One week before the election in this state the consensus of expert political opinion is that Governor Judson Harmon will be re-elected by a safe margin over his Republican opponent, Warren G. Harding.

The Republicans are hoping they will be able to control the Legislature and COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 30 - (Special.)

The Republicans are hoping they will be able to control the Legislature and elect a successor to Charles Dick, but even in that they may be disappointed. The present Legislature stands Republican by a lead of 32 on joint ballot. If the Democrats win over 17 members they will be able to send a Democrat to the United States Senate.

Local Issues Confusing.

Local issues Confusing.

The general situation is much confused by local issues and political jealousles among the Republican leaders.
James R. Garfield has fallen in line for Harding, who is of the cid "Foraker school," but the Foraker speeches taking a rap at Colonel Roseveit's "new Nationalism" and other "policies" apparently have not done the party any good in boistering up its chances.

There is great Soubt about how Hamilton County, in which Cincinnati is located, will go, "Boss" George Cox is net a strong Harding man, although it was the Cox coup in the state convention that brought about the numination of the Marion editor. Nor is Cox eager to help the Trit or Roosereit cause, Much depends on the action of the Cox following on election day.

Econblicans Are Frightened.

Republicans Are Frightened.

In a state sense, Governor Harmon's treatment of the street car strike here in Columbus does not seem to have hurt him seriously. There is local disaffection among labor unionists, but this is likely to be more than made up for by the business element of the state, which likes Harmon, by disgruntled Republi-cans and by a prospective big stay-at-home vote. That the Republicans are thoroughly frightened at the outlook is indicated in the rushing of "heavy guns" in the wind-up of the campaign. Foraker's return to the speaking tour at the request of the state committee angers the insurgents and will prob-

Notwithstanding the general howl against Cannon by the newspapers, the people of his district are as strong as ever for him. While nobody connected with Mr. Wayman's office would discuss the developments of the case today, it is generally admitted that it would have been impossible for McCutchen, who is retiring and timid of nature and diminuitive of stature, to have influenced the other II men to acquit Browne in the face of confessions of bribery that were a part of tomorrow.

It was reported tonight that a partial confession had been secured from another of the jurors who voted to free Browne. This could not be verified, however, as Mr. Wayman was out of the city and could not be reached by telephone, while his subordinates refused to discuss the situation.

Signal Code Adopted.

One of the important features of the Stacy's confession, it was revealed to-day, consists of his story that his deal-ings were directly with Attorney Erbstein. He was taken to a point in Milwaukee avenue, where he met Erbstein in an automobile, he said, and discussed the qualifications of McCutchen as a juror. Representative Erickson, says Stacy, in-troduced him to Erbstein, who also asked "if McCutchen was all right." Stacy says that he assured the lawyer that he was.

he was.

Then came the later meetings, he said, in which McCutchen was told of a signal code by which he was to accept a smile and the word "stick," whispered in his ear by Stacy, as a signal that he was to be paid for his services in returning a verdict of acquital for Browne.

When this feature of the investigation was presented to Erbstein today he simply smiled and called it "rot."

"If Wayman's detectives have made such a report they only showed what poor detectives they were," said he. "Mr. Wayman had me shadowed by half a dozen detectives all the time the trial was in progress and I am surprised that "As a matter of fact, I am running for the office of State's Attorney, my posters are out and this fact is well known. In view of my candidacy I am not surprised at anything Mr. Wayman does. It is a case of the volcano over there getting into eruption again."

The two men who made the confessions involving Attorney Erbstein were carefully guarded by Mr. Wayman's detectives today. At their own request they were taken away from the Shenandoah Hotel, where they spent Saturday night, and placed in another North Side hotel, where they remained tonight. Both men expressed the fear that the investigators who surrounded them several times, even in court, Saturday, would attempt to reach them if they knew where they were to be found and do them bodily injury.

