

OREGON STOCKMEN TO GATHER AT BAKER

Matters Now in Congress to Have Part in Discussion at Conference. HOMESTEAD BILL VITAL

Group Six of Oregon Bankers' Association Also Will Hold Meeting at Baker Tuesday—Entertainment Is Planned.

BAKER, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—Questions of importance, both National and sectional, will come before the members of the Oregon Cattle and Horse Raisers' Association when its annual convention opens here Monday and Tuesday from Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and possibly Nevada for the annual convention. Matters now in Congress were expected to have a prominent part in the discussion, including those on public lands. The bill for the 840-acre homestead, that for segregation of all grazing and agricultural lands and possibly the Oregon-California bill, grant land matters are expected to be featured by speakers and members. District Forecaster Thomas P. McKenize of Portland, will discuss "Co-operation on the National Forest," and is expected to explain many of the Government's policies on public lands, while George C. McMullen, of the Kansas City Stockyards, will tell of "Marketing of Livestock on the Missouri River." Governor Withycombe will speak on "Better Livestock"; Dr. B. E. Nelson, of Pullman, secretary of the Washington Livestock Show, is expected to tell of Northwest livestock exhibitions; State Veterinarian H. Lytle will treat on the subject of cattle diseases; Professor Patt, of the Oregon Agricultural College, will talk on the betterment of livestock, while President Heard and Secretary Tomlinson, of the American Livestock Association, will talk on National livestock questions. There will be plenty of entertainment for the visitors, including a literary and musical entertainment at the theater, a ball, a parade, a banquet, a cowboy breakfast, and a Shakespeare pageant. The latter is Baker's tercentenary celebration postponed so that the visitors may view it. It will consist of floats, dances and bits from Shakespearean plays. More than 250 will take part. Group Six of the Oregon Bankers' Association will also meet here Tuesday and the visitors, of which nearly 40 are expected, will be included in the entertainments for the stockmen. The following is the programme: Monday, 10 A. M.—Address of welcome, Mayor C. L. Palmer on behalf of city of Baker, W. E. Mascham on behalf of Baker Commercial Club, Judge Gustav Anderson on behalf of Baker County; response, Walter B. France, Union County; president's annual address; reports of secretary and treasurer; discussion. 1:30 P. M.—Address, Thomas P. VIEW OF FRAMEWORK AND FOUNDATIONS IN PROCESS OF ERECTION. GRANTS PASS, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—The giant sugar beet factory in process of construction at Grants Pass is beginning to assume definite proportions, and the huge derrick is daily swinging tons of structural steel into place. The lime kiln and machine shop structures are nearly complete. A 50-ton derrick is used in the placing of these great steel beams and girders. Fifteen cars of structural steel have been put in place and more is arriving each day. The payroll is making a decided change in the business conditions of the town and trade has had a considerable impetus.

250 PAY TRIBUTE Mr. and Mrs. Carson's Golden Wedding Anniversary Held. VOWS REPEATED AT ALTAR Big Celebration Is Held in Murphy Grange Hall Near Grants Pass. Thrilling Events of Pioneer Days Recalled at Gathering.

GRANTS PASS, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—Two hundred and fifty old-time friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carson gathered at the Grange Hall at Murphy Monday night to help celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Carson were invited to the hall from their Redlands home for an Easter party, but when they arrived at a white veil and orange blossoms were placed on Mrs. Carson's head, and attended by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Young, and with six little flower girls ready for the occasion, they were marched to the ballroom of the hall to the tune of Mendelssohn's wedding march, where the wedding ceremony was repeated by Rev. Glocker. A programme of songs was rendered, after which 200 guests sat down to a bountiful wedding repeat. Toasts were KLAMATH BUTTER SECOND Award Is Won in California Contest of Creamery Products. KLAMATH FALLS, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—W. P. Johnson, proprietor of the Klamath Falls Creamery, has just received word that his butter manufactured at his plant in this city won second place in the Oregon exhibition at the recent California butter and cheese-testing contest, held March 23. The announcement of awards shows that only one other creamery in the state scored higher, while Portland and Ashland fell below Klamath Falls. The scores were as follows: Carlton Co-operative Creamery, 198; Klamath Falls Creamery, 184; Hazelwood Creamery, Portland, 182 1/2; Ashland, 182. Mr. Johnson attributes the high score his product obtained to the unexcelled flavor of Klamath alfalfa, together with the care and skill exercised at his plant handling the cream.

