Internal Affairs Also Point at Issue.

STATE DEPARTMENT IS CALM

Apprehension Not Felt Over Situation at Tampico.

HUERTA WARSHIPS SAIL

Administration, However, Satisfied of Its Right to Prevent Blockade of Port by Federalists—Stillman Sees Wilson.

HUERTA ORDERS BLOCKADE OF PORT OF TAMPICO.

MEXICO CITY, June 6.—The Foreign Office sent a note to the legations today notifying them that the port of Tampico had been blockaded by order of President Huerta.

VERA CRUZ, June 6.—Late advices from Puerto Mexico reported that two Mexican gunboats had called there and were presumably preparing to carry out President Huerta's blockade decree against Tampico.

REAR-ADMIRAL Badger has instructed the commanders of the United States gunboats Paducah and Sacramento, which are off Puerto Mexico, to follow and not lose sight of the Mexican warships if they leave the harbor.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Rear-Admiral Badger reported at 11:25 tonight that he had been advised by the Tacoma that the Mexican gunboats Zaragoza and Bravo sailed from Puerto Mexico at 6 P. M.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Unofficial reports were current in Washington today that General Carranza, chief of the revolutionary forces in Mexico, was willing to participate in the mediation conference at Niagara Falls on condition that there should be no armistice between his forces and the Huerta government and that Mexican internal questions to be considered should concern only such affairs as had been developed by the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

Despite alarmist reports from many sources, arising because of the shipments of arms to the constitutionalists at Tampico from the United States ports, there was no apprehension apparent here in Government circles.

State Department Confident. Department heads seemed to be confident that General Huerta would not attempt to blockade the Port of Tampico against the delivery by the Cuban steamer Anitilla of arms for the constitutionalists. The American State Department, it was pointed out, was fully satisfied of its right to prevent such a blockade of the port by Huerta's ships.

It also was made known that a conclusion had been reached that this Government had no authority to intervene in the delivery of ammunition at Tampico in view of the circumstances which have arisen since the United States accepted the good offices of the South American mediators for the composition of Mexican difficulties.

Interference Not Expected. In consequence of these developments it was expected here that there would be no interference with the delivery of arms to the constitutionalists.

QUEEN AND PARTY SEE FAIR GROUNDS

RAIN FAILS TO PUT DAMPER ON DAY'S PLEASURE.

Programme Miscarries but Roses Are Planted, Columns Dedicated and Dance Attended.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Portland's Rose Queen, Miss Thelma Hollingsworth, and her court of sprightly maids of honor took possession of San Francisco today. Two unfortunate events failed to take any of the enthusiasm out of the day's events.

First, it drizzled all day, but the girls rode through the city as the guests of the women's board of the Panama-Pacific Exposition and paid a visit to the fairgrounds, in defiance of the weather.

Second, Queen Thelma was to have raised the first flag to the peak of the exposition's 223-foot flagpole, the gift of the City of Astoria, Or., but mechanical difficulties which delayed the raising of the pole made it impossible. At the last moment another ceremony was substituted, and, after formal speeches by the Mayor and others, the girls planted a rose bush beside the Oregon building and christened four huge logs which will be pillars of the Oregon building's colonnade when that structure is finished.

Later the girls were the guests of the Exposition at a box party and dance. Special religious services will be held at one of the city's cathedrals tomorrow, when the Queen and her retinue will attend.

LOST RACE IS UNEARTHED

Prehistoric Burying Ground Found on University Campus.

BERKELEY, Cal., June 6.—Mute evidence of a race that lived and died before the white man came to California was found today beside Strawberry Creek, on the University of California campus, in the skeletons of four Indians, one a woman, buried perhaps centuries ago.

The discovery of the first body was made by workmen excavating for an addition to the faculty club. The bodies were discovered in a turn of Strawberry Creek, which anthropologists of the university have found to have been a burial place for the prehistoric Western races.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Unofficial reports were current in Washington today that General Carranza, chief of the revolutionary forces in Mexico, was willing to participate in the mediation conference at Niagara Falls on condition that there should be no armistice between his forces and the Huerta government and that Mexican internal questions to be considered should concern only such affairs as had been developed by the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

Mrs. West alleged while on a visit to the Governor's office on April 8 last the Governor struck her during a scuffle for possession of papers in the case of Frank Sullivan, a convict, to secure whose release Mrs. West had called at the executive offices. Governor Hodges denied the charges.