The mighty portals designed to admit a world's commerce from one ocean to a world's commerce from one ocean to another, must withstand a lide of criticism, as well as a tremendous pressure of water and possible convulsions of earth. For years the controversy over gates or no gates, locks or sea level, has been the dividing issue of the canal problem. In the face of fear in some quarters that the foundations on the isthmus are not sure enough for locks, that earthquakes or water pressure would dislodge them, and that an enemy's mines or accidental explosions might easily destroy them, the Government has begun to build the gates.

Gates Cost $5,500,000. The builders are the McClintic, Marshall Steel Construction Company, half of whose independent plant here has been given over entirely to the gate contract. Of the $6,000 tons of steel grow worlds as world's commerce from one ocean to a world's commerce fro entirely to the gate contract. Of the 80,000 tons of steel required, the heaviest single pieces will weigh about 18 tons. These will be the base girders, which are seven feet wide and which will be placed much like the first floor girders f a skyscraper.

The series of girders above them will range from 3.8 feet apart near the bottom to five feet apart at the top. and over the skeleton structure thus formed a sheathing of water-tight armor plate will be boilted, much after the fashion of clapboards on a house.

Dimensions Are Given.

The thickness of the plates will range from an Inch at the base to 7-16 of an inch at the top. The weight of a single gate will be about 600 tone, and the dimensions are 77 to 82 feet high, 80 to 65 feet wide, and 7 feet thick. The thousands of individual pieces.

numbered and fitted to go together, like children's blocks, will be shipped by steamer via Baltimore, and with them will go 400 skilled structural steel builders from Pittsburg to set them up. The advance guard of expects leaves here in December, and perts leaves here in December, and the first work probably will begin early in 1911. It will take three years to complete the job.

The location of the 45 pairs of gates will be: Twenty at the Gatun dam, on the Pacific side, 12 at Pedro Miguel and 14 at Miraflores, near the Atlantic en-trance. The gates are designed to hold back water 47.4 feet deep in a channel 110 feet wide, which means a pressure of 1,000,000 pounds.

Destruction Is Unlikely.

Engineers point out that even if a tre mendous explosion or earthquake sho damage or destroy one or more sets of gates, no great disaster would ensue, for all locks are to be made in duplicate to accommodate traffic in both directions at once and the wreckage of one set of locks would only necessitate the diver-sion of commerce into another set.

But violent earthquakes have not oc curred in the Panama region for more than two centuries and it would require a mightly stege for an enemy to destroy the locks. Each lock will be ample for a ship 50 per cent larger than any vessel now afloat and it has been estimated that as many as 160 ships may be han-dled in a single day.

There are no locks approaching these selling liquors to minors, or permitting minors to loiter about his saloon; that is, it is the law except in the City of Portland.

"We have another law which prohibits saloonkeepers from selling liquors to habitual drunkards. There is another law which prohibits the opening of saloons on Sunday. There is another law which prohibits the licensing of saloons within a certain distance of a public school building. The proposed, so-called home rule bill will put it within the power of every municipality to evade those laws. Now. Mr. Liquor Man, will you ask the Attorney-General whether that statement is true or not? And see what he says.

"I am not here tonight to abuse anybody. I am not here to abuse men who may disagree with me. I am here to express surprise that the liquor men should have been shrewd enough to secure such an array of reputable and honorable men to stand sponsor for their bill. Many of those men I know personally, and I know that, if the true inwardness of that bill had been explained to them, their names never would have been at the foot of it, and their influence never would have been back of it.

"There are other things this bill proposes to do. Has it struck you that it is at all significant that the clause, 'subject to the constitutional and criminal laws of the State of Oregon,' comes before the clause relating to the suppression and regulation of the sale of liquor? There is also a clause put in the end for the purpose of misleading-I can see no other purpose for it- Subject to the provisions of the local option law of the State of Oregon, within the limits of the municipality.'

