Seals Lose Fourth Straight Game to Beavers, 4 to 1. McCorry Is Wild.

Klawitter Brings Joy to Fans in Fourth When, With Bases Full and None Out, He Strikes Out Three Men.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. McCorry, the Seals' Detroit acquisition, stopped Portland's hitting streak yesterday, but his wildness gave the Beavers four straight by a score of 4 to 1. Klawitter proved no enigma, but his unparalleled feat of striking out three consecutive batsmen with the bases loaded in the fourth inning, broke the Seals' backbone and from that on the fans took more interest in Butcher's slugging than in the final outcome.

Four Seal players—Mohler, Howard, Hartley and Corhan—banged out singles in a row in that tempestuous fourth frame, but only to relate. Mohler was the only man to cross the plate. McCree's warriors had a lead of two runs up to this point, having scored in second and third innings, so not a few lightened up on the joy stuff when Klawitter began his execution, moving down Wuffl, then Geddon, and finally Catcher Berry.

Doane and Butcher delivered themselves of most of the slugging. Rodgers, however, drove in the last two tallies in the fifth inning, by timely clutch to right field. One of these constituted the Beavers' only hard-earned score of the day. McCorry's very erratic box work figured largely in the first two, while Mohler helped swell the total with an error that permitted Klawitter to go safe and finally cross on Rodgers' hit.

McCorry is nothing if not a versatile young right-hander. The box score today proclaims five walks, one wild pitch, one hit by pitcher, and one balk, yet the Seal star allowed only five hits to nine of his opponent.

Portland's initial score came in the second inning, when Krueger walked as free man and made the circuit on Butcher's screaming double to left field. The fans made a fuss over this because it was Butcher's first hit of the week. The outfielder recited later added another pelt to his anaemic collection, and banged the leather so hard on his other two attempts that the left fielder Geddon sent in a subpoena for a catcher's pillow.

Doane tallied the second Beaver score in the third inning, tripling the left center and registering on a wild pitch. A more experienced left grander would likely have garnered in this drive, but Butcher's called for sphere roll almost to the fence.

Mohler's low throw on a difficult chance, a double by Walter Doane and Rodgers' single scored the rest in the fifth. After that McCorry held the Beavers under his thumb. The Beavers seem to have launched on their boom for vice-presidential honors in the Pacific Coast league, for they have taken four out of five from the Seals and the other two from the Seals. The pitchers are going wild and the batsmen are giving them liberal support. No Portland team has played better ball than the Beavers are playing, right through the checkers of yesterday-week have disappeared.

TRIO OF NORTHWESTERN LEAGUE TWIRLERS WHO WILL GRADUATE INTO FASTER COMPANY NEXT SEASON.

Bill James, Jimmy Clark, Wm. Noyes

Clark, the smallest man of the trio, and thus of the least value from a selling standpoint in the leading twirler of the Fleder Jones circuit, with 14 victories and only one defeat. He broke into the game last year with Vancouver, and while he looked like a comer, it was not until this season that he showed major league class. The record of the 150-pound youngster in the most impressive of the professional shoots, several games farther down the percentage table than Spokane and Seattle, the clubs of his rivals.

James is the star of the squad, weighing 200 pounds and standing well over six feet above the mound. He looks like Christy Mathewson, according to those who have watched both men. He has won 14 games and lost five.

Noyes ranks second in the list, both as to victories and size. He weighs 180 pounds, has better control than either of the others and has won 12 games and lost two, winning the 12 in a row for the Northwestern League record. Noyes played with Ottumwa, of the Central Association, last year, and finally going to Spokane. Noyes failed to get into form in the early season Coaster games.

In the 14 games Clark has worked in, his opponents secured 44 runs and 52 hits. Noyes allowed 36 runs and 57 hits in 18 games, while James was touched for 56 runs and 131 hits in 24 games. When it is considered that Clark pitched 139 innings, Noyes 134 and James 160, it will be seen that Noyes has been harder to score against than either of the other stellar mound men.

Yesterday's Results. At Seattle—Seattle 4, Portland 3 (10 innings). At Vancouver—Vancouver 6, Tacoma 3. At Spokane—Spokane-Victoria game postponed.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 13.—(Special.)—In one of the wildest ten-inning games imaginable, Seattle managed to win from Portland 4 to 3. McMullin was the hero of the day. With the score tied in the eighth, he struck out three men on bases and two strikes on him, he drove the ball to the fence between left and center, scoring two runs, tying the game.