MODIFIED TOLLS BILL IS CERTAIN

United States to Assert Its Rights.

REPUBLICAN COMPELS MOVE

Position So Strong Democrats Decide on Compromise.

VOTE EXPECTED MONDAY

Effort May Be Made After Measure Is Passed to Press Resolution for Arbitration of Question With Britain.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Democratic Senate leaders found themselves confronted with a parliamentary situation today which practically forced them to accept an amendment to the Panama tolls exemption repeal, reaffirming the sovereignty and rights of the United States over the canal zone.

It was discovered that Senator Norris, Republican, by parliamentary maneuvering, and aided by a ruling of Vice-President Marshall, which some Senators say was a tactical error, has forced to a point of no return his resolution providing that nothing in the repeal shall be construed as a surrender by the United States of its right to exempt coastwise vessels from tolls.

Democratic Programme Threatened. Democratic leaders, after canvassing the situation, have found that the Norris resolution, now in a strategic position, where it commands a vote before the repeal bill itself or other resolutions pertaining to it, has enough votes in its support to make it a dangerous quantity to their programme.

Confronted with such a situation, Republican supporters of the Norris resolution say the Democrats have prepared to offer a resolution of their own, substantially the same, and that Mr. Norris has agreed to accept it. This compromise resolution reads:

Treaty Rights Not Waived. "That the passage of this act shall not be construed or held as a waiver or relinquishment of any right the United States may have under the treaty with Great Britain, ratified November 18, 1901, or otherwise, to exempt the vessels of the United States or its citizens from the payment of tolls for passage through said canal, or in any way waiving, impairing or affecting any right of the United States under said treaty, or otherwise, with respect to the sovereignty over the ownership, control and management of said canal and the regulation of the conditions or charges or traffic through the same."

A vote on the amendment and the bill may be reached late on Monday so far as leaders know, only a few Senators expect to speak on the subject. An effort may be made after the bill is disposed of to press a resolution to arbitrate the Panama tolls exemption question with Great Britain.

SENATORS OPPOSE TRUST LEGISLATION

Movement Against Action Develops.

COMMISSION BILL REPORTED

Three Other Measures May Slumber Several Weeks.

APPEAL FOR "REST" MADE

Brandegec Regards Further Consideration Now as Grave Mistake, Would Give Country Chance to Recover Its Wits.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Preparations were made today in the Senate to take up antitrust legislation as soon as the Panama tolls exemption repeal bill is disposed of next week.

The Interstate Commerce committee voted to report out for the present a bill creating a Federal trade commission, and the three antitrust bills passed yesterday by the House were received by the Senate and sent to committees for consideration. There they probably will rest for several weeks at least.

Chairman Newlands, of the Interstate Commerce committee, said today he would report the trade commission bill to the Senate early next week and attempt to have it made the unfinished business. If he succeeds the bill will come up immediately for discussion.

Several Senators Oppose Action. Although no record vote was taken in the Commerce committee today, several Senators are known to have been opposed to any motion to put any sort of trust legislation before the Senate at this time. Senator Brandegec, a Republican member of the committee, tonight issued a statement saying:

"In view of the widespread business depression and the apprehension which prevails in commercial and financial centers I regard the projection of the question concerning the further inspection and regulation of business by the Federal Government into the Congressional arena at this time as a grave mistake.

Country Needs Time to Recover. "I think that a worried and exasperated Congress, which has been in continuous session for more than a year, should not be forced to enter upon the discussion of all these intricate and controverted questions in mid-summer on the eve of a nation-wide political campaign.

"I think the agitation and debate will not tend to restore confidence to the distracted and drooping business of the country. I think the best service Congress can render is to pass the appropriation bills and adjourn and let the country have a rest and if possible recover its own wits."

VOTE-TRADING UNLAWFUL

Washington High Court Holds Act as Ground for Official's Recall.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 6.—(Special.)—Vote trading by legislative officials constitutes malfeasance or misfeasance in office and while it is doubtful if such action could be made grounds for criminal proceedings, it is sufficient to justify recall proceedings, the Supreme Court decided today.

