

SO OF ADVERSIS... DOP LAD STUL

Troubles of Crown Prince Do Not Lose Him Hold on Populace.

CHILDREN FOND OF HEIR

Villages in Neighborhood of Berlin Tell Pleasant Anecdotes of Prospective Ruler Who Is as Well-Known as His Father.

BERLIN, Jan. 10. (Special).—It would not be surprising to find the reports of disaffection in the Kaiser's family caused by the Crown Prince.

His Royal Highness always is getting into trouble, but this human falling seems only to add to his popularity, both among his own people and abroad.

On another occasion, while riding through the streets of Berlin, the Crown Prince's horse became restive, nearly knocking down a small child. He leaped down from his saddle, picked up the frightened infant, and placed it in front of him, keeping it there until it was comforted.

The Crown Prince is almost as versatile as his imperial father. He has invented card games, exhibited a few written soldier marching songs and registered a patent for cuff links of his own invention.

In Florence, just before he was married, the Crown Prince entered a local auction room where photographs were being sold. One offered for sale was his bride-elect, Princess Cecilia.

CITY OF SHECHEM FOUND

Professor Sellin Excavates Ruins of Jeroboam's Capital.

VIENNA, Jan. 5.—(Special).—Professor Sellin, the excavator of Jericho, has achieved a new triumph by the location of the Israelitish city, Shechem, which is associated in the Bible with the names of Abraham, Jacob and Joseph, and was the capital of King Jeroboam.

Until lately the site of Shechem has been a matter of dispute. Professor Sellin located the site on a hill at Balata, a short distance east of the modern town of Nablus.

Excavation, carried on partly at the cost of the Vienna Academy of Science, reveals the ruins of a city which was no way inferior to the defenses of Jericho. Both walls and towers, which are supposed to represent the city gates, are made of brick and have been found to date back to the time of the Israelites.

BLACK ROOMS AID SLEEP

Smart Folk, Determined to Soothe Nerves, Try New Plan.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—(Special).—Bedrooms in which the hangings and draperies are entirely black, or black slightly relieved with white, are becoming a rage with smart women at the present time.

This is consequent upon the announcement of a leading medical authority that black induces sleep and is soothing to the nerves. In these rooms even the electric light shades are tinted a dark gray, so that the effect is somewhat weird.

A few years ago there was some vogue among society women for black silk night-dresses. This idea was imported from Paris, but it never met with any great amount of success, and quickly died out.

GERMANS SEEK ADVENTURE

Alpinists Now Scorn Services of Professional Guides.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—German alpinists, who swarm in Switzerland and the Tyrol every summer, and scorn the services of professional guides even for such summits as the Matterhorn, Mont Blanc and the Jungfrau, are now seeking adventure farther afield.

NOTED EXPLORER AID LONDON IN EFFORTS TO CARRY EDUCATION TO MASSES.

SIR ERNEST SHACKLETON.

LONGLINE PROPOSED

London-Australia Express via Canada Considered.

NEW RAILROAD IS PLAN

British Company Obtains Right to Build Across North America and 400,000 Acres of Land Are Procured by Promoters.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(Special).—Substantial progress has been made of late with the scheme which aims at establishing an express service between Great Britain and Australia via Canada.

The company, which was organized three years ago, carry it out, in the substitution of the new empire and began laying plans for its abolition.

With his plan matured Bismarck approached the young Emperor. The latter refused absolutely to consider it and the old Chancellor retired.

Dalbrueck's statements are questioned in the English press, but have not been authoritatively denied or disputed and in other quarters have been received without comment.

comes convinced that he would not be able to govern permanently with a Reichstag elected according to the constitution of the new empire and began laying plans for its abolition. As a first step, he had the federal council adopt a resolution which dissolved the German Empire as a free federation of princes and could be dissolved by them at any time.

With his plan matured Bismarck approached the young Emperor. The latter refused absolutely to consider it and the old Chancellor retired.

Dalbrueck's statements are questioned in the English press, but have not been authoritatively denied or disputed and in other quarters have been received without comment.

WINSTON MAY WEAKEN NATIONALISTS FEAR CHURCHILL IS WOBBLING ON HOME RULE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—(Special).—There are grave fears in Nationalist circles both in England and Ireland that Winston Churchill is wobbling on the question of home rule.

Certainly, the Irish people have no reason to have any confidence in the members of the family to which Churchill belongs.

Trains ferries are suggested. Train ferries are also suggested between Ireland, Great Britain and Scotland.

Excavations reveal fine paving. (Correspondence of Associated Press.) PARIS, Jan. 10.—Examples of the paving of Philippe-Auguste, King of France, toward the end of the 12th century, have been brought to light by excavations in the rue Saint Jacques, close to the Sorbonne.

