women who desire to follow the style idea of high collars, but who object to the stiffness of the starched linen collar.

The Veil and the Cardcase

The new Veil has the spider-web mesh, with beauty spots of large chenille or velvet dots. 1/4 yards are required, costing 50c a yard. The card case is of selected leather, and all colors are here to choose from. Card Cases of silver and of gold will also be very smart.

"College Widow," "Beau Brummel" and Many Other Belts

There is an extraordinary variety of Belts. Lipman, Wolfe & Co. show seventy-five new styles. The most novel are the "College Widow" and "Captain Jinks," and allied Persian effects. "The Beau Brummel" is the smartest of all leather belts—rich yet simple.

"Papillon" and "Beau Brummel" Waists

An exclusive showing of these two Smart Waists—the one showing the butterfly sleeves, now so popular, and the other reproducing the famous ruffles of the English period of long ago. Hundreds of styles in lingerie waists—including exquisitely simple hand-embroidered effects.

Undergarments of Silk, Wool and Cotton

Dr. Jaeger's Underwear and "Forest Mills" Underwear, in all weights, are soft and delicate and cannot chafe the skin. Dr. Jaeger's is a hygienic underwear that physicians generally recommend for women and children. In Lingerie there is a wonderful assortment. For particular women are beautiful hand-embroidered garments embroidered in French convents.

No Suit Is Stylish Without a Stylish Corset

Dressmakers recommend the superb C. B. a la Spirite Corsets for women of fashion. They insure the proper fitting of the gown. The new "Nemo Flattening Back" Corsets are especially adapted to the new modes. The "Nemo Self-Reducing" Corset" is the only successful model for stout women. Lipman, Wolfe & Co. are the Portland agents for W. B. Corsets, Smart Set Corsets, La Vida Corsets, C. B. a la Spirite Corsets and Nemo Corsets.
