

SOME MEAD MEN WILL HOLD OFFICE

Cosgrove Does Not Expect to Make Clean Sweep, Is Report.

MANY ON ANXIOUS SEAT

John L. Wilson and Senator Piles May Have Something to Say in Division of Spoils by Next Governor of Washington.

POLITICAL LEADERS MENTIONED FOR APPOINTMENTS TO COSGROVE IS ELECTED GOVERNOR.

Railroad Commission—J. L. Mohundro, of Seattle; J. C. Lawrence, of Garfield County. Tax Commission—J. E. Frost, of Ellensburg; E. D. Rockwell, of Spokane; H. W. Colner, of Tacoma; Thomas H. Parish, Reuben Jones, E. B. Herold, of Seattle; Cash N. Gaddie, of Pullman. Board of Control—H. E. Gilham, of Seattle; Matt Piles, of Seattle. Superintendent of Penitentiary—A. F. Kees, of Walla Walla. State Printer—Eugene Lorton, of Walla Walla, or P. A. Hazeltine, of South Bend.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—That H. E. Cosgrove, whose election to the office of Governor is considered next to a certainty, will not make a clean sweep of the Mead appointees now in office, has come to be quite generally conceded.

But just who of the score or more persons holding down good offices will be allowed to remain a matter of concern to a good many politicians.

Governor Cosgrove will have numerous warm and worthy supporters to recognize in dealing with his patronage, and if these can be placed to the satisfaction of the new governor, the question of the old crowd shall remain will become an important issue.

Among some of the men who aided Cosgrove in his campaign and who are believed to be slated for good positions are J. L. Mohundro, of Seattle; H. E. Gilham, of Seattle; B. W. Coincidence, Tacoma; Eugene Lorton and P. A. Kees, of Walla Walla, and P. A. Hazeltine, of South Bend.

Mr. Mohundro was an important figure in politics in Eastern Washington for numerous years, and held down for a time the position of receiver in the Land Office at Walla Walla. After his retirement from that position, he engaged in an insurance business, and for the last two years has had a general agency in Seattle.

Mohundro to Replace Jones. Mr. Mohundro, it is claimed by men close to Cosgrove, has a good chance of landing an appointment to the Railroad Commission.

According to report, Mr. Mohundro is to take the place of Jesse S. Jones on the Commission. Some of Cosgrove's warmest friends are urging the retention of the Commission of J. C. Lawrence, who has been a member of that body since its first organization under the Mead administration.

Mr. Lawrence is credited with being an active member of the Commission, his home being in Garfield County, where he and Mr. Cosgrove have known each other for many years. Mr. Lawrence was not particularly active in the recent primary campaign. Along the same line it is reported that H. A. Fairchild, of Bellingham, Governor Mead's chief political advisor, is likely to remain on the Railroad Commission, at least for some months after the inauguration of the new governor. The plan is said to be to retain Mr. Fairchild, and to appoint to the Commission, at least one of Mr. Cosgrove's close advisors, as being subject to further consideration.

As to the Tax Commission, some of Mr. Cosgrove's close advisors are urging the retention of J. E. Frost, of Ellensburg, who is the present incumbent, and to appoint to the Commission, at the present time is composed of but two members, Mr. Frost and T. D. Rockwell, of Spokane. It is reported that the third member, resigned to become a candidate for the nomination to the office of Attorney-General, and Governor Mead has indicated the vacancy for the year being completed. It is understood Governor Mead will leave the vacancy to be filled by his successor.

Wilson May Ask Job for Rockwell. If ex-Senator John L. Wilson has any influence with Cosgrove, the present Commission, Mr. Rockwell will be one retained on the Tax Commission. In the latter event Mr. Frost would likely retire and one appointee be named from Tacoma and the other from Seattle.

Although Mr. Rockwell was a candidate for the Congressional nomination in the Third District, he did not resign from the Tax Commission. The fact that Mr. Frost assumed the bulk of the work of the Commission during the primary campaign, which because of the provision of the law requiring the Tax Commission to assess railroad property in the first instance was particularly voluminous, is being used as an argument in favor of his retention.

Of the two places on the Commission which it is conceded that Governor Cosgrove will fill, the most likely Tacoma aspirant is R. W. Colner, Mr. Colner was a member of the Legislature several years ago, and at the breaking out of the Spanish-American war was made paymaster of the volunteer troops of this state. He was on Governor McGowan's official staff when the latter was in the executive chair. For a time after the close of his work as paymaster, Mr. Colner engaged in farming in Lewis County, but for several years recently has been practicing law in Tacoma. He had charge of Cosgrove's campaign in Pierce County.