Germany arms company active. BERLIN, Jan. 5.—A report of the leading German small arms company shows unusual activity just now in the production of new rifle models.

SCHOOLS COMPEL

London Is Making Efforts to Carry Education to Its Masses on Street.

FAMOUS MEN LECTURE

British Metropolis Opens "Evening Institutes" in 218 Centres With View of Reaching Young Men and Women of Highways.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(Special).—A remarkable and significant movement has just been made in London with a view to making education popular amongst the masses.

Under the auspices of the London County Council, a whole chain of evening instruction for boys and girls—and youths and young women also—has been cast into a new mold.

One group of lecturers dealt with lives of such varied interest as those of Leonardo da Vinci, the Hero of Khartoum and Esam; other speakers, including Lord Haddo, General Sir Alfred Turner, Sir John Rick, Sir John Benn, F. Thirkell White, C. R. Buxton and Alfred Dowsy, handled such geographical themes as Mexico, the Balkans, Argentina, Chile, the Island Republic, Afghanistan, Borneo, Australia, Ceylon, India, Bohemia, Russia, South Africa, Morocco and Persia.

Sir Ernest Shackleton told of the wonders of South Polar exploration to a South-west audience; the Agent-General for the Province of Ontario, speaking about education and life in his colony; and Dr. Lillias Hamilton spoke of her experiences in Afghanistan.

At the same moment Sir Victor Horsley was explaining how the brain is educated, and administered to the royal and mercantile navies. Finally, Dr. Page, the American Ambassador, dealt with the "Dignity of Business."

At the same moment Sir Victor Horsley was explaining how the brain is educated, and administered to the royal and mercantile navies. Finally, Dr. Page, the American Ambassador, dealt with the "Dignity of Business."

IRISH HAVE LITTLE CONFIDENCE IN MAN WHOSE FATHER AND GRANDFATHER WERE HOSTILE TO ERIN.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—(Special).—There are grave fears in Nationalist circles both in England and Ireland that Winston Churchill is wobbling on the question of home rule.

Certainly, the Irish people have no reason to have any confidence in the members of the family to which Churchill belongs.

Trains ferries are suggested. Train ferries are also suggested between Ireland, Great Britain and Scotland.

Excavations reveal fine paving. (Correspondence of Associated Press.) PARIS, Jan. 10.—Examples of the paving of Philippe-Auguste, King of France, toward the end of the 12th century, have been brought to light by excavations in the rue Saint Jacques, close to the Sorbonne.

Germany arms company active. BERLIN, Jan. 5.—A report of the leading German small arms company shows unusual activity just now in the production of new rifle models.

Excavations reveal fine paving. (Correspondence of Associated Press.) PARIS, Jan. 10.—Examples of the paving of Philippe-Auguste, King of France, toward the end of the 12th century, have been brought to light by excavations in the rue Saint Jacques, close to the Sorbonne.

Germany arms company active. BERLIN, Jan. 5.—A report of the leading German small arms company shows unusual activity just now in the production of new rifle models.

Excavations reveal fine paving. (Correspondence of Associated Press.) PARIS, Jan. 10.—Examples of the paving of Philippe-Auguste, King of France, toward the end of the 12th century, have been brought to light by excavations in the rue Saint Jacques, close to the Sorbonne.

Germany arms company active. BERLIN, Jan. 5.—A report of the leading German small arms company shows unusual activity just now in the production of new rifle models.

Excavations reveal fine paving. (Correspondence of Associated Press.) PARIS, Jan. 10.—Examples of the paving of Philippe-Auguste, King of France, toward the end of the 12th century, have been brought to light by excavations in the rue Saint Jacques, close to the Sorbonne.

CHINESE REPUBLIC HEAD EXPERIENCES TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS OF USUAL GOVERNMENTAL HEAD.

YUAN SHIH-KAI.

CHURCH IS TARGET

Catholics Intimidated in Ulster Country.

CAMP CARSON ACTS HIT

Orangemen Declared to Have Caused Fellow-Workers to Leave Good-Paying Positions—Outlook Anything but Cheerful.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—(Special).—The war on Catholics in Ulster has begun. Nationalist papers in that province are able to give cases where Catholic employees have been terrorized into leaving their jobs.

Under one of the intimidation tactics employed by men of Sir Edward Carson's camp, a Catholic gentleman for some years occupied the position of general manager of a firm in Belfast, and was on excellent terms with his employer.

From a report of a discussion at a recent meeting of the Derry Corporation it is also clear that the war has been carried into that city.

BOAT BOAT IS LATEST

FROM PARIS TO NEW YORK NOW FRENCH SENSATION.