Portland took the lead in the first inning, scoring two runs on Fries' single and Mahoney's homer-over the left fence. Concannon steadied down and held the Colts until the fifth inning when he hit Veazey and walked Kibbie. Only one man was out and Raymond yanked him. Thompson was the rescuer. He disposed of the Colts.

Veazey had terrific speed and sharp benders from the jump. His control was fine and Seattle went down as if they did not count in the game. He went until the fourth when Strait hit, stole second and scored on Moran's drive.

A hoot and a wild throw by Chick followed by an out at first let Portland score their third run of the game in the sixth inning. Strait was hit for two runs. Moran and Chick hit for a beginning in the sixth. Jackson shoved them up a point and then Raymond was sent in for Veazey. Holdman was hit by a pitched ball. This filled the bases. Thompson was then taken out and McMullin sent in to bat. After getting two strikes he drove the ball to the left field fence and Moran and Chick scored.

Fullerton took the reins here and held Portland safe to the end of the tenth, in the last of the tenth, Shaw opened with a clean double to left. Raymond dropped the ball dead in front of the plate and Shaw made third. Raymond was safe at first. Strait was walked purposely. Mann, fanned. Veazey, who had pitched a wonderful game, lost control and walked Moran, forcing over the winning run.

Will James is in the hospital with a sprained ankle received in practice just before the game started. He will be out about eight or nine days. The game was held at Kenton under the direction of the Portland Club. August 27, 28 and 29. This will be one of the biggest trap shoots ever held in the Northwest.

One of the main attractions will be the $1500 added money which Portland has guaranteed for the event. With the usual money the total prize list will be well over $5000.

The Portland grounds are now in the best of shape, being ideally located on the shore of one of the big Columbia sloughs. Charles Wagner, custodian of the grounds, has been clearing the underbrush from the place and all that is left are big branching cotton-woods which are on the south side of the grounds. These will keep the shooters fairly cool and a long rope has been erected over the handicap line which will keep them dry in case of rain.

Five traps will be in place when the tournament starts and the events will be shot in rapid order. About a dozen different events will be arranged with big purses in the professional shoots. The amateurs will receive handsome trophies many to be produced by the Portland Club while others will be donated to the meet.

Practice shooting will take place at the traps today and visiting Elks will be welcomed.

IRVINGTON CLUB TEAM PICKED TO PLAY IN INTERNATIONAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT VICTORIA THIS MONTH.

for Mensor seems to be the uncertainty of Mike Donlin's actions and the failure of Artie Hofman, ex-Club outfielder and Edington, the Southern recruit, to perform up to the major league standards.

Hofman, who figured in the deal whereby he and Cole went to Pittsburgh in exchange for Lefield and Beach, is unfit for duty, and reports from the Pirate camp indicate that he is a physical wreck and will not be able to play another game this season. Edington was used during the absence of Donlin on account of the severe illness of his wife, whose stage name is Mabel Hite.

But Donlin is back in the game once more, is hitting like a fiend and playing a much better game now that the burden of worry has been lifted. The Mensor signing contracts calling for that salary. However, Mensor reached that level without the intermediate step of the Pacific Coast League, and thus ranks above the other Portlanders.

Cole Manager Superstitious. That baseball players have not outgrown superstition was demonstrated during the Portland-Vancouver diamond series of week before last, when a squad of "bushers" figured prominently in Colt victories and defeats.

On July 4, the day the Colts lost a double-header to Rob Brown's Canadian Beavers, two aspiring youngsters occupied the Portland bench. They were singled out as the Colt hoodoo and chased from the bench on Friday.

With the game well in hand in the ninth inning, one of the unlucky individuals took his seat on the Colt bench and a batter rally started which sent one Vancouverer across the plate and placed the game in the hands of the Seals.

When Brown was here he made several careful inspections of the Vaughn-street plant with an eye towards adopting such improvements as met the requirements of the new park which will be started this fall.

The Vancouver owner has secured a 25-year lease on a piece of property 400x500 feet within a six-minute ride of the heart of Vancouver. He will erect a grandstand and bleacher to entertain of about 10,000, and lay out a seating capacity of 10,000 to rival anything on the Pacific Coast.

"It isn't necessary to have a park with the seating capacity of the Portland grounds," said Brown, "for we seldom have the big crowd, and we have the attendance of a regular, ranging from 1500 to 8000, which makes the park a better-paying proposition than one where the week-day crowd is small and the Sunday turnout so large."

Brown expects to lease his park for La Crosse and Rugby games, deriving a revenue which will give the ball team grounds with practically no expense.

