GERMAN guns are now mounted so as to fire at any angle from the horizon when directed against aircraft. These guns are one of the novelties of the present war.

General Pershing's men, at Colonia Dublin, the Mexican headquarters of the United States Army, look eagerly for the arrival of the papers from home. This is their only source of news. It's a little old when it arrives but welcome.

Encouraged by their nurses, convalescent German soldiers, just out of the hospitals, find useful work of some kind an excellent means of limbering up their stiffened muscles.

The Boy Scout movement has taken stronger hold in Budapest since the war began, notwithstanding the organization had its origin in England. In Germany, too, the Boy Scouts have gained in strength in the last two years.

Pipers lead the London Scottish regiment, which is now at the front "somewhere in France."

Art Smith, about to go up in his aeroplane at Tokio, said goodbye to Mr. Ozaki, a Japanese amateur aviator.

Multitudes witnessed the recent big preparedness parade in New York City. The streets were decorated in gay fashion, every vantage point was crowded with spectators, and the 150,000 who marched in the parade were roundly cheered all along the line of march.

After the recent Irish rebellion Dublin streets presented scenes of ruin. Prince's street was barricaded by a mass of wreckage and it was a huge task for the authorities to clear it away.

NOTE LEFT FOR HUSBAND

Chicago Woman Quits Rug Weaver With Whom She Quarreled.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Oscar P. Nelson, a rug weaver, has instituted a search for his wife, who left home last Sunday. With her she took the children—Bertha, 3½ years old, and Virginia, 2 months.

She left the following note for her husband: "Since you and I cannot get along any longer, I have gone far, far away. It will be useless for you to search for me. And for all the years that I have worked for you and for my little cats, I still let you have all the furniture, and you will only have yourself to take care of and to spend the money for. Hope that you will get far ahead without me, for with me around it is impossible to get to something. Good-bye. Your wife, ANNA."

GIRLS DEFY PERILS OF WAR

Many in Chicago Make Applications for Passports.

CHICAGO, May 18.—Chicago girls laugh at danger if one is to judge from the constant increase in the number of applications made by them to the United States for passports to travel in foreign lands now at war. Thomas Sells, passport clerk of the United States District Court in Chicago, has more applications daily now than he had several months ago. One day's list, in which the girls are virtually the only applicants for pas-ports at the clerk's office, shows that the visits are to many countries and for many purposes. Numerous applicants who wish to travel for pleasure only are turned down. In many cases they seek to go only to Canada. Those allowed to apply include the girl who is going to Mexico to rest, the girls going to Europe to nurse wounded German soldiers, the society girl planning a visit to a sister in England, and others. "I wanted to go to Mexico to rest. I have been studying in Chicago the last year very earnestly and I am now ready for my vacation," said Miss Madge Conwell, student at the Baptist Missionary Seminary School, 2889 Vermont avenue. Persuading the look of astonishment at her desire to go to Mexico to rest, Miss Conwell added that her parents are at Puebla and her father is a medical missionary in charge of a hospital there. She said she would feel safe at Puebla. Four nurses, part of the fourth unit now being equipped by the American expedition committee for Red Cross work in Germany, were the next group to apply. Dr. Carl Beck, of Chicago, is recruiting the entire unit of four nurses and four physicians from this city. Those who asked for permission to go to Germany were Misses Helen Burke, 1624 West Van Buren street; Alma Skoog, 447 East Sixtieth street; Emma Gruel, 447 East Sixtieth street; and Pearl Teneyck. From society's ranks is Miss Anna Louise Natley, daughter of John C.

Nately, board-of-trade man. She gave her reason for wishing to go to England as a desire to visit a sister who is married and living there. This is only part of one day's applicants for passports, and it is indicative of the fearlessness of Chicago girls when duty calls.

VICE PICTURE IS CENSORED

Several Changes Made in Film of Recent Investigation.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Several changes have been made in the lurid motion picture, "The Little Girl Next Door," which purports to be based on the state vice commission's investigation. Chief among the changes is the elimination of the scene in which State's Attorney Hoynes and Edward Fleming, his secretary, appear and shake hands with members of the commission. It is said that Mr. Hoynes sent the owners of the picture a polite but firm demand that his picture be removed from the film. Mayor Thompson no longer is given credit in the picture for closing the Arena, a Michigan avenue resort. Since Alderman Buck, at last Monday's council meeting, in a verbal attack on the production, and indirectly on the mayor, pointed out that the Arena was closed by the Committee of Fifteen, the caption in the film has been changed. Some of the vice district scenes have been toned down and some objectionable scenes eliminated. The girl who stood in the doorway with a strong light behind her, displaying her figure through a filmy dress, no longer exhibits herself in the movie. The expurgated film, was shown for the first time yesterday. Who ordered the cuts is not known. Mayor Thompson, Chief of Police Healey and other city hall officials previously had approved the film in its original form and authorized its production.

Husband Fails to Provide for Family Who Hold Seances.
