Close With Animosity.

Thoughtful men in England have serious doubts, and these doubts are being expressed in some of the most influential newspapers, whether the Olympic games serve any good purpose. Whereas, theoretically they are supposed to foster international friendship, the result of the meeting Just finished has been to create inter-national dissensions and kindle ani-mostiles. The relations between the English and American athletic officials have become so strained that it will be exceedingly difficult for the representa-tives of the two nations to arrange any competitons in the future or carry them out without unpleasant incidents. All the American officials and ath-letes new here are constructed to the intes now here are convinced that the United States was robbed of the 400 meter race, while the English public at any rate is equally certain that the American runners had a pre-arranged plan to keep Halsewell out of first place in the event by fair means or badly arranged. Instead of concluding one event, the officials took up another race. This prevented men from taking part in more than one race. They should have gone through the heats, the semi-finals and the final of one race before starting another race. Then all those competent to enter could have started. As a matter of fact, it was entirely too big a proposition for the men handling it and they would not look anywhere for help.

Judges' Action Ridiculous.

It is ridiculous for them to say that they could see what happened 100 yards away. If Carpenter had fouled Halsewell, the judges should have allowed him to finish and then, if the man at the corner de-clared a foul, Carpenter could have been disqualified and the race should have been given to the second man who was Robbins. Wrangle Will Continue.

I should like to say here that we have not a word of complaint to make against Lord Desborough. Busy man as he was, he showed appreciation of the effort America had made to send a team here, and he did everything possible to make us comfortable. He is the right type of sportsman, of whom there are plenty in England, but they have not been in avidence. Severtheless it is not likely to be dropped or forgotten for some time. The officials of the Amateur Athletic Associa-tion have announced that they propose to bring the complaint formally to the attonition of the Amateur Athlotic Union regarding Carpenter's alleged foul, and the officials of the American Athletic Union are resolved to make a strong reply. Hence acrimonious correspondence in England, but they have not been in evidence. It is not generally known, but we had to have one official put off the arena for coaching the English competitors. It was that man who assisted Dorando. We should not have been compelled to such drastic measures, but, as the Amateur Athletic Association would not take the step, we had to do it ourselves to pro-tect our men. Indeed, we were so badfy treated that, if it had not been for Lord Desborough, the American team would have been taken away from the stadium early in the week.

The Italians feel that they have been treated unfairly by the awarding of the Marathon race to the American, Hayes; and they will always believe that there was a possibility that Derando would have reached the winning place first alone, if he had not been dragged to his feet and pushed along by the excited track officials, although practically every one who saw his struggle believes that the world have been utterly impossible for him to arise after his last collapse and that probably he could not have kept up after his second fall.