Boise and Walla Walla Tie. The mettle of the Spokane Potlatch Buss will be tried severely this week when Tealey Raymond takes his squad to Vancouver for a tussle with the 1911 champions. The status of Seattle for the season will largely be determined by the showing made against the Canadians.

While Seattle is at Vancouver, the Portland Colts will take another crack at the Spokane Indians on the Redskins' lot. They lost all but one game in the last series at Spokane, and Williams hopes to break even this trip. The trailers, Tacoma and Victoria, play a series at Victoria and Seattle, with the cellar championship the prospective goal of the loser.

Pendleton Defeats La Grande by Score of 5 to 2. Boise and Walla Walla battled 12 innings at Walla Walla yesterday, and when darkness intervened, both sides withdrew from the field, hours even, 7 to 7. Umpire Knell narrowly escaped being mobbed when, in the seventh inning, with one down and the score 4 to 3 in favor of the Beavers, it was alleged he failed to see a play at home plate in which Brown had the runner out. The score counted. Score: R. H. E. L. A. G. 1 1 0 1 1 1 W. Walla 7 12 3 Boise 7 11 2 Batteries—S. Pitman and Brown; Smith and Kelly.

At Pendleton Etchandy won his second game of the week. Seattle's former teammates, the final score being 5 to 2, with Pendleton on the long end. The game was won in the first inning when a bunt hit, an error and three hits let four bucks tally. Score: R. H. E. L. A. G. 1 1 0 1 1 1 Pendleton 5 8 1 La Grande 2 8 2 Batteries—Etchandy, Garrett and Pembroke; Fox and King.

ANDREWS WILDER TEAM GOES NORTH

Irvington Club Picks Representatives to International Play.

BOTH MEN EXPERIENCED

Challenge Issued to Vancouver Club to Play for Starr-Reynolds. Starr Trophy After Victoria Tourney.

BY RALPH H. MITCHELL. With F. H. V. Andrews and Richard ("Dick") Wilder as the chosen team, new men, though experienced at the game of tennis, will be seen as representatives of the Irvington Club in the North Pacific International tournament to be held at Victoria, opening July 29.

Not only will Andrews and Wilder be seen in the International, but they will represent the Irvington club also in a challenge sent the Vancouver, B. C. club to play for the Starr-Reynolds-Starr trophy, now held by the Canadians. This latter play, providing the challenge is accepted, will take place after the International is closed.

Recently the Victoria club challenged the Vancouver holders of the trophy, but the Vancouver men proved too clever for the challengers, and maintained their hold on the cup, a Portland presentation for the benefit of inter-club play in the North Pacific Association.

Strong Team Picked. That Andrews and Wilder will show up strong against all opponents in the International is a foregone conclusion. Both men have long been in the game, know every trick of the court and work together in almost perfect style as a team.

Owing to the non-appearance of Ralph Gorrell this year, the famous team of Wickersham and Gorrell was broken. Gorrell last week telegraphed from California that he would be unable to play this year in the Oregon state, but no definite word has been received as to his appearance on the northern courts at all this season.

Since immediate action was necessary that the contesting team to be sent by the club should be made known as possible, the choice was definitely made last night.

Multinomial Team Unknown. Chairman Wakeman has not yet named the Multinomial Club team and no action may be taken before the Oregon state finals have been played, though it has been rumored that Wickersham and Goss will be the club's representatives this year.

Though Goss has not been seen on the tennis court a great deal in the past two or three years, he has again taken up the racket and has played several matches with Wickersham recently.

In 1909 and 1908 Goss was state champion and was playing a wonderful game in 1905, 1906 and 1907, paired with D. S. Bellinger. Wickersham was the doubles state champion, the same year, and in 1908 and 1909 when he was paired with Gorrell, though both men failed to play their usual steady game when they met Law and Foley, present Oregon title holders in the doubles. That Goss and Wickersham would make a fast team there goes without saying, should Goss recover from his style.

Californiaans Arrive Here. Portland tennis enthusiasts saw some fine tennis yesterday when, after the arrival of the youthful tennis sharks from California, the Stanford Limited, the trio, Edna Fottrell, William Johnson of San Francisco and Edwin McCormick, high school champion of Long Beach, accompanied by R. E. Dant of Los Angeles.

The party was met by a Portland contingent of tennis players and repaired to Multinomial for practice. Fottrell and Johnson are probably the best players in the Northwest, and most promising of the youth of California in the tennis line, as it will be recalled that a few weeks ago they gave Bundy and McLaughlin, Pacific Coast champions, a run for the honor of representing this part of the country at the tryouts in Chicago next month.