Seattle Aspirants Numerous. There are at the present time at least three candidates from Seattle for a place on the Tax Commission. Thomas H. Parish, the present County Assessor, is one; Reuben Jones, secretary of the Board of Education, is another; E. B. Herold, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney, is a third.

In addition to these three, Cash N. Gaddie, of Pullman, is also recognized as an aspirant for the place. As to the Board of Control, J. H. Davis, one of the present members, has announced that he does not wish to remain under the new administration, the salary not being sufficient to longer tempt him. It is reported here that Harry E. Gilham is likely to succeed to Mr. Davis' honor. Mr. Gilham was a county official in Columbia County and was connected with the State Land Office for a time under the administration of S. A. Callvert. He was a strong supporter of Governor Mead four years ago, and his friends claim the Governor voluntarily offered him a place on the Board of Control, but later changed his mind.

Mr. Gilham has been in Seattle for several years now, and was one of the original Cosgrove boosters. He is now in the employ of the Republican State Central Committee. The term of H. T. Jones on the Board of Control expires next June and he is likely to be allowed to fill out his term. In any event Mr. Jones is the Democratic member of the board originally appointed by Governor McBride and later retained by Governor Mead.

Piles May Obtain Place on Board. Matt Piles, the third member, who is a brother of United States Senator Piles, will likely remain on the board if Senator Piles requests it. It is claimed here that A. F. Kees will undoubtedly go back into the position of superintendent of the penitentiary, succeeding E. S. Reed. Mr. Kees was one of Governor Mead's first appointees, he having removed F. A. Dryden to make Kees the head of the penitentiary, in accordance with provisions made at the Tacoma convention of the Tacoma convention. The visitors have had a pleasant and profitable gathering and by resolution this afternoon voted their thanks to the local Presbyterians and people who have entertained them so handsomely. The next meeting of the synod will be held at Newberg.

FRIENDS ENTERTAIN COUPLE WHO CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. H. H. BAILEY, SR., FORMERLY OF HOOD RIVER, BUT NOW RESIDING IN PORTLAND.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—To celebrate the anniversary of their 50 years of wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bailey, Sr., were given a dinner and reception here today (Saturday) by the members of Canby Grand Army Post and the Women's Relief Corps. Mr. Bailey is a past-commander of Canby Post, and his wife, Mrs. Bailey, is a past-commander of the Relief Corps. The affair took place in the K. of P. Hall and included an elaborate dinner, after which the long-married couple were presented with a gold-headed cane and a gold-handled umbrella by the respective organizations. In addition to being a prominent Grand Army man, Mr. Bailey was for several years a member of the Hood River City Council. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were married October 12, 1858, at Columbus City, Iowa, the former being born in Orleans County, Vermont, March 31, 1836, and the latter in Miami County, Ohio, in 1840. For 26 years they lived at Columbus City, from there going to Washington County in the same state, where they resided for nine years. Missouri was their next place of residence for three years, after which they spent seven years in the Cherokee Strip, several years in Kansas City, Kan., and came to Hood River in 1895. Since then they have lived here, until a few weeks ago when they moved to Portland, where Mr. Bailey purchased a home on Union avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are hale and hearty and have two sons living, one of whom is H. H. Bailey, Jr., of this city, and Fred E. of Portland. They also have five grandchildren.

four years ago. Mr. Kees was later removed principally as the result of the registering of a number of employes of the penitentiary in the city of Walla Walla during a heated municipal campaign. The penitentiary is located outside the city limits. Mr. Kees was one of the Cosgrove leaders in Southeastern Washington during the campaign. The only other position so far disposed of by political gossip is that of State Printer. This, it is said, will go to Eugene Lorton, editor of the Walla Walla Bulletin, which conducted a strong newspaper campaign in behalf of Mr. Cosgrove in that section of the state. It was Lorton and P. A. Hazeltine, editor of the South Bend Journal, who at the meeting of the State Editorial Association in Vancouver this Fall, attempted to line up the country newspapers, generally in support of Cosgrove, generally in getting several influential country papers in line and Lorton and Hazeltine are both considered entitled to consideration at the hands of the new Governor.

Lorton's If He Says So. In connecting Mr. Lorton's name with the position of State Printer, it is reported that he can have the place if he wants it, but that he has not definitely indicated a desire for the honor.

If Lorton does not wish to be State Printer Hazeltine will have the next best call on the position, but if one of them is placed on the position, Hazeltine will be placed somewhere else to his own satisfaction.

This reported dispensing of patronage will not appear in the list of places by any means. There are still some good berths, concerning which there is at present no discussion, such as the offices of State Bank Examiner, Oil Inspector, Labor Commissioner, Highway Commissioner, Forest Fire Warden, Coal Mine Inspector, Horticultural Commissioner, Dairy and Food Inspector, Fire Commissioner, and dozens of subordinate positions.