"It is provided in this act that no municipality may amend its charter so as to be in conflict with the criminal laws of the state, or with the provisions of the constitution; but this act does propose in effect to amend the charter of every municipality so that that municipality may enact ordinances, regulations and laws which set at defiance the laws of the state regulating the sale of liquor. It will also practically nullify the local option law, because, if you read the criticism of The Oregonian this morning, you will note that The Oregonian called attention to the fact that it would practically do away with precinct vote and will limit the operation of the local option law to the municipality as an entirety. It will do more than this. In many parts of the state where there are small towns there are large precincts which include a whole or a part of the town, and a part of the country as well. This law gives the right to the municipality, as a whole, to vote upon the local option law, but there is no law that gives a part of a precinct outside of a city the right to vote upon the question of the prohibition of the sale of liquor, and therefore all such precincts outside of the municipality will be deprived of that right. Also in the municipality, in many cities where it is not possible to carry the city dry, a vote may be had upon a precinct, or combination of precincts. "That is true in the City of Portland, and in many of the parts of the city people who do not want the saloons in their residence neighborhood have voted their precinct dry. They would be deprived of that right if this bill becomes a part of the constitution of the State of Oregon. And think of it. I say this is the most outrageous and andacious assault that has not here. audacious assault that has yet been made upon the rights of the people of this state.

Then again, if this amendment is adopted, if any county or precinct votes dry, it will be within the power of the liquor men to create a new municipality, however small, within such dry territory, which will be invested with authority to license the sale of liquor within the municipal limits and thereby corrupt the whole district and set at naught the will of the people."

Oregonian Quoted on "Home Rule"

THE OREGONIAN EXPOSES THE FALLACY OF 'HOME RULE'

In a leading editorial on the 29th inst, the editor of The Oregonian, commenting on the "Home Rule" bill says: ". . Able lawyers have come forward with the argument that the amendment as worded would, if adopted, give the right of control to every rooms, bookmaking on horseraces and similar vices prohibited by general

"The 'Home Rule' amendment has one weakness in that it makes no dis-tinction between cities and towns and incorporated villages. There should be ome limitation in order than an incorporated village adjacent to a large city or town that is dry could not be colonized, vote 'wet' and the liquor traffic be carried on without license or regulation. It would be possible if the constitution were so amended, and Roseburg, for example, should vote to abolish the saloons, that a village would be newly incorporated on the outskirts of the city, be colonized by the saloons, permit the sale of liquor without restraint, and demoralize the larger city. If Portland voted to sup-press the sale of liquor, it would be perfectly reasonable to expect the sa-loonmen to move to St. Johns or some other adjacent town and there, force of numbers, control the result of a local option election, choose their own regulating and enforcing powers. and draw their trade from Portland."
Thus it is clearly evident that the aim of the Home Rule amendment is to fasten the saloon, with its dives and brothels, on every section of Oregon. To this opinion the Attorney-General of Oregon gives additional confirma-tion in his opinion, saying, "That the amendment vests in the City Council, or in the people through the City Council, the exclusive power to control and regulate, or prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors." The brewers and liquor dealers believe that a cor-ruption fund will dispose a given City Council to vote for the saloon interests. THE "QUELLE" CASE FURNISHES A GOOD ILLUSTRATION ON COUNCIL

100 MILES TO SAVE FATHER

We have the following letter from C. H. Rivenburg, the Chester, Mass., druggist: "I inclose check for your account with great pleasure. About four months ago my father, aged 73 years, was told he was dangerously III with Bright's Disease by a first-class M. D., and for two or three months was under his care. He gradually became weaker and was in bad condition before I knew the nature of his trouble. I at once traveled about a hundred miles to see that my father commenced to use the Renal Compound and now wish to report to you that his doctor says the danger is all passed and there is not a trace of albumen. Is this not a wonderful cure, taking Into consideration the fact that my father had Diabetes for many years before the Bright's Disease developed? Today he and we are all happy at his recov-ery. If that druggist had not traveled a hundred miles and insisted on his father changing from the admittedly futile orthodox Nitro-Glycerine, Digitails. Basham's Mixture, etc., to the Renal Compound, the inevitable would have happened. Notwithstanding the progress of our boasted civilization, we are still living in the dark ages and prejudices of the past, for thousands are at home this moment dying in homes and hospitals from kidney dis-ease, a majority of whom ought and can recover. But their friends must take something like the interest that caused Rivenburg to travel a hundred miles to see that the change is made to the right treatment. We desire to hear from and advise with every case not yielding.