Tacoma Plans Big Time. That Tacoma is planning for one of the greatest tennis events in her tennis history is gleaned from the fact that arrangements have been made for the entertainment of both Sutton girls, probably Mary Brown, the National champion, M. H. Long, the California crack, and one or two others of note in the tennis world.

Chairman Tyler, of the Tacoma Club tennis committee, has requested F. H. V. Andrews of this city to act as one of the official umpires during the tournament. Mr. Andrews has agreed to accept the honor.

Speaking of Mr. Andrews reminds us that in his Portland days he was a member of the tournament committee of the International tournament, President Judge Lampman having made the request of the Portland tennis enthusiasts some time ago. Mr. Andrews thus he will act.

Tyler and Brain Chosen. Joe Tyler and Phil Brain will represent the Spokane Tennis Club at the International, in Victoria, according to the address given to the Tacoma city. The intense heat in the East hurt tennis last week, playing havoc with the tournament at Seabright, S. J. R. D. Little, the internationalist and shareholder in the National doubles, retired from the singles and doubles, in the latter event taking with him his National partner, G. F. Touchard. Beals C. Wright did not appear for the doubles, so Karl H. Behr switched to two defeated William J. Clothier, of Philadelphia, and George F. Gardner, Jr., of Harvard, in the feature match of the week, 6-2, 6-2.

By defeating Helen McLaughlin, of Cincinnati, Miss May Sutton yesterday won the championship in the women's singles in the bi-state tennis tournament.

SPOKANE PLAYERS COMING. Douglass, Belknap, Sieler and Preston Plan Trip to Coast. SPOKANE, Wash., July 12.—(Special.)—D. C. Douglass, C. H. Belknap, George Sieler and the Rev. B. C. Preston, members of the Spokane Tennis Club, probably will go to the Coast and play in one or more of the important tournaments in July and August. It is the plan of the four players to make several of the tournaments, with the chances strong that they will play in the Pacific Northwest championships at Tacoma. In the event that the four play as they now intend, Spokane will be represented by six players, as Joe Tyler and Phil Brain are going as official representatives to the International.

THREE WILL CLIMB

Northwestern Pitchers Due to Enter Faster Company.

LITTLE ONE'S MARK BEST

Clark, 150-Pound Youngster of Vancouver, Is Leading Twirler of Jones' Circuit—Noyes and James Rank Next.

The Northwestern League boasts of three young twirlers this season whose prowess insure them berths in faster company next season. They are James, of Seattle, Clark, of Vancouver, and Noyes, of Spokane.

"Big Bill" James, the California phenom, who is in his first season of professional ball, is the most promising of the squad and already has been sold to Boston, along with Bert Whaling, his teammate. Bob Brown, of Vancouver, expects to close a deal for the sale of Jimmy Clark, the ex-Washington University heaver, within a few days, while Bill Noyes, with only one season of "pro" ball behind him, will undoubtedly be sold by Joe Cobb, of Spokane, ere the season is many weeks older.

Little Man Makes Good. Clark, the smallest man of the trio, and thus of the least value from a selling standpoint in the leading twirler of the Fleder Jones circuit, with 14 victories and only one defeat. TRAP EXPERTS TO SHOOT

Portland Meet Attracts Big Entry List.

More than 500 gun experts have declared their intentions of attending the annual Interstate Association shoot to be held at Kenton under the direction of the Portland Gun Club, August 27, 28 and 29. This will be one of the biggest trap shoots ever held in the Northwest.

One of the main attractions will be the $1500 added money which Portland has guaranteed for the event. With the usual money the total prize list will be well over $5000.

The Portland grounds are now in the best of shape, being ideally located on the shore of one of the big Columbia sloughs. Champions Umpire Victors. VANCOUVER, B. C., July 13.—The Champions scored their sixth consecutive victory over Tacoma today, winning by a score of 6-3. WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—The Willamette baseball team, which closed the season last month, made a creditable record. Among the best contests was a 12-inning game with Multinomial Club team, of Portland, the club men winning. Willamette played another good game with the University of Oregon, the Eugene team getting the big end of a 4-4 score. The Methuens defeated the Oregon Agricultural College team, 4-2. The friends of Willamette are all the more pleased with the team's good record, when the fact is considered that the Salem institution revived baseball two seasons ago, after the University had been without a team for years.