The court affirms the Chelan County Superior Court, which declined to interfere with recall proceedings against E. T. Pybus and C. R. Zener, two Wenatchee City Councilmen.

PARIS HATS OFF AS COLONEL RIDES BY

T. R. CONVERSES IN FRENCH WITH PRESIDENT POINCARÉ.

Roosevelt Goes to Louvre to See Famous "Mona Lisa" and to Recreation Resorts of City.

PARIS, June 6.—Colonel Roosevelt called on President Poincaré today at the Palace of the Elysee and remained with him nearly an hour, conversing in French. The Colonel took occasion to thank the President for the courtesies extended to him.

The presidential palace presented a busy scene when the Colonel arrived in an automobile with Ambassador Herlick. The President was occupied with the reception of government officials and statesmen in connection with the cabinet crisis and outside a considerable crowd of curious people had gathered to discuss the political situation.

Several cinematograph operators were on the scene and took pictures of the Colonel as he passed in and out, while some people in the crowd who knew of the presence of the former President of the United States raised their hats as he passed and Colonel Roosevelt acknowledged the greetings.

The Colonel enjoyed a long automobile drive through the Champs Elysees and Bois de Boulogne, visiting among other places the polo ground at Bagatelle. He also spent some time at a popular amusement resort in the environs of Paris, and went to the Louvre to see Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa," which was recently returned after having been stolen.

RAPP BEGS MERCY; NONE IS SHOWN HIM

'Nonnie Letters' Touch Vulnerable Spot.

COURT LETS MISSIVES IN

Wife's Name Abbreviated to "Shank" to Mrs. Dean.

HE'S "HONEY" TO "NONNIE"

Mme. Schumann Heink Will Miss Bayreuth Engagement, According to Indications, for Divorce Case Is Prolonged.

CHICAGO, June 6.—(Special.)—Letters written by William Rapp, Jr., husband of Mrs. Ernestine Schumann Heink, to Mrs. "Kittie" Dean were read in court today until Rapp begged for mercy. The court, however, granted none.

The reading went on, while Rapp squirmed in his chair, turning from white to red and then back to white again. Rapp's pet name for Mrs. Dean was "Nonnie." In his letters he abbreviated his wife's name to "Shank."

The letters were introduced after depositions had been read in which witnesses testified they had seen Rapp and Mrs. Dean together in her home.

Madame Devold of Emotion. When the first letter was read Rapp showed little concern. He sat directly behind his wife and glared at her. She showed no emotion.

The second letter, in which Rapp addressed Mrs. Dean as "the dearest, most beautiful and most brainy woman in the world," caused him to glare harder at his wife.

The third and fourth letter followed quickly and Rapp, unable to sit still while these tender secrets of his life were read, appealed to his attorney, F. Lee Smith, to stop the reading of the letters.

Ellis Mayer, attorney for Mrs. Schumann Heink, insisted that the court allow all letters to be read.

"The defendant has found himself overwhelmed by the evidence in those letters and is willing to concede that the offense of which he is charged was committed in order to keep the letters from being read," the attorney said.

Court Holds Letters Pertinent. Judge Sullivan ruled that the letters were pertinent evidence and more letters followed.

Rapp laughed when a deposition was read in which it was said that he did some of the cooking in Mrs. Dean's home and that he was frequently seen wearing an apron.

A deposition from Mrs. Anna Schmidt, owner of an apartment next door to the one occupied by Mrs. Dean, was read by the diva's attorney. In the deposition Mrs. Schmidt was asked to describe Rapp.

"Is he fat or thin?" was asked. "Not so thin—just nice," she answered.

Lillian Schmidt, daughter of Mrs. Anna Schmidt, testified in a deposition that she had seen Rapp working about a stove. He wore an apron, she said. She testified that Mrs. Dean called Rapp "honey."

Nurse Tells of Engagement Ring. Mrs. Francis J. Ashton, a nurse who roomed for a short time with Mrs. Dean, told in a deposition that Rapp had given a diamond engagement ring to Mrs. Dean. She said Rapp was introduced by Mrs. Dean as "my sweetest heart."

"What did they do when Rapp visited?"