Master of Curious Craft-to-Be Is Man of 70, Whose Beard Has Not Known Barber.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(Special).—From Paris to New York in a bottle, such is the latest sensation.

Under the auspices of the Paris Chamber of Commerce, a French inventor has constructed a small, cylindrical, bottle-like craft, which is to take them across the Atlantic.

The master of this curious craft is turned 70, and wears a blue suit, with no shirt underneath, and no shoes on his feet.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(Special).—The new craze in Paris is the "crawling." and already has been danced with tremendous success in an aristocratic salon of the Rue la Boetie.

It starts off as a languid waltz, but after a few turns the couples fling themselves face downward on the floor and begin to crawl frantically with a serpentine motion.

First there is a sort of bathing cap, which is to keep the hair from coming loose or off, then a tight-fitting black blouse that covers the corsage, these, of course, for women only.

Correspondence of Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A pleasant and easy way of seeing the world and living without working, that of pretending to be on a walking trip around the world for a mythical wager with some easy money as to constitute a public nuisance and the Minister of the Interior has instructed the police to prevent them from selling postcards with their photographs, announcing lectures or otherwise molesting the public, and to discourage the practice of certifying upon their passports or logbooks that they have passed through this or that town upon their wanderings.

Old "Gag" Halted by Prussia. BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A pleasant and easy way of seeing the world and living without working, that of pretending to be on a walking trip around the world for a mythical wager with some easy money as to constitute a public nuisance and the Minister of the Interior has instructed the police to prevent them from selling postcards with their photographs, announcing lectures or otherwise molesting the public, and to discourage the practice of certifying upon their passports or logbooks that they have passed through this or that town upon their wanderings.

Layman Fined 72c for Offense. BERLIN, Jan. 6.—For a layman to make an address at the grave of a friend in Prussia, without the permission of the police is a punishable offense, according to the decision of a court of appeals just rendered at Cologne.

REFORMS ARE SOUGHT

Many of the mandates are exhortations to righteousness and reform.

RELIGIOUS SCRUPLES WIN

Lieutenant Resigns From Army Because Opposed to Dueling.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The case of Lieutenant von Brandenstein of the Second Guard Regiment, who resigned his commission because he was opposed to the principle of dueling, has brought assurance from the Minister of War that hereafter religious scruples will receive "full consideration" by military courts of honor in matters at issue between brother officers.

A special Reichstag committee, to which a representative of the War Department has made the following report on the unusual case of von Brandenstein.

The officer has long been a member of a religious organization which takes the word of the Bible as its guide in every matter, even those affecting the daily life.

The commander called the lieutenant's attention to the fact that he bore a sword, commanded armed men and, in certain conditions, would be obliged to make use of his weapon.

FROM PARIS TO NEW YORK NOW FRENCH SENSATION. Master of Curious Craft-to-Be Is Man of 70, Whose Beard Has Not Known Barber.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(Special).—From Paris to New York in a bottle, such is the latest sensation.

Under the auspices of the Paris Chamber of Commerce, a French inventor has constructed a small, cylindrical, bottle-like craft, which is to take them across the Atlantic.

The master of this curious craft is turned 70, and wears a blue suit, with no shirt underneath, and no shoes on his feet.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(Special).—The new craze in Paris is the "crawling." and already has been danced with tremendous success in an aristocratic salon of the Rue la Boetie.

It starts off as a languid waltz, but after a few turns the couples fling themselves face downward on the floor and begin to crawl frantically with a serpentine motion.

First there is a sort of bathing cap, which is to keep the hair from coming loose or off, then a tight-fitting black blouse that covers the corsage, these, of course, for women only.

Correspondence of Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A pleasant and easy way of seeing the world and living without working, that of pretending to be on a walking trip around the world for a mythical wager with some easy money as to constitute a public nuisance and the Minister of the Interior has instructed the police to prevent them from selling postcards with their photographs, announcing lectures or otherwise molesting the public, and to discourage the practice of certifying upon their passports or logbooks that they have passed through this or that town upon their wanderings.

Old "Gag" Halted by Prussia. BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A pleasant and easy way of seeing the world and living without working, that of pretending to be on a walking trip around the world for a mythical wager with some easy money as to constitute a public nuisance and the Minister of the Interior has instructed the police to prevent them from selling postcards with their photographs, announcing lectures or otherwise molesting the public, and to discourage the practice of certifying upon their passports or logbooks that they have passed through this or that town upon their wanderings.

Layman Fined 72c for Offense. BERLIN, Jan. 6.—For a layman to make an address at the grave of a friend in Prussia, without the permission of the police is a punishable offense, according to the decision of a court of appeals just rendered at Cologne.

YUAN'S PRESIDENT STRONG CHARACTER

Yuan Shih-Kai's Mandates Obeyed as Far as Power Extends in Country.