NEW LODGE IS AT HAINES Knights of Pythias Body Named After the Late Lewis R. Stinson. ALBANY, Or., April 26.—(Special.)—A new lodge of the Knights of Pythias was organized at Haines, Baker County, this week and named in honor of the late Lewis R. Stinson, for 19 years grand keeper of records and secretary of the grand lodge of Oregon, who died at his home at Salem in October. A warrant for the institution of the lodge has been issued by William D. Marks, of this city, grand chancellor of Oregon. The name was suggested by Walter G. Gleason, of Portland, his successor. Officially, the new lodge is "Stinson Lodge, No. 111." The work of forming was done by Hugh Alfrey, Walter E. Mencham, Jack Warren and other members of the Knights of Pythias at Baker, assisted by Marion F. Davis, of Union, past grand chancellor.

SALEM, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—With no Democratic ticket in the field this year, interest in the coming primary election in Marion County as far as county candidates are concerned, is confined to the races being made by the Republican nomination for the different offices. Four of the aspirants for office in Marion County are without opposition. They are U. G. Boyer, for County Clerk; Mildred R. Brooks, for Recorder; D. G. Dräger, for Treasurer, and E. B. Herrick, for Surveyor. Boyer will succeed Max Gehlhar, who is an aspirant for the Republican nomination for District Attorney. William E. Ech, present Sheriff, is not a candidate for the office this time, having served two terms. W. L. Needham, a deputy in Ech's office, is seeking the Republican nomination, being opposed by E. E. Cooper, now Constable for the Salem district.

Ladd Estate Co. advertisement featuring a large house illustration and a floor plan diagram. Text includes 'THINK of this charming home situated on a site up on Westover Terraces with 10,000 square miles stretching in front of your living-room and sun porch. It would be real living, wouldn't it? On clear days Mount Rainier, as well as Mount Hood, Mount St. Helens and Mount Adams, would be in view. Sharply around to the left, seen easily from the seat in your living-room and from the entrance to your home, the Willamette joins the Columbia on her way to the sea; "at your feet" the city of Portland. With certain changes this house plan could be well adapted to a site in Eastmoreland. In that case it could be located where Reed College and Crystal Springs Lake would make the surroundings ideal. Whatever homesite you choose, so long as it is on any of our properties, you may benefit by our well-known financial-aid and home-building plan. Ask us for details on this Home Plan N-6.' F.N. PARK LAND IS SOUGHT Hoquiam Commercial Club Opens Negotiations for Tract. HOQUIAM, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—The Hoquiam Commercial Club has opened negotiations with the owners of a tract of timber on the Olympic Highway, two miles north of the city, for acquiring land for a public park. Committees have been appointed and already have taken up the project. The property extends back from the Olympic Highway, where the road skirts the Hoquiam River. It is high, level land and is watered by a small stream and several springs. This is the last tract of timber between Hoquiam and Humptulps City on the C. D. Hansen road, and the last between the city and Copalis Crossing, 15 miles out on the present route of the Olympic Highway.

EMPLOYMENT RECORD SET Figures Show Activity of Lumbering in Washington. HOQUIAM, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—Washington now is employing more men in its lumbering industry than at any time in its history, according to information received by the State Industrial Insurance Commission, and estimates based on the number of accidents reported during March, according to A. B. Ernst, member of the commission, who was in Hoquiam Wednesday. According to Mr. Ernst, during March 1700 accidents in the lumbering industry were reported to the commission. This is nearly 100 greater than the highest previous record, established in May, 1912, when the lumbering industry was very active, and when 1610 accidents were reported.

PE ELI TEACHERS REAPPOINTED. CENTRALIA, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—The Pe Eli School Board has re-appointed most of its teachers for next year as follows: M. E. Hart, superintendent; F. K. Hargraves, principal of the High School; Miss Alice Frazer and Miss Margaret Johnstone, High School

HOQUIAM, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—Two more manufacturing plants will be in operation by the middle of May in Hoquiam. They are the plant of the Grays Harbor Door Company and the shingle mill of the Woodlawn Mill & Boom Company. The door factory, which will turn out 600 doors per day, will be started Monday. The Woodlawn plant is a new shingle mill, to be the largest on Grays Harbor. It is nearing completion. The Grays Harbor Door Company took over the plant of the old Ideal Door Company, and the factory has been thoroughly overhauled and improved.

TRU-BLU GRAHAMS advertisement with image of a product box. Text includes 'Just the right combination of nourishment and goodness.' '10c in triple sealed cartons.' 'Tell your grocer to include a package of Tru-Blu Graham's in your next grocery order. Every member of the family will relish their tempting flavor and fresh crispness.' 'Tru-Blu Biscuit Co. Portland, Oregon.' 'Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair. When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain mulled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff—Adv.'
