AUSTRALIANS WIN DAVIS CUP DOUBLES

United States Team Loses Hard 5-Set Match to Fast Invaders.

Hackett Fails to Perform Up to Usual Standard, While Team Work of Doust and Jones Is

NEW YORK, June 7 .- Playing tennis that ran the gamut from sensational to mediocre, the Australasian team de-feated the United States pair in the doubles match of the Davis cup pre-liminary today by a score of 2-6, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2, 9-7.

The victory gave the players from "Down Under" their first match of the series, which now stands: United States Australusia I

On Monday the two remaining single matches will be played and while America needs one match, the Australasians must win both in order to enter the second round to be played in England next month.

Match Full of Thrills.

For thrills and excitement no Davis cup tennis match played in this country has equalled that of today. The United States pinned its faith to Maurice E. McLoughlin and Harold H. Hackett, while the island contingent's representatives were Stanley N. Doust representatives were Stanley N. Doust and A. B. Jones.

For five full sets these players battled back and forth, first one pair obtaining the advantage only to lose it a moment later to their opponent. Dashing individual play was nullified by wretched lack of team work and marvelous "gets" made only to be cancelled by stupid plays a moment later. The spice of adventure was added by a drenching thunder storm, which soaked the majority of the 5500 spectators and delayed the play for almost an hour.

Rain Storm Turns Tide.

Rain Storm Turns Tide.

The soggy condition of the court, following the rain turned the tide of victory in favor of the Australasians and, fighting desperately to the point. McLoughlin and Hackett went down in defeat where early in the game they appeared to be the logical winners. The heavy conditions of the turf took, the edge off McLoughlin's game and gave the visitors the advantage that finally enabled them to win.

While the Californian was the star of the match, the style and work of the Australians proved too much for him to overcome, aided as he was by flashes of brilliant form on the part of Hackett. The Americans appeared not to understand the technique of double play and either interfered with each other or left territory uncovered which their opponents were quick to shoot at.

other or left territory uncovered which their opponents were quick to shoot at. Before the rain fell, McLoughlin was able to employ the full power and speed of his tremendous strokes, but when the turf and balls became water-soaked, this asset lost much of its effectiveness.

Hackett Weak and Ineffective.

Hackett falled to show the form which marked his play in previous years and both his service and returns, for the greater part of the play, were weak and ineffective.

weak and ineffective.

Jones lived up to the reputation which preceded him to America and his service and volleying were both fast and accurate. Doust did not appear to equal advantage, netting or outing many returns, but he did team up with Jones in excellent manner at critical points, which enabled them to stave off the wonderful rallies of McLoughlin.

It is doubtful whether the United McLoughlin and Hackett, 4, 2, 4, 2, 6, 4. 2, McLoughlin and Hackett, 4, 2, 4, 2, 4, 2, 4, 2, 4, 2, 4, 2, 4, 2, 4, 2, 5, 4, 5, 5, 5, 5, 5, 6, 6, 7, 8, 8, 8, 1, 1; 8, 6, 5, 5, 5, 5, 6, 6, 7, 9, 9, 11 is doubtful whether the United

It is doubtful whether the United States champion ever played better tennis under conditions distasteful to him, and his deadly smashes and volleying repeatedly pulled games out which appeared to be lost. Realizing this, the ever possible and at Hackett Australians played at Hackett whencan team captain tried manfully to stem the torrent of balls which flashed at him from every angle, he could no cope with the situation in which he was placed by the generalship of the opposing pair.

Americans Win First Set.

Americans Win First Set.

With McLoughlin serving in the opening game of the first set, the Americans jumped into the lead and ran out the set in eight games, outplacing and outgeneraling their opponents. The second set saw the situation reversed, for Doust and Jones rushed to the net at every apportunity and either shot the ball between or on the ousde of the United States pair. Both Hackett and McLoughlin failed to smash the ball as they had done before the rain.

Third set went to the American players only after a desperate clash of 12

Jones was at his best, placing shot after shot where it was almost im-possible to return it and the score of 25 to 18 points and six games to two indicates clearly the visitors' super-jority.

Fifth Set Brings Fireworks.

The fireworks that tennis of cham-pionship caliber can develop were on exhibition in the fifth and deciding set. The play was so fast and thrilling that

A feature of the day was the brush in the 230-yard preliminary by Knudson, of Wisconsin; Ward, of Chicago, and Applegate, of Purdue. A big napkin would have covered the three as they burst through the tape, and the time of 23 seconds, made in the face of a strong wind, testified to the keenness of the struggle.

Pole Vault Record Broken The conference record in the pole vault was smashed by John K. Gold, of Wisconsin. He leaped 12 feet, 8½ inches, beating the mark made in 1968 by Samse, of Indiana, which was 12 feet i1-8 inches. Gold then tried three times to cross the bar at 13 feet 2 inches, but failed.