REFORMATION IS SOUGHT

Executive Orders Deal, Too, With Serious Matters of State and International Politics, While Others Read Like Sermons.

Correspondence of Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Since the Chinese Parliament ceased to exist, the presidential mandates are the only laws which are being promulgated.

Yuan Shih-Kai's Mandates Obeyed as Far as Power Extends in Country. The effect of Yuan Shih-Kai's mandates extends only so far as his power reaches, and that is not yet sufficient to re-establish the system of annual payments from the provinces to the central government, such as existed under the Manchu regime.

Many of the mandates, like the former edicts, are still-born. Nevertheless, the President's expressions of opinion, and his orders appear daily, his object evidently being to let the country know the difficulties of his position and of the nation, and to show that he is endeavoring to right many evils and to rule for the great good of the country.

RECONSTRUCTION PROBLEM BIG

Another mandate just published reads as follows: "Since the foundation of the Republic, the government has been busily engaged in planning and adopting reconstruction measures, and ever has been at pains to give effect to the principle of the official system, and the pitiable result has followed that there are no restrictions about the candidature of candidates, and all sorts of incapable and vicious men have been given important posts in the provinces.

Instructing are given the police for the arrest of all offenders, no matter what posts they hold, and to confiscate the money with which they have been using to reward the police and gendarmes.

Another mandate just published reads as follows: "Since the foundation of the Republic, the government has been busily engaged in planning and adopting reconstruction measures, and ever has been at pains to give effect to the principle of the official system, and the pitiable result has followed that there are no restrictions about the candidature of candidates, and all sorts of incapable and vicious men have been given important posts in the provinces.

Instructing are given the police for the arrest of all offenders, no matter what posts they hold, and to confiscate the money with which they have been using to reward the police and gendarmes.

Another mandate just published reads as follows: "Since the foundation of the Republic, the government has been busily engaged in planning and adopting reconstruction measures, and ever has been at pains to give effect to the principle of the official system, and the pitiable result has followed that there are no restrictions about the candidature of candidates, and all sorts of incapable and vicious men have been given important posts in the provinces.

Instructing are given the police for the arrest of all offenders, no matter what posts they hold, and to confiscate the money with which they have been using to reward the police and gendarmes.

Another mandate just published reads as follows: "Since the foundation of the Republic, the government has been busily engaged in planning and adopting reconstruction measures, and ever has been at pains to give effect to the principle of the official system, and the pitiable result has followed that there are no restrictions about the candidature of candidates, and all sorts of incapable and vicious men have been given important posts in the provinces.

Instructing are given the police for the arrest of all offenders, no matter what posts they hold, and to confiscate the money with which they have been using to reward the police and gendarmes.

FROM PARIS TO NEW YORK NOW FRENCH SENSATION. Master of Curious Craft-to-Be Is Man of 70, Whose Beard Has Not Known Barber.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(Special).—From Paris to New York in a bottle, such is the latest sensation.

Under the auspices of the Paris Chamber of Commerce, a French inventor has constructed a small, cylindrical, bottle-like craft, which is to take them across the Atlantic.

The master of this curious craft is turned 70, and wears a blue suit, with no shirt underneath, and no shoes on his feet.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(Special).—The new craze in Paris is the "crawling." and already has been danced with tremendous success in an aristocratic salon of the Rue la Boetie.

It starts off as a languid waltz, but after a few turns the couples fling themselves face downward on the floor and begin to crawl frantically with a serpentine motion.

First there is a sort of bathing cap, which is to keep the hair from coming loose or off, then a tight-fitting black blouse that covers the corsage, these, of course, for women only.

Correspondence of Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A pleasant and easy way of seeing the world and living without working, that of pretending to be on a walking trip around the world for a mythical wager with some easy money as to constitute a public nuisance and the Minister of the Interior has instructed the police to prevent them from selling postcards with their photographs, announcing lectures or otherwise molesting the public, and to discourage the practice of certifying upon their passports or logbooks that they have passed through this or that town upon their wanderings.

Old "Gag" Halted by Prussia. BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A pleasant and easy way of seeing the world and living without working, that of pretending to be on a walking trip around the world for a mythical wager with some easy money as to constitute a public nuisance and the Minister of the Interior has instructed the police to prevent them from selling postcards with their photographs, announcing lectures or otherwise molesting the public, and to discourage the practice of certifying upon their passports or logbooks that they have passed through this or that town upon their wanderings.

Layman Fined 72c for Offense. BERLIN, Jan. 6.—For a layman to make an address at the grave of a friend in Prussia, without the permission of the police is a punishable offense, according to the decision of a court of appeals just rendered at Cologne.